known relatively little of real liberty. What they have experienced of it has been in brief flashes, sandwiched in between long periods of despotism.

Poland has never known much of real liberty. And so it is with Romania and Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. In their cases, the despotism of communism is just another in a long series of despotic interludes.

But Czechoslovakia, which tracks back to Bohemia and Moravia, with their centuries-long struggle for the right of the individual to think as he pleases and, within the limits of the rights of others, to DO as he pleases—

Well, somehow the loss of liberty by those who have had it long enough to become accustomed to it and to learn how to appreciate it seems to hit us with a harder jolt than loss of liberty by those who have never had it long enough to GROW INTO IT so that it becomes a part of them.

KEEP this clear in your mind, for it is fundamental:

Communism didn't come to Czechoslovakia as the result of an ELECTION in which everybody got out and voted and communism won out.

There was a period of disturbance, and debate.

Then—

SUDDENLY—

ARMED MEN APPEARED BEFORE THE GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

That was the end of it. It came just like that. Liberty was dead, and communism had taken its place.

HERE is a realistic thought:

Czechoslovakia tried to work with Russia. She accepted her position. She WANTED to throw in with us in an effort to rebuild Europe, but Russia said NO! So the Czechs stayed with Russia. They tried to work it out. They hoped against hope for the best.

The headlines tell us what came of it.

WE'D like to work with Russia. As a matter of fact, there is nothing we want more. For nearly two years, we tried earnestly to do it. We'd love to tackle the job again if we could see any hope of success.

But this much is becoming clear:

Anyone who is going to work with Russia must be AT LEAST AS STRONG AS RUSSIA. Czechoslovakia was little and weak. Russia is powerful. So what WAS Czechoslovakia NOW IS RUSSIA.

Let's heed the lesson.

Let's stay STRONG.

Boy Kills Brother To Save Father From Death

CRESTON, B. C., Feb. 27—(CP)—A 15-year-old boy shot and killed his brother to save his father from death, a coroner's inquest jury found here. The boy has been charged with murder.

The victim was Nicholas Nespiak, 32, killed last Saturday in his farm home in the Canyon District during a family quarrel. He had threatened his father with a hunting knife, witnesses testified.

The verdict read: "The shot was fired in an effort to save the life of Alex Nespiak, the father, who was being attacked . . . The evidence indicates the bullet was fired from a rifle in the hands of a younger brother."

Twenty-five per cent of all traffic casualties among pedestrians are the result of crossing between intersections, according to the Oregon State Motor Association. The Association urged pedestrians to cross only at crosswalks at intersections.

SALUTE TO ROSEBURG

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Sponsorship by The Oregonian, Portland, of a Salute to Roseburg week, already has shown results in focusing attention upon this community, according to Harold Hickerson, secretary of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce.

A full page feature appeared in The Sunday Oregonian of Feb. 22. A special radio program was broadcast by Station KGW, owned and operated by The Oregonian, and the News-Review's station, KRNR. A Portland speaker appears before a Roseburg Chamber of Commerce forum luncheon audience today, while Roseburg speakers, Mayor Al Flegel and John Todd, vice-president of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce, will appear before the Portland Junior Chamber of Commerce, March 2.

If the Salute to Roseburg did nothing more than bring about a trade of speakers it would be well worth while, for an exchange of ideas between community representatives is always of value.

Two neighboring women will pass gossip over the back fence. Neighboring families get together to discuss personalities and trade information. But because it is impossible to exchange all news by word of mouth, we have newspapers to keep us informed on daily happenings of people, groups and agencies. We subscribe to magazines for purposes of entertainment and education.

The Oregonian's project narrows down, in principle, to a combination of newspaper and magazine distribution of news and information and gossip exchanged over the back fence by two neighboring communities.

The Oregonian's writers have frankly exposed our community personality, have told of our successes and our problems and candidly discussed our future. From a technical standpoint we find it an exceptionally good job of reporting. It is not often that a reporter seeking factual information can, at the same time, obtain a comprehensive grasp of the spirit of a community, but this achievement is most apparent in The Oregonian's Salute to Roseburg.

Several letters already have been received by the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce from people who read the Sunday feature article and seek additional information. Publication of a full-page advertisement in Newsweek magazine, under sponsorship of The Oregonian, is expected to add most materially to the Chamber of Commerce correspondence file.

Roseburg has been very much in the limelight in recent months. The sensational expansion of the timber industry, coupled with future prospects for enlargement of that industry, causes investment bankers to advise clients to "keep an eye on Roseburg." We have heard of such advice being given in Chicago, New York and other financial centers, as well as in all of leading cities of the Pacific Coast.

Needless to say, people are keeping an eye on Roseburg—particularly those with money to invest in industry and business. Now that we have been given a vigorous publicity and advertising boost, it behooves us to be on our best behavior.

The First Lamb's-Tongue of Spring

Spring is approaching. The infallible evidence has been submitted. Stormy weather may yet lie ahead, but it can be of only brief duration, for Spring is just around the corner.

How can we be so sure? It is impossible for error, because we have seen the first lamb's-tongue of the season. It came from Myrtle Creek. Its delicate cream petals and waxy green leaves give prophecy of the advent of Spring as surely as a northward flight of geese sweeping their echelon across a blue sky.

It is one of God's miracles that a flower, so pure and delicate, can be one of the first to bring the message of Spring. Though the chill of winter still is in the air, the warm breath of the sun upon the soil of a southern slope causes the lamb's-tongue to lift its velvet bowl to the heavens in thanksgiving, and to encourage the spirit of Man that the rigors of Winter soon will give way to the soothing, life-giving comfort of Spring.

We have seen the first lamb's-tongue. Spring is coming!

Red Issue Enters Probe of Strike Of Hollywood Unions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Pat Casey of New York, a retired movie industry official, said yesterday, "there ought to be a lot of housecleaning in the American Federation of Labor" in connection with the Hollywood strike.

Casey was chairman for the Motion Picture Producers Association Labor Committee for 20 years until he retired last year. He told a House Labor Subcommittee:

"In my day, when Sam Gompers handed down an order as president of the AFL, it was an order. It was obeyed.

"But there has been testimony here of letters passing around from one union leader to another * * *"

Casey referred to the strike in Hollywood between rivel AFL Unions in which he said Union officials protested to AFL President William Green without getting a decisive answer from Green.

The House Committee is studying the 17-month-old controversy.

No Communism Seen

Asked by Rep. Landis (R-Ind if he thought the strike was fostered by communists, Casey said:

"I don't think communism has anything to do with it. * * * all they need is a little common sense to end this row."

Earlier, Herbert K. Sorrell, Hollywood union leader, promised to make it hot for his rivals who have accused him of having a communist tinge.

"It sounds like hell against me now, but wait till I get on the witness stand," Sorrell told a reporter.

Matthew M. Levy, counsel for the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, told the hearing Sorrell has "followed the Communist party line since 1937."

He said a strike against Hollywood studios which began in September, 1946, is "part of a conspiracy" for communists to control the movies.

Livestock, Turkey Income in Oregon Sets New Record

PORTLAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Livestock and turkey ranchers in Oregon had an all-time record income of $181,248,000 in 1947, the department of agriculture reported today.

A January 1 inventory of stock revealed a decline of 2 per cent in "animal units" compared with the year previous, but beef cattle numbers increased.

Niels I. Nielsen, U. S. Agriculture statistician, said the 3 per cent gain in beef cattle was a reversal of the national trend. He said this indicated Oregon ranchers were restocking. Total cattle and calf production was 1,077,000, valued at $129,240,000.

Dairy cattle declined 3 per cent to 243,000 head, smallest number since 1930. Dairy heifers also declined 3 per cent.

The number of hogs increased 2 per cent to 164,000, up from last year's 63-year low. Sheep and lambs, totaling 735,000, were at the lowest number since 1874. Hog value was $6,429,000; sheep, $12,498,000.

Oregon poultry flocks were estimated at 3,468,000 chickens, just 1,000 less than a year ago. Turkey numbers were down 50 per cent to 229,000 birds.

Formation of the Coast Guard in 1915 involved the merger of the Life-Saving Service and the Revenue Cutter Service.

This portrait of a disgruntled cat took first prize in the general pictorial class of a worldwide photographic contest sponsored by the Army for Army and Air Force personnel. Titled "Sour Puss," the picture was taken by S/Sgt. Fred. X. Moore, of Riverside, Calif., who is stationed at March Field, Calif.

Maj. Gen. Meyers Hit by Testimony Of Former Aide

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Blerior H. LaMarre testified today that $18,000 he drew as salary and travel expenses from a Dayton, O., plane parts plant in 1941, actually went to Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers.

The 36-year-old LaMarre said he only got a $50 weekly salary as president of the firm, Aviation Electric Company.

He said the company was owned and directed by Meyers, wartime deputy purchasing chief of the Army Air Forces. Meyers, he said made the "major decisions."

Meyers is being tried in federal court on charges that he induced LaMarre to lie last summer to a Senate Committee inquiring into Meyers' business deals.

On instructions from the General, LaMarre said, he drew $18,000 ostensibly as salary and expenses. He said he bought cashiers checks at a bank and mailed them to Meyers in Washington.

"Meyers told me the cashiers (checks) would not appear on the books of the company," LaMarre related. "I told him I would do as I was instructed."

The government has said it will show the 52-year-old Meyers got $150,000 wartime profits from the Dayton firm, mainly in salary kickbacks from LaMarre and others.

Turbine Failure Shuts Weyerhaeuser Pine Mill

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Weyerhaeuser Timber Company's mill here, one of the largest pine mills in the country, was shut down yesterday due to a lack of power from its own plant and inability to buy it elsewhere.

The turbine which generates power for the big operation went out for the first time since the plant was built in 1928.

Heretofore, Weyerhaeuser has been unaffected by the general power shortage in this area because it was producing its own electrical energy by use of wood waste. California Oregon Power Company is unable to supply energy to the mill while its turbine is out of order.

Noted Evangelist Sets Topics Here

Dr. William Ward Ayer is speaking Friday night and Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Roseburg. His topic Friday night will be "The Unpardonable Sin," and Sunday he will speak on the topic "Great God and Little You," at the morning service; "Palestine for Jew or Arab?" at 3 p. m., and "The Locked Out Christ" at the evening service.

Dr. Ayer, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Manhattan, recently placed third in a first citizen poll conducted in New York by Radio Station WOR.

Now in his 12th year as pastor of the New York Church, Dr. Ayer, a native of New Brunswick, previously served churches at Valparaiso and Gary, Indiana, and Hamilton, Ontario, Can.

He was a newsboy in Brooklyn during his schooldays, and later became a printer's devil in a country newspaper office in Winchester, Mass. While working in Boston for a firm of book publishers, he was among a group of workers attending a revival meeting conducted by Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist when he made his decision to enter religious work. He has since become one of the nation's best known pastor-evangelists.

Inexperienced drivers are not major factors in traffic accidents in Oregon, according to the Oregon State Motor Association. Seventy-two per cent of the traffic accidents in this state involve drivers with six years or more driving experience.

Close-in Acreage offers Choice Investment

Approximately 51 acres at the junction of the Garden Valley and Calkins Roads now offers, we believe, the finest subdivision or suburban estate possibilities available today.

These beautiful rolling hills are particularly adaptable to a well planned subdivision or could be nicely cut up into suburban estates.

John Jacob Astor said:

"Buy on the fringe . . Buy land near a growing city! Buy real estate when other people want to sell."

Paved road to the property and city water on place, together with its proximity to Roseburg, make it an ideal set-up.

There is a 6 room home and a good barn which might be converted into other usage, but we think the land alone is well worth the price. This fine property is available for $18,900. Terms. Let us show you its possibilities.
