

Dr. Wainscott Tops Shooters With Perfect 25

Dr. E. J. Wainscott turned in the only perfect score of the day Sunday, as he broke 25 birds in the practice round of the very successful merchandise shoot held at the Roseburg Rod and Gun Club grounds.

A large number of shooters turned out for the event and good scores were made in competition. Al Newman and John Amacher served sandwiches and coffee at the clubhouse snack bar during the day.

The Roseburg Junior High Papooses won over the Cottage Grove Freshman basketball team Saturday at Roseburg's Junior High gym, 47 to 22.

Buck Deer Leaps Into Automobile

COOS BAY, Ore., Jan. 19.—(AP)—A hitch-hiking buck deer is back in his forest haunts today, probably as puzzled by the ways of man as Farmer Hurley Colver is about the antics of the animal.

Colver told this story today: While driving on a rural road to town he saw a deer and stopped the car. Almost before he knew what happened the deer had jumped through an open car door and was in the back seat of the sedan, waiting patiently until the surprised farmer recovered.

Finally, Colver decided to drive on and the deer remained, apparently enjoying the jaunt and showing no alarm when they neared town and drove to state police headquarters.

When Colver asked police if he had made a legal catch the officers suggested the deer had best be returned to the hills.

So Colver drove back. Stopped and waited. After waiting what he considered a polite amount of time for the deer to move along, he nudged the buck. It took a hefty tug and boost to put the animal out of the car again.

Roseburg Bowler Takes Lead in Class B Singles

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Two new all-time records were set Sunday in the Oregon state bowling tournament, which ends next weekend.

Morley Madden, Bend, knocked over 677 pins for a new high mark in the Class C singles, while the Portland team of Tony Larson and Al Lamb registered a 1,232 for a new Class B doubles mark.

D. Still, Roseburg, went into the lead in the Class B singles with 619, while Charlie Booth and Harry Bray, Klamath Falls, Class A doubles team, took over first place in their division with 1,201.

Advancement of Colored People, and Mrs. Claire A. Argow, secretary of the Oregon Prison Association, said an affidavit signed by the jury foreman had been forwarded to Governor Hall.

The said Foreman Hilmer A. Wellin swore: "I sincerely believe that if Wardell Henderson had been a white person, the jury would not have voted for the gas chamber."

Portland, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Groups working for clemency in the death sentence of Wardell Henderson, 23, Negro convicted of murdering a Vanport butcher, reported today they held evidence the jury was prejudiced by the defendant's race.

Henderson faces execution Friday at the state prison.

GIFT GOSSIP
by Margie

Hello there, all you handsome people: Narcissus, beautiful but dumb, fell in love with his own reflection in a woodland pool, so the legend goes. Nice work, if you care for it, but a little on the simple side, I ween. Now if he had just tucked up his draperies and tripped down to DOROTHY'S at 115 S. Stephens St., he would have found some new-fangled contraptions that beat his reflecting pool by seven square miles. You know what I mean, folks. Nice, clear, silverbright mirrors that won't give you wrinkles with every passing breeze. He would have fallen in love with the mirror instead of the pretty face it tossed back at him.

For shaving, if he ever did, Narcissus would eye himself in a big swinging glass with a Lucite frame, clear enough to count every whisker. He would find this mighty right for his high boy; or lowboy, if he'd rather. In the vestibule he should hang a pair of those round convex mirrors in red gold frames, the kind that are so ornamental while deflating the ego with ruthless abandon. I glanced in one and came away feeling like the least of the seven dwarfs. Glee! though, if you can take it.

Scouring around, still at DOROTHY'S, Narcissus would eventually spy himself looking out from a recessed frame of dusty gold with a little chin rest at the bottom. Or, being sent to the corner, he might find there a clever corner mirror with baguette glass deco. Here he can revel in twin reflections of himself, with cross-eyed results if indulged in too long.

So let's give Narcissus a hand mirror with a nice long Lucite handle and a compact with a mirror on the top as well as on the inside. How happy he will be that he discovered DOROTHY'S, down there on Stephens St., where a mirror is an object of beauty whose object is to reflect beauty. Try it yourself sometime, and good looking to you all, Margie. (Paid Adv.)

Yoncalla Quintet Defeats Oakland

Yoncalla High School downed Oakland's basketball team Friday night at Yoncalla, 35 to 29.

It was a closely-played game all the way, with both teams connecting with an equal number of field goals. The difference in the scores is the difference in the number of free throws made.

Yoncalla made 13 out of 26 for Yoncalla, 7 out of 19 for Oakland.

The halftime score was 18 to 11. Yoncalla led at the end of each quarter. The first period score was 10 to 6; score at the end of the third was 23 to 21.

The lineups:
Yoncalla (35) Pos. (29) Oakland
Mark, 11 F. 1. Beowson
Rust, 10 C. 7. Hopkins
Wales, 14 G. 3. Johnson
Ritchey, 14 G. 2. Bailey
Raper, 10 G. 2. Hill
Subs: Yoncalla—Fast 8, Allen 1, McDonald, Dick, McDonald, Can 1, Gordon; Oakland—Hogan 12, Rice 4, Buckley.

Officials: Eddy and Regele.
