

Soviet Knows How To Make A-Bomb But Not Yet Able

WASHINGTON, April 13—(AP)—Defense Secretary Forrestal told congress yesterday that Russia knows how to make the atomic bomb but is not yet able to do so.

Forrestal's admission came up in questioning before the House Armed Services Committee which is considering a bill to draft men 19 through 25 years of age.

After his testimony, Forrestal was asked by reporters how he is certain that Russia does not have an atomic bomb.

"I would not care to amplify that," he said. "I will have to let that stand."

Forrestal had told the committee: "I am informed by Dr. (Vannevar) Bush that the scientific knowledge and technical procedures involved in the manufacture of the atomic bomb are known to Russia, but the industrial capacity...

Rep. Herbert (D-La) interrupted to ask: "We have no way of knowing when they will acquire the capacity (to make the bomb)?"

"That's right," Forrestal replied.

Several times Forrestal refused to describe present international conditions as critical.

Dr. Vannevar Bush is chairman of the search development board.

Earlier Secretary Forrestal told the committee that pushbutton war is still an illusion and that total warfare of today rests upon manpower.

Urging prompt action on draft and universal military training bill, Forrestal testified:

"Not in our lifetime or in that of the next generation do I foresee the time when a strong military potential will not be needed to back up our diplomacy."

One Killed as Auto Plunges Into Shelter

Five-year-old Keenan Shoemaker was killed and 12 other children injured when an automobile driven by Lt. Comdr. Harold C. Mansford of Oakland Naval Air Station skidded on wet pavement and smashed into this flimsy wooden bus stop shelter at Alameda, Calif. Witnesses said the youngsters were huddled together under the shelter to avoid a light rain. Mansford was being held by civilian authorities for investigation.
