ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW, ROSEBURG, OREGON MONDAY, JANUARY 12, 1948

LEGION AUXILIARY HAS INTERESTING MEETING TUESDAY

A very interesting meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Armory Tuesday night with the president, Mrs. George Jackson, in charge. The meeting was especially well-attended. A large class of candidates was initiated into the organization by a staff consisting of past presidents under the direction of Mrs. V. J. Miceli.

Interesting plans were made for the conference to be held in Roseburg Friday, January 16, and for the joint banquet to be held that evening with Umpqua Post. The next regular auxiliary meeting was announced for January 20 at eight o'clock in the evening at the Armory.

The Legion and Auxiliary look forward to a year of service for veterans and for the nation. Protection of peace, defense of freedom and aid to those who have defended America in the past.

Due largely to the work of the Legion and Auxiliary, veterans of World War II are receiving more generous treatment than any veterans in history. But there is much still to be done for them and their families.

FAMED CONCERT VIOLINIST TO BE HEARD JANUARY 23

Joseph Fuchs, one of the very few musical prodigies of the United States, who adds glory and fame to his already outstanding career as a violinist, will be presented by the Roseburg Community Concert Association in concert Friday evening, January 23rd, at eight-fifteen o'clock at the Junior High School auditorium.

Officers of the association have expressed the opinion that Mr. Fuchs will bring one of the finest violin concerts ever heard in this city. He presented concerts throughout the American continent as well as in Europe.

His concert here, is being anticipated with much pleasure by the membership.

FOREIGN GRAVES ARE WELL CARED FOR

According to a report on a trip to Europe made by Mrs. Norton H. Pearl, junior past national president and chairman of the delegation to Europe, who has returned those having loved ones buried over there. She says the cemeteries, with their white crosses row on row, are well cared for. In the permanent cemeteries crosses are white marble and are always kept clean, being washed weekly, and polished twice a year. In each cemetery there is a chapel to which one may go for solitude and prayer. Women bring flowers and say it is a great privilege for them to do so. This message is of much comfort to many here.
