and for funny money. They don't. Instead, they dispose of only as much food as they can swap for things they want. They keep the rest for their own use.

MEANWHILE the Moscow radio makes hay by broadcasting to hungry Ruhr miners that the way to get more potatoes is THROUGH THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

If "Protocol M" means business, that is highly significant news.

"PROTOCOL M" is supposed to be a Russian scheme to wreck the Marshall plan by winning industrial Germany over to communism. Germany is the workshop of Europe. If Russia gets the workshop, it will be much harder for us to bring western European countries back to economic health and strength.

Russia, presumably, wants to prevent that, for if these nations become strong and well again they'll be FRIENDS OF OURS. That would add to our strength.

In a two-world system, strength is everything.

SENATOR VANDENBERG suggests that half the criticism of the Marshall plan will disappear if means are provided so that the United States "can follow our dollars abroad and see that we are getting our money's worth."

That would involve finding a boss for the job in whom we would have COMPLETE CONFIDENCE.

Who would that be? It sounds (politically) funny to say so, but when you start thinking about it Hoover and Baruch seem to head the list.

SENATOR TAFT, in a speech in Providence (R. I.), repeats his opposition to universal military training. He says an increase in the size of the air corps would be "less expensive and TEN TIMES AS IMPORTANT."

This is what he means: The air corps. In the event of war, would DELIVER THE BOMB ON THE TARGET. In any kind of war we're likely to have any time soon, the foot soldier would be too slow.

THE papers are full of tax reduction talk these days. Don't get too much excited over it. It is an accepted political axiom that you have to talk tax reduction in a campaign year.

KEEP this fact clear in your mind: If we spend, we'll have to tax. OR— If we fail to raise enough by taxation to pay for the spending we'll inflate the money.

That's the way it works.

TOP HONORS WON

George W. Harger, district agent for Atlas Life Insurance Co. at Myrtle Creek, has placed first among all company salesmen for the month of December, designated each year as "President's Month" in honor of John D. Hill, president of the company. It was announced by D. J. Hibbard, general agent of Portland.

This is the second consecutive year that Harger has won top honors for December. He also won the honor of being second leading salesman of the company for the year 1947, Hibbard said.

CONGRESSIONAL CRITICS

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Listening to a radio commentator recently, we heard him ridiculing Congress. That seems to be a very popular indoor sport, particularly with certain radio and news commentators and cartoonists. We cannot help but wonder how much of this ridicule and criticism is based on an organized effort to create a totalitarian state by breaking down our representative form of government.

It is easy to ridicule Congress. Much of the ridicule and criticism is deserved but, at the same time, such ridicule and criticism can be made a most effective propaganda weapon directed at totalitarian purposes.

It is interesting to follow the activities of "Senator Widebottom" and "Congressman Drip," two very widely known cartoon characters. Their antics are only extreme exaggerations of some of the stuffed-shirt and demagogic characteristics to be found in isolated cases in Congress.

We do not mean to say that Congress should be above criticism, nor that observers and commentators should fail in any way to keep the people informed, or fail to point out errors in legislative action or conduct.

Congress is the branch of our government closest to the people. The nation's wise founding fathers made the lower house truly representative of the people, by requiring elections every two years. Thus, if voters are "on the job," no representative can get far out of line, for he must submit his record to the people too frequently.

The Senate is slightly more remote from the people than the House, because senators are elected for longer terms.

The executive branch of government is still more remote from the people than the Senate, even though elections may be held oftener than in the case with senators.

The people have very little control over the judicial branch of government, which is organized to enforce strict observance of constitutional law.

We have seen what could happen when Congress and the Supreme Court became subservient to the executive branch of government. We experienced, for a short time fortunately, a "rubber stamp" Congress and a "stuffed" court.

It is not difficult for the executive branch of government to bring the Supreme Court into camp through appointments, if—and it is a big "if"—Congress can be forced to concur in appointments.

Thus the principal bulwark against totalitarianism is the responsibility of Congress to the people. If we permit Congress to become subservient to the executive branch of government, or permit it to be controlled by labor, by industry, by agriculture, or by any other class or group, we are weakening our defense and opening the way to dictatorship.

Congress should at all times be subject to legitimate and constructive criticism. It should be made to feel its responsibility in fairly and accurately representing the people.

But the people should be constantly alert to inquire into the motives of ridicule and criticism. Too much of it originates, we believe, from radical influences, directed at weakening our defenses against Communism and other totalitarian isms, as well as from class and privilege critics.

Indians Nose Out Myrtle Point Five On Free Throw

A free throw conversion in the last six seconds of play gave the Roseburg Indians a 28 to 27 win at Myrtle Point Saturday night, after Roseburg had won Friday night's basketball game, 37 to 33.

Saturday night's game was a over the Myrtle Point Bobcats wild affair with the Indians coming from far behind in the fourth period to eke out a one-point victory.

Roseburg jumped into an early 6 to 0 lead as the game opened, but H. Lewellen and Hatfield Myrtle Point's scoring aces, roused the home town fans as they tied the score, Lewellen dropping in two quick shots from close-in scrambling and Hatfield connecting with a looper from mid-court.

Speed of the game slowed down in the second period, as both teams tried for set-up shots, with the Indians trying to crack a very effective Bobcat zone defense. Myrtle Point gained a 15 to 10 advantage, which was extended to 25-17 in the third period, during which the play became fast and rough.

Eight points behind as they entered the fourth frame, the Indians began pouring on the heat, Davidson connected from the circle to make the score 25-19. Taylor hit two free throws, and Piper sneaked in a corner shot to make the score 25-23.

Piper, Roseburg forward, was knocked out in a rough scramble as a Bobcat player tried to steal the ball from him, and Hubbard, who went in as a substitute, tossed the free throw.

Both teams were playing fast, rough ball by this time, and H. Lewellen sank a gift shot for Myrtle Point, while Taylor, Scofield and Piper, the latter back on the floor after recovering from his injury, chalked up foul throws for Roseburg to tie the score 27-all with six seconds left to play. Ford of Myrtle Point and Scofield of Roseburg were whistled down for what officials called a double foul. Ford missed his shot, while Scofield, with the game in his hands, calmly dropped the ball through the basket for the winning point.

Outstanding in Saturday's game, as in Friday's contest, was the brilliant defensive work of Daryl Blank, Indian center, who held H. Lewellen, high scorer for District No. 6, to two field goals.

Lineup: Roseburg (28) (27) Myrtle Point Piper (1) F. (2) H. Lewellen Hubbard (2) - F. (3) Nichols Blank (2) - C (4) H. Lewellen Taylor (6) - G. (8) Farrier Schindler (0) G. (8) Hatfield

Substitutions: Roseburg - Davidson (2), Scofield (2); Myrtle Point - Ford (2), Bechtol, Wise. Officials: James and Hemmsey. Games to be played this week include Myrtle Creek versus the Roseburg junior varsity at Myrtle Creek tonight, a March of Dimes benefit; Drain versus Roseburg junior varsity at Drain Wednesday; Roseburg versus the Roseburg Indians at Roseburg Saturday. The preliminary game Saturday night has not yet been scheduled.

Stojack Defeats Lynam To Retain Light-Heavy Belt

Frank Stojack, of Tacoma, Wash., current possessor of the Pacific Coast light heavyweight wrestling championship, turned back the challenge of Joe Lynam at the Roseburg Armory Saturday night, defeating the Redmond, Oregon, grappler by two spectacular spins and dropping the first fall of the bout on an abdominal stretch. A near capacity crowd of 900 saw the match which lasted a little longer than 35 minutes and was clean and fast throughout.

Lynam stopped the title-holder with his paralyzing abdominal stretch in 24 minutes 10 seconds of the first round. In the succeeding round, Stojack twice got out of the same type hold by swinging against the ropes, then hoisted Joe above his head and finished him with a half-minute air-spine spin and a press. This was a 14:56 session.

The third and final stanza lasted only 35 seconds. After two futile efforts to lift Joe into the air for another air-spine whirl, Stojack grabbed him by the armpits and swung him 'round and 'round in a "Dutch windmill," then applied the finishing press. Hager Beats Dorsett!

In the supporting bout of the card, Tex Hager, in an exhibition of gameness that drew a big hand from the crowd, defeated Joe Dorsett two out of three falls. Tex won the first fall in 17:55 with his chief weapon, a flying knee, but dropped the second one in 10:35 when Dorsett got him in a hangman hold after battering him into helplessness and leaving a crimson smear around his right eye.

Going right to work on that injured eye in the third round, Dorsett had Hager freshly bleeding a text in the Oregon public schools is being taken to a new jury, the children themselves.

Chickens Eat Less, Grow More on New Type Feed

STORRS, Conn.—UP—A University of Connecticut scientist announces the development of a new quality feed which, he said, allows chickens to "eat less and grow more."

The new feed, the announcement said, cuts waste by lowering the fiber content to about two and a half per cent as compared with six to nine per cent in standard commercial feeds. Dr. E. P. Singson, acting head of the poultry department, developed it during three years of research with Drs. L. D. Matterson and H. M. Scott.

The fiber in feeds is regarded as waste because it cannot be digested. Its ingredients include fish meal, meat and bone scraps, soybean oil meal, liver meal, butyl fermentation product to residue product from commercial fermentation for butyl alcohol, alfalfa leaf meal, salt, vitamin D, manganese sulfate, niacinic acid and choline chloride.

It is estimated that 85 to 90 per cent of the driving accidents in many large cities are caused by persons who break traffic laws.

Oregon Edges Out Staters to Take Conference Lead

SEATTLE, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Northern Division Coast conference basketball fives swung into the third week of play with four of the five division entries having a crack at the No. spot. Only Washington State has stayed out of the pace-setting post and the Cougars, bolstered by a split against Washington, tackle Idaho's Vandals in a home and home dual this weekend. A sweep would put Jack Friel's strong defensive squad in a challenging spot.

Oregon currently occupies the front-running ranking after disposing of Oregon State's erstwhile leaders Saturday night. The Ducks swing north Friday for an early conclusion of their season's four games with the Washington Huskies. The two clubs split a pair during the Huskies southern jaunt.

In the weekend's concluding contests, Washington hit a hot closing pace to crush Washington State, 51-35 and Oregon squeezed past Oregon State, 42-41, after trying to stall for five minutes on a 41-35 margin.

Traditionally hot, the OSC-Oregon clash was marked by a brief flurry of protest when the gun went off 13 seconds prematurely. But a resumption of play failed to change the count. Oregon's big center, Rog Wiley, paced the scoring with 19 points as his teammates held Cliff Crandall, OSC siege gun, to but seven—only one from the floor. No individual effort was Washington's comeback against the Cougars. A surprise winner Friday night, WSC was hard pressed to stay within range of a snarling Husky after the first five minutes and never approached closer than 10 points after a Washington flurry opened the second half. Bill Vandenberg hit 12 points, the Husky high, but was followed closely by Jack Nichols, Sammy White and Bill Taylor—each with 11. None of the Cougars hit double figures, with Vince Hanson's nine taking top honors.

The American people bought about 75 per cent more goods and services in 1941 than in 1900.
