the less you do the less you have to explain to the voters.

(This writer would be as fond of wand-waving as anybody except for one thing: So far as he can recall, he never heard of a mean-tempered bear being stopped by waving a wand.)

HENRY Wallace just plain DOESN'T LIKE the Truman proposal to do something effective to make ourselves strong. He says it is a "shameful call for world mobilization."

Representative Vito Marcantonio, who doesn't run on the Communist ticket but faithfully follows the Communist party line, criticizes the President "adversely," as does Representative Leo Isaacson, who upset the political applecart a while back by getting elected to Congress from a New York district with Wallace's backing.

(Tass, the official Russian news service, quotes Wallace, Marcantonio and Isaacson with obvious approval in a broadcast from Moscow this morning.)

Truman, by the way, handed a hot one back to Wallace the other night. Speaking at the annual dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patricks in New York, he said he wouldn't accept the support of "Henry Wallace and his Communists" even if refusing it meant certain defeat.

He added flatly: "If joining them or permitting them to join me is the price of victory, I recommend defeat."

The dispatches report that the Sons of St. Patric cheered wildly.

THE Communist newspaper in Helsinki, Finland's Communist-grabbed capital, says: "Truman is loading the guns. He is calling for universal military training and threatening with direct action."

The Communist newspaper in Budapest (capital of Russian occupied, Communist-run Hungary) puts in its two bits worth in these words:

"The Truman speech is nothing but a cheap electioneering trick. He wants to excite war panic to threaten the disappointed mass, thus creating a reactionary national unity headed, naturally, by himself."

And so on through the Communist hall of the world.

YOU know the jingle:

"No thief ever felt the halter draw With good opinion of the law."

Apparently no Communist has a good opinion of any American who wants to keep his country strong enough to resist threats to its liberty.

ON the home front, Defense Secretary Forrestal (a clear-headed, plain-speaking U. S. official) says succinctly: "Our armed forces want to add more than 350,000 men to their strength."

He adds: "A DRAFT IS THE ONLY WAY TO GET THEM."

Invitational Tourney For Golfers Scheduled

Second annual invitational golf tournament of the Roseburg Country Club has been dated for May 29, 30 and 31. It was announced by Gene McElroy, tournament chairman.

It is expected that Eddie Simmons of Medford, defending champion, will enter the tournament to defend the title he earned in last year's invitational tournament, McElroy said.

THE BOY SCOUT "ARMY"

By CHARLES V. STANTON

"The toughest group to Democratize was that between the ages of 14 and 35, which Hitler had thoroughly Nazified," DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, reported recently. MacKenzie was telling of continued adherence to Nazism of Frau Gertrud Scholz-Klink Heissmeyer, fuhrer of German women in the Hitlerian era, and discussed in that connection the difficulties of converting many German people to the teachings and principles of Democracy.

It will be noted that the age group between 14 and 35 includes persons who were trained as youths in Hitlerian tents, and those who were at the most impressionable age of life during the period of Germany's military glory. It is doubtful if this particular age group can ever be weaned completely away from Nazism. That is one reason why we should be prepared for many years of supervisory occupation over Germany, and it also is why strong efforts are being made by the opponents of Democracy to force us out of occupied countries.

Influences brought upon the youth of a land determine the fate of a nation. It is significant, therefore, to look at what is happening in Europe today.

When the Communists seized Czechoslovakia recently one of the first official acts of the new Red leaders was to outlaw the Boy Scouts and Girls Scouts. The proclamation against these two youth organizations was issued simultaneously with seizure of control over all Czech newspapers. This action, which paralleled the Nazi and Fascist pattern of only a few brief years ago, exposes the true purposes and aims of Soviet Russia and bares the vulnerable spot for attack against totalitarianism. No subversive doctrine can withstand the pitiless spotlight of a free and untrammelled press, nor the character-building influence of a Democratic fellowship within the ranks of its youth.

In this country we take great pride in our Boy Scouts of America and in kindred organizations, the Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and similar groups. The general public contributes millions of dollars each year to maintain them and enlarge membership and activities. It would seem strange indeed to us that a political party should ban these organizations as "enemies." Yet that has happened and is happening in Europe as rapidly as the Red influence is extended.

Soviet Russia knows that Communism can gain world control if it succeeds in impressing its doctrines upon the minds of the young. Then, in a period of from 10 to 20 years, the toughest group to Democratize will be that between the ages of 14 to 35, just as MacKenzie reports today of the leaven of Nazism still existent in Germany. Soviet "kultur" is being extended today by political force, backed by threat of bayonets. Opposition is ruthlessly quelled by censorship, intimidation and even by purge. The individual who takes no part in politics is held helpless and impotent by a political minority, backed by police and military strength, and can do nothing to regain his lost freedom. He is kept in ignorance, because he reads in his newspapers only the news his rulers will permit to be published. He has no way to sift news from propaganda, nor fact from untruth. But even under these conditions he will continue to strive for freedom. He will organize his underground systems of communication. He will battle against oppression. But if his oppressors can maintain their hold for a comparatively few years they will have built up, through their youth training, a sufficient force to change their minority into a majority and they will then be most difficult to replace.

The inability to erase Nazism from the minds of Hitler-trained youths and the energy with which Soviet Russia is combating Democratic youth fellowship should give us reason to think seriously. If subversive influences and political isms can be fostered by imposed controls over the youth of a nation, is it not reasonable to assume that the cause of Democracy can be greatly advanced by the teaching and practices of its principles and tenets in free and open fellowship of the youth of Democratic nations? We need no imposed controls. We need only cooperation and financial aid for the leadership. The Boy Scouts of America can be a powerful defensive force in an ideological war. We can well afford to spend as much money on this and other of our character-building, youth-training organization as upon the formation and maintenance of a strong military force, for over a long period of years, the indoctrination of our youth in true Democracy will be the most powerful factor in opposing the spread of subversive doctrines.

Corvallis Beats Salem to Capture State Prep Title

EUGENE, Ore., March 22.—(AP)—Corvallis wore the Oregon 1948 Class A high school basketball championship crown today. The Cinderella team of the state tournament Saturday captured the title in a rugged clash that saw the Spartans slow the high scoring Salem Vikings and then go on to win, 47 to 43. It was the second state championship for Corvallis. Earlier in the Saturday night closing session, the ex-champions from Marshfield in Coos Bay won third place behind the runner up from Salem by defeating St. Helens, 56 to 48, in an overtime game. Washington of Portland took fourth place by overpowering Tigard, 50 to 37. The Klamath Falls Pelicans carried home fifth place by defeating Newberg, 45 to 34, in the consolation series final. Bob Edwards, Corvallis center, scored 71 points to win individual honors in the tournament as well as earn a spot on the first all-star team. His total was nine points better than the nearest competitor, Toby Lewis, Tigard, with 62.

Katonen Defeats Weaver; Hessel Wins Over Hart

Rugged Paavo Katonen, Finnish grappler, out-roughed Buck Weaver in last Saturday night's headliner at the armory, annexing two out of three falls, greatly to the voiced displeasure of most of the 650 fans present. Twice during the third and deciding round, Referee Elton Owen offered the verdict to Weaver because of a shoulder injury and official award went on to lose by Paavo's hangman hold in 10 minutes. Katonen got the opening fall of the bout with a half-Boston crab hold in 13 minutes after Weaver missed the finale of a series of shoulder huts and flattened himself on the mat. Buck took the fall in the second session in six minutes with his combination backward flip and head twist. In a 26-minute duel of science and speed, Gordon Hessel disposed of Frankie Hart with a trigger clamp in the semi-final scheduled for two-out-of-three falls within a half-hour over-all limit. Neither man gained a fall in the remaining four minutes. Sammy Cohen and George Curtis staged a no-fall draw in the 20-minute program opener.

Spring Season Ushered In With Snow Flurries

Light flurries of snow this morning and gusty winds during the weekend marked the coming of spring to Roseburg. Hills surrounding the city were blanketed with white today, but snow falling in the valley generally was wet and melted as it struck the ground. The "unusual" weather conditions for this time of year have been blamed for the heavy seasonal unemployment. A "break" is expected for outdoor workers by mid-April. New logging "shows" throughout the county are then expected to start full-scale operations and local construction projects held up during the winter are expected to get under way. One sure sign of spring locally has been the blossoming out of fruit trees in masses of white and pink.

Slow Pace Noted In Red Cross Drive

Although the current Red Cross campaign has been proceeding "every slowly," volunteer canvassers have collected $1,052 from the residential districts of Roseburg, it was reported by Mrs. L. G. Twoby, chairman. Sixty-one women have been participating in the local canvass, Mrs. Twoby said. The amount reported represents the first money turn-in of the local drive. The figure is expected to be greater as the drive continues. Allen Clute, chairman of the Douglas County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said that a total of $3,085 has been reported collected from other parts of the county. This year's goal, he added, is $12,000. Of this amount, $6,500 is the quota to be collected in and near Roseburg. He pointed out that a large share of the money is retained by the local chapter to be spent in the county for local projects.

AUTO KILLS CHILD

PORTLAND, March 20.—(AP)—Nine-year-old Paul Catran, Portland, was killed yesterday by an automobile outside the city limits. The driver said the boy ran unexpectedly in front of the vehicle. Newfoundland was discovered in 1497 by John Cabot, Venetian explorer employed by England.

Washington Basketeers Win Third at Tourney

KANSAS CITY, March 22.—(AP)—University of Washington basketeers won third in the NCAA regional tournament Saturday night with a 57-47 win over Wyoming, Baylor, which roared from behind to edge Washington 64-62 Friday night, defeated Kansas State 60-52 to win the Western title.

Club Gunners Post Season's First Perfect Score

The Roseburg Rod and Gun Club Sunday turned in its first perfect score for the season, as three members, Jack Culver, Ralph Payne and George Cornish, each had straight scores of 25 each. Culver and Payne shot over the Roseburg trans. Cornish, visiting in Eugene, made his score over the Eugene trans. The team scores are entered in the state telegraphic shoot sponsored by the Oregon Journal.

Five shooters had perfect scores in Sunday's events, Culver setting the pace as he broke 50 birds without a miss with his new trap gun. Others with 25 scores were Dr. Dean Bubar, John Marks, Ralph Payne and Ted Rice. Scoring 24 were Walt Edmonds, H. Shirteff, Jr., and Irvin Davis.

With two misses were Charles Klingler, Charles Patchett, Don Reichard, Ralph Sanstead. The 22-class included Roy Hill, Bud Nelson, Joe Davis, Bernard Young, H. H. Hannon, Lyman Spencer, Jack Rogers, J. L. Bechtoldt, Ivan Pickens, D. B. Graves, Ralph Shirteff.

Scores of 21 each were made by Frank Chapin, C. L. Graves, Fred Kuck, Harold Leep, E. C. Chapman, George Dimmick, Roy Strader. Breaking 20 out of 25 were Don Johnson, Ted Shirteff, L. G. Twoby, Ray Carrioco, James Vaughn, Stewart Taylor.

The door prize, given by the J. V. Sporting Goods Store, was awarded to Charles Klingler. Thirty-one squads participated in Sunday's events. Shooting March 28, Easter Sunday, will not start until 1 p. m., it was announced by Fred Kuck, captain. Because of the scheduled competition in the telegraphic shoot, it will be necessary to turn in team scores, Kuck said, but the shoot will be postponed until afternoon hours.

Top Oscar Won By Loretta Young

HOLLYWOOD, March 22.—(AP)—Loretta Young yesterday won the Oscar for the best performance by an actress in 1947 in the big upset of the 20th annual ceremonies of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. She won for her spirited portrayal of a Swedish-accented housemaid who rose to congresswoman in "The Farmer's Daughter." Rosalind Russell was the favorite in advance speculation—and by four to one in a trade-paper poll—for her tragic Lavinia in "Mourning Becomes Electra." Otherwise, the awards went according to forecasts. "Gentlemen's Agreement," a dramatic rap at anti-Semitism, was designated the best picture of last year.

Ronald Colman, 57, won his first Oscar in 25 years of stardom in more than 50 pictures as the murderous stage actor in "A Double Life." Edmund Gwenn, 70, got an "Oscar" for his performance as Kris Kringle in "Miracle on 34th Street." The Oscar is the first for Gwenn, like Colman a native of England.

Celeste Holm was honored for her acting as a sophisticated fashion editor in "Gentlemen's Agreement."

Reuther Labels Wallace "Plain Everyday Dope"

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 20.—(AP)—Henry Wallace was characterized as a "plain, everyday dope" here by Walter Reuther, CIO union leader. Reuther, president of the International Union of Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, was addressing members of the Memphis local. "Henry Wallace," he said, "is being used by persons whose interests lie outside the United States. He is doing the greatest service possible to the enemies of labor."
