her grip, we can't help her much. In that event, she would die anyway, and such help as we might give would be money poured down a rat-hole.

But if she is brightening up enough to ask the nurse what's cooking for lunch there is hope.

As long as there is hope in Europe, we ought to help. If there is no hope, we'd better pull out and help ourselves. That is brutal and selfish and realistic, but after all that is the way INTERNATIONAL life is.

If we're going to survive in the world today, we've got to be realistic.

If you were down, but not out, sick and pretty shaky, but still in the mood to do your darndest if you could get the right kind of help, what would do most to put vim and HOPE back into you?

This is probably what you'd want:

The assurance of some competent, responsible BANKER that he'd see you through. Once you got that (assuming that you still had some fight left in you) you'd be ready to roll up your sleeves and wade in.

You wouldn't try to pin him down as to the exact number of dollars and cents he'd put up. You wouldn't know how much you might need. Your banker wouldn't know to the cent. Such things can't be figured out in advance.

But once you got his assurance that he'd see you through you'd have the courage to tackle the job.

THIS is the point:

Our congress (with a political campaign in the offing) is haggling over the pennies—making it plain to the voters that congress is still the good old watch-dog of the treasury.

Shall we commit ourselvts to six billions in the immediate future? Or shall we commit ourselves to only 5½ billions? These are the issues that are making the welkin ring in Washington.

Really, they are insignificant. If we're going to do the Marshall plan job, we've got to do the job. What we need to tell Europe is that we'll see her through—if we're going to see her through.

If not, we'd better say so now.

Mississippi Governor Calls For Demo Revolt

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Governor Fielding L. Wright yesterday called a state wide meeting that could put into action a revolt against the national Democrats.

He called for representatives of all precincts in Mississippi to attend a meeting here on February 12, asserting that:

"Every precinct in the state must be thoroughly organized so that the Mississippi Democratic convention will be composed of delegates dedicated without equivocation to the principles that have been so long a vital part of the heart and mind of every Mississippi Democrat. * * *

Pension Union Head Files Suit Against Group of Probers

SEATTLE, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The president of the Washington Pension Union, William J. Pennock, filed a $688,000 libel suit in Superior Court yesterday against the Legislature's Un-American Activities Committee as the group's preliminary public hearings drew near an end.

Pennock's complaint said that statements made public by the committee on Jan. 10 were untrue. The suit was filed by Atty. John Caughlan.

On Jan. 10, the committee, headed by Rep. Albert Canwell (R.-Spokane), announced its planned investigation of the Washington Pension Union.

The statements against which Pennock complained were made in a public announcement of the committee's plans.

At that time, Canwell criticized unnamed leaders of the pension union has having "subverted the interests" of "bona fide recipients" of state pension funds.

Canwell's statement also said that the broad aim of the Legislative Committee during its investigation and hearings would be to "expose the pattern and purpose of the Communist conspiracy in the State of Washington and its cooperative relationship with the world-wide Communist conspiracy . . ."

At that time Pennock replied: "The committee has with amazing candor publicly abandoned any pretense of fairness, since in its preliminary statement it has already announced what its findings, supposedly as a result of these hearings, are going to be."

He charged that the committee was "illegal and without constitutional authority."

LETTERS to the Editor

ROSEBURG—During the past year I made a little hobby of jotting down a record of each editorial you have printed in the paper which concerns conservation. I thought, perhaps, you would be interested in the findings. The results clearly indicate that you are a very staunch supporter of the whole conservation program. We have found at least 35 of your editorials during 1947 dealing with some form of conservation. Fish and game leads with 16 editorials, sustained yield, timber conservation and utilization are second with 13 editorials, while fire control, recreation, and water conservation have each been the subject of two editorials.

You probably know that almost every editorial or news item which deals with forestry or conservation is sent in to a central news clipping bureau. The more outstanding articles and editorials are reprinted in a news clipping sheet which is distributed throughout the nation. A good many of your editorials have appeared in this news clipping sheet.

I would like to personally express my appreciation of the fine cooperation this forest has received from your paper during the past year and thank you for being a leader in the conservation problems that are so vital to this area.

M. M. "RED" NELSON,
Supervisor of Umpqua

Housing Shortage Myth, Apartment Owners Say

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The National Apartment Owners Association argued to Congress yesterday that there is no housing shortage. It said the so-called shortage is "a figment of the imagination." So it asked that Congress let rent controls die.

Rent control will die at the end of this month unless Congress votes to keep it. The House Banking Committee is studying the question of what Congress ought to do. The apartment owners made their argument in a statement filed with it.

Police Chief Faces Trial On Charge of Slapping

OREGON CITY, Ore., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Oregon City's Police Chief L. L. Pittenger will go on trial in Circuit Court Feb. 18 on a charge of assault and battery.

Pittenger pleaded innocent to a grand jury indictment accusing him of slapping a 20-year-old Oregon City youth in an argument over an automobile accident.

Pittenger resigned as Eugene chief of police last year after slapping a juvenile in an argument.

HEROISM REWARDED

PORTLAND, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Richard Workman, 13, Wecoma Beach lad who rescued a 3-year-old boy from a mill pond near Myrtle Point in 1946, was awarded a certificate of merit for heroism at the annual Boy Scout Area Council meeting here.

Evangelism Head Dated At Baptist Church

Rev. Paul Kopp, above, of San Francisco, newly-elected director of evangelism for the Northern Baptist convention on the Pacific Coast, will begin a series of services at the First Baptist Church Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Kopp is a graduate of U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles, and a native of the State of Washington. He resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church at San Bernardino, Calif., to accept his present position. In four years he had had more than 600 new members join his church. His brother serves as a missionary in the Congo in Africa, and a sister is in China.

Rev. Mr. Kopp will preach at both services Sunday and at the Sunday School opening exercises. He will also speak to youth groups Sunday evening. Monday through Wednesday evenings he will instruct a group of visitors and preach again on Thursday and Friday nights. He will remain over Sunday, Feb. 15.

Big Storm Needed To Ease Shortage Of Electric Power

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6—(AP)—The Pacific Gas & Electric Company reported yesterday it had negotiated power curtailments and even partial plant shutdowns with individual industrial customers, but said there had been no closings on an industry-wide basis.

There were unconfirmed reports that Northern California power companies were considering shutdowns in the lumber, mining and gold dredging industries throughout Northern California and Southern Oregon.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Company spokesman here said his firm was making no industry-wide shutdowns.

"We are pursuing our announced policy of negotiating agreements with individual customers for curtailed operations only where the customers' schedules will permit," he declared. These are with full consent of each customer and in no case are industry-wide."

He did not know what policy was being pursued by California-Oregon Power Company, operating also in the north.

The present storm is insufficient to bring even temporary power relief, he declared. "That will come with the first storm heavy enough to end the unseasonal irrigation pumping load. This requires 200,000 horsepower.

"To bring permanent relief with assured full reservoirs, we need a long snowstorm over the higher mountains and a resulting deep snowpack to allow a gradual release of stream flows thru the spring and early summer."

The company added that the cutting down of 60-cycle current to 59½—a procedure upsetting electric clocks through the San Francisco Bay Area, was continuing during peak hours.

Teen-Ager Exhausts Alibis on Traffic Count

NEWPORT, Ore., Feb. 6—(AP)—Chief of Police Ed Tatum said today he hoped the teen-ager he arrested for passing a stop sign could think up better alibis to tell the judge.

"You see, officer, I had my reasons," the youth told Chief Tatum.

"Name one," said the chief.

"I was in second gear and couldn't've stopped if —"

"No soap. Come again."

"I looked and there was nothing coming, so— —"

"The law doesn't grant you power of discretion," said the police chief. "Try again."

"Well, you see, my main reason was I didn't notice you watching me."

FARM PRICES HIGHER

PORTLAND, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The average price of almost all Oregon farm products was higher in mid-January than it was in December, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Only farm commodities which did not go up were eggs, apples, and pears.

Kidneys Must Remove Excess Acids

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
