tainly aren't numerous. On the other hand, if casual glances through the windows behind which women sit with those inverted milking machines clamped down over their heads can be trusted, the same doesn't hold true with the other sex.

THIS particular barber was nobody's spring chicken, but he was fast. Admitting that cutting what remains of this scribe's hair is no job to set apart a whole day for, he beat the average by quite a little.

Back in the period when the price was two bits, it was one of the major tenets of the barbering trade that the customer doesn't like to have his locks whisked off too hastily.

Nick, incidentally, got ten cents for a shave and a quarter for a haircut, and went on the job at 7 in the morning and quit when the customers stopped coming.

He had just one failing as an artist. He insisted on wearing the nail of his right finger long, and it always tickled you behind the ears.

It turned out that this barber was recently from Alaska. They probably don't like to feel away time in the barber's chair up there where men are men, and time's a wastin'.

Asked about Alaskans, he shook his head. "Alaska spots too many men," he replied. "Many's the youngster I've seen come up from the states and start off swell. Then he's got to helling around nights, drinking liquor and playing poker."

He took it as long as he could, he said, and then got out. The odd part is that he's homesick. He wouldn't admit it, but he'd give his shirt to be back in Kotchikan, where he put in the bulk of his 33 years in the north.

Fred L. Johnson, Retired S. P. Engineer, Passes. Fred L. Johnson, retired Southern Pacific engineer who worked out of Roseburg for several years died Friday, Jan. 23, in Portland at the age of 70.

BACKWARD DOCTOR. DUKQUIN, Ill., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Dr. G. H. Gutridge got a hurry-up call from the hospital and rushed to the garage to get his automobile.

DRAIN GIRLS WIN. Roseburg girls played their first volleyball game on foreign courts Monday night. The Drain team, former state champions, swamped the Squaws by a score of 9 to 25.

LACK OF INTEREST

By CHARLES V. STANTON

A very charming lady was in our office recently and complained because we write too much in this column concerning fish and game matters.

If we appear to be crusading on behalf of our wildlife and forest resources, it is because that is exactly our purpose, and our reason for so doing is just because people like our visitor are not interested and we feel they should be.

Our visitor was a lady who lives on a farm, and her farm is situated on the banks of the Umpqua River.

To our mind, the Umpqua River is one of our principal potential sources of income.

As we think of resources our minds turn to the agricultural industry, which has so long been our bulwark, and to the timber industry, which only in recent years has surpassed farm income in volume of financial return.

It is because of that fact that we are crusading—and crusading is the only name for it—for proper recognition of this great asset we have. Our lady caller was "not interested."

She should be interested, for the products of her farm would have a larger and better market. Living on the banks of the river, she could have a year-around income if she would supply accommodations for paying guests.

Wonder if our caller knows that hunting and fishing combined is about the biggest business in the country. According to figures compiled by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, hunters and anglers during 1947 spent in excess of FOUR BILLION DOLLARS.

Arthur H. Carhart, in an article, "Hunting and Fishing is Big Business," furnishes some interesting comparisons, quoted recently in Northwest Angler and Hunter, in an editorial by James H. Bond, who entertained a large Roseburg audience only a few weeks ago with his technicolor Yukon Territory pictures.

Total retail sales in all drug stores in the nation in 1946 amounted to $2,959,000,000, more than $1 billion less than spent in 1947 by anglers and hunters.

Imagine, if you will, a winter recreational area at Diamond Lake, with a towline to the rim of Crater Lake, and a straight-away ski slide back. Such a development awaits only the construction of an all-year road up the North Umpqua.

Because too many people are like our caller and are not interested in fish and game matters, we are allowing millions of dollars annually to escape.

We could have unexcelled fishing in the Umpqua River the year around, with a steady influx of fishermen, if we had proper management of the resources and made desirable accommodations available.

The only reason we do not enjoy this income is because too many people are "not interested."

That's why we crusade for the cause and expect to continue until the value of our recreational resource is generally realized.

Army Accused Of Wasting Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Rep. Engle (R-Mich.) said Thursday the Army is throwing money down the "military rat-hole" and the Army's comptroller, Maj. Gen. George C. Richards, tries to "cover up."

Engle, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Military Appropriations, made the charge in a statement saying that he intended to "burn the light of pitiless publicity" on any "profligate and inexcusable waste by military forces and other agencies."

He said Gen. Richards has "covered up, or tried to cover up Army dirt wherever he saw there was danger of uncovering it."

Apparently the chance of a man's promotion in the Army is enhanced by, and sometimes based on, his ability to cover up Army waste and extravagance.

Negro Girl's Fight for Law Course Not Ended

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Both sides in a Negro girl's fight to enter the all-white University of Oklahoma prepared today for the next crisis in the stormy affair.

This will come Monday when Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher, 23-year-old Negro, honor student, will probably refuse to enroll at a hastily-convinced Negro law school in the State Capitol building here.
