Exchange Wedding Vows

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Emery.

Beverly Brown and William L. Emery were married at two o'clock January 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Foster, close friends of the former. Rev. Harry S. Baird, cousin of the bride, pastor of the First Church of Christ, Multnomah, Ore., performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride was attractive in a dress of white wool jersey. Her corsage was of violets and pink rosebuds. Mrs. Andrew Foster acted as matron-of-honor and Maurice Priestner was best man.

The bride's mother wore a forest green suit with black accessories and a corsage of violets and gardenias.

For traveling the bride chose a gray suit with black accessories. Following a honeymoon spent at points of interest along the Columbia highway, the couple left for Portland to make their home.

The bride was graduated from Roseburg High School and was later employed as a bookkeeper for Lockwood Motors prior to going to Portland to work for Northwest Truck Sales. The bridegroom is employed by a large business concern at Pasco, Wash.

Marry at Episcopal Church

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Hancock.

St. George's Episcopal Church in Roseburg was the setting for the attractive wedding of Miss Louise Groshong and Walter C. Hancock on December 27. White flowers and lighted candles adorned the altar for the two o'clock ceremony which was performed by Rev. William L. Baker. The bride wore a gown of heavy ivory satin fashioned with a long train, long sleeves, and fine illusion yoke outlined in seed pearls in an off-the-shoulder effect. The fingertip length veil was held in place with a heavy satin crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, bouvardia and orchids. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Merrill E. Groshong.

The bride's two sisters, Jeanne and Connie Groshong, preceded her down the aisle. Their gowns were of pink and blue taffeta with bouffant skirts and cap sleeves. They wore matching gloves and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations and wore matching bands in their hair adorned with clusters of pink carnations.

Mrs. Groshong wore a crown of aqua embossed crepe with matching hat and a corsage of orchids.

The groom, Walter Hancock, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hancock of Wadesboro, North Carolina.

Stephen Reed of Corvallis was best man.

Mrs. Lovel Smith of Sunnyside, Washington, sang "The Lord's Prayer and Oh, Perfect Love before the ceremony."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Sutherlin.

Mrs. Alta Mason Dobyns and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, aunts of the bride, presided at the table and Mrs. John Runkel assisted.

The bridal couple left immediately following the reception for Eugene and boarded a plane for San Francisco, going from there to Carmel, California, where they spent their honeymoon.

For traveling the bride wore a blue wool gabardine suit and matching straw hat with black accessories.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were the bride's grandfather, Arthur Milby, of Walla Walla, Washington; Mrs. A. H. Mason, Dobyns of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Sunnyside, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. John R.
