Students Repay Loans; Teachers Tops as Tenants

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Notes on a changing world: If paying bills is a sign of character then college kids have plenty.

Most large schools now have special loan funds to help students in straitened financial circumstances to finish their education. Since 1913 the University of Missouri has advanced $1,018,499 to more than 8,300 students, and its vice president, Leslie Cowan, says that only $5,500 has had to be written off as lost. The students have paid back the loans 99 1/2 cents on every dollar.

"Although conducted on a strictly business basis these loans to students are really investments in human character," Cowan said.

Last year one wealthy graduate who had borrowed from the loan fund as a student showed his gratitude by contributing $100,000 to the fund.

Continuing our explorations into the academic life, we report that a housing survey by the city college school of business here came up with this interesting conclusion:

Of the landlords interviewed, 75 per cent said they preferred college instructors as tenants because of their "restrained type of living, their stable intelligent associates and their tendency toward care and respect of living quarters."

"This was all flattering to professional vanity—but the survey still failed to locate enough apartments to care for the teaching staff."

There is a shortage of ivory towers, too.

Maxie, the office mouse, philosophizes: "About all I will predict for 1948 is that nobody will die from being struck by lightning in a bar-room—if that is any consolation."

HEALTH GUARDS FOR "COLD DAYS"
TOUGH & COLD REMEDIES
This is "cold weather!" Take every sensible precaution against infection and should you feel a cold "coming on," get after it immediately with tried and proven cold reliefs. Prompt treatment frequently lessens the severity and duration of a cold. So stock your medicine chest now with health guards for "cold days" and you'll have them handy when you need them most—at the first warning sneeze or snuffle. If a cold hangs on, or begins with chills and fever, call your doctor without delay.
