now.

UNFORTUNATELY, in these days, we are SUSPICIOUS. We are suspicious of NEARLY EVERYTHING. We haven't much confidence in anything. That is probably our greatest handicap at this present critical moment in world affairs.

So, naturally enough, this thought occurs to us:

"Aha! People are selling their bonds so fast that a big new drive has to be put on to get the money to buy 'em up as fast as they are thrown on the market."

YOU'D be surprised. Even without drives, just in the natural course of events, people have been buying bonds faster than they have been selling them.

Let's take a look at the state of Oregon.

In 1947, in all of Oregon, total bond sales were $60,625,925. Total bond redemptions in Oregon in 1947 were only $55,334,321. That is to say, in 1947, with no drives, no ballyhoo, no whoop-hurrah, the people of Oregon bought over five million dollars MORE bonds than they sold.

And remember this: In 1947, people wanted to use their bond savings to buy a lot of things they had been saving up for. But, in spite of this natural and normal desire, they bought more bonds than they sold.

THAT represents CONFIDENCE. Confidence arises out of the fact that government bonds have been kept salable at par.

We want to RETAIN that confidence. We WILL retain it as long as people go on buying bonds with their spare cash.

ONE other fact: At the end of 1947, there were outstanding in Oregon bonds to the amount of $502,982,000—an average of $1,224 per family. The annual INTEREST on these bonds amounts to $13,907,000. That's a tidy little sum to be coming into Oregon every year to be SPENT. (One of the first principles of sound business, you know, is that you can SPEND THE INTEREST.)

Let's not fool ourselves, however. The interest on government bonds is offset by the taxes out of which bond interest and redemption are paid. Still, if Oregon DIDN'T have bonds and other states DID, we'd be out just that much—for we'd still have to pay taxes for interest and redemption.

FUNDAMENTALLY, of course, these Security bonds which we're now being asked to buy are refunding bonds. Among other things, they'll be used to take bonds out of the commercial banks, where according to good business rules they shouldn't be, and put into the hands of the people, where they should be. That's too big a question to be gone into here, but it's TRUE.

This is DOUBLY TRUE: If you go on buying bonds with your spare cash, you'll be far better off PERSONALLY than if you don't.

Safety Council Will Complete Organization

A meeting to complete the organization of the Roseburg Safety Council is called for 8 p. m. today in the City Hall council chambers, reports Miss Mavis Hasbarger, who last Thursday was selected as county chairman of the program.

FACT-FINDING STUDY

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Residents of the Riverside-Edenbower community are making a most commendable approach to the problem of relieving unsanitary conditions. Engineers have been employed to direct preliminary studies, already well advanced. A census has been made to determine the number of homes as well as the number of people residing in the area. Tentative routes for sanitary sewer lines have been engineered. Additional information is being collected as rapidly as possible by a committee of civic-minded residents.

Particularly interesting is the general spirit of cooperation. Money was needed for the fact-finding activity, and the committee conducted a canvass of business operations in the area. Few persons rejected the request for financial contributions.

The committee is not formulating any policy and probably will make no recommendations. It has been organized strictly to determine facts. It has consulted with sanitary engineers to learn the necessity for sewer installations and whether an emergency exists. On this score the committee has positive data. The situation is acute.

Engineers were employed to make preliminary studies of a sewage system, to determine the size and cost of a disposal plant adequate to meet immediate needs of the area, to study prospective future requirements, etc.

When all the facts are at hand, including estimates of the cost of sewer and drainage installations, public meetings will be held to determine the course of action.

Three major plans are under consideration. One is to form a drainage district. Oregon law authorizes formation of such districts which may float bond issues to finance construction of sanitary facilities. The chief point of determination in the district plan is whether the percentage of indebtedness will be in excess of that permitted by law. This will be known when the engineers have completed their estimates of cost.

The second plan is annexation to the City of Roseburg, which would give a larger base for the bond issue, as the city's credit could be used by the issuance of Bancroft bonds.

The third would be formation of a separate municipality, a remote possibility because the same indebtedness limitation pertaining to a drainage district would be imposed upon a municipal government, while the expense of municipal offices and services would be required in addition.

It is the purpose of the committee as presently constituted to leave the decision regarding policy to the residents following presentation of all the facts involved.

The committee, following a door-to-door census, has fixed the population of the community at 1,800. In addition several hundred children from other sections will be utilizing the newly constructed Riverside school. The rapid increase in construction of business and industrial buildings is adding to the emergency daily.

Valuation of the district is expected to approximate $1 million.

The census and valuation findings reveal an error in the opinions of many people regarding annexation. Some residents of suburban areas believe the municipality would benefit financially from annexation. Some of the even less informed believe the city is anxious to "grab" additional area because of benefits. Many city residents also believe annexation to be financially advisable. Naturally, annexation is desirable for many reasons which outweigh the financial consideration. But from the fiscal viewpoint the city would be the loser.

The City of Roseburg has a population estimated in excess of 7,000 persons and the assessed valuation will approximate $6,225,000, or $889 per capita. Riverside-Edenbower, on the other hand, has 1,800 population while the assessed valuation is $1 million or $563 per capita. Thus the same rate of levy will produce only two-thirds as much revenue per capita in the Edenbower-Riverside area as inside the City of Roseburg, yet the expense of municipal services is spread evenly and the city, as presently constituted would, in the event of annexation, be required to absorb the per capita difference.

The matter of annexation doubtless will be reconsidered at the forthcoming community meetings when a decision on sanitary installations is required. In the meantime, the committee in charge of the study is to be commended for its determination to exhaust the facts and place them impartially before the people directly concerned.

Hang on to your hats, kids . . . here we go. Here are the changes to be noted in regularly scheduled Sunday programs. Please note, too . . . KRNR will go on the air one hour earlier than usual on Sundays.

Padres Defeat Angels; Oakland Swamps Beavers

Standings table with columns for Team, W, L, Pct. Teams include San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Oakland, Sacramento, and Seattle.

By the Associated Press. Rain prevented two games in the Pacific Coast League last night and the leading San Francisco Seals, although idle, benefited by one that was played to move a full game ahead of second-place Los Angeles.

The Angels bowed to San Diego and Rescigno, 4 to 2. The former Hollywood hurler allowed only six hits, one a homer by Garriott in the third.

The big payoff blow was Gram's twelfth homer of the season. It came in the seventh off Schmidt. Altogether, the Padres collected 14 hits but had 14 left on bases.

Oakland went on its biggest hitting binge of the year, a 16-hit attack in beating Portland, 9-1. The Oaks smacked three Beaver pitchers while their mound men, Hayes, allowed only four Portland hits. One of them, by pinch hitter Smith in the second with two on base, scored the only Portland run.

Nine Football Games Listed On R.H.S. Schedule

Roseburg High will play nine football games next year, compared to seven last year, according to the schedule just completed and announced this week by Cecil H. Sherwood, director of athletics and football coach at the school.

The Indians will play in the Coast League with Coquille, Myrtle Point, Reedsport, Marshfield, North Bend and Grants Pass. Games with Medford, Cottage Grove and Ashland are also scheduled. The schedule is considered much "stiffer" than in previous years.

All the games will be played at night, except the game at Reedsport, which does not have field lights, and the Armistice Day game with Ashland at Roseburg.

The schedule follows: Sept. 17—Roseburg at Medford; Sept. 24—Coquille at Roseburg; Oct. 1—Myrtle Point at Roseburg; Oct. 8—Roseburg at Reedsport; Oct. 15—Marshfield at Roseburg; Oct. 22—Roseburg at Cottage Grove.

Oct. 29—Roseburg at North Bend; Nov. 5—Roseburg at Grants Pass; Nov. 11—Ashland at Roseburg.

Active Club Will Aid Local Groups

The Roseburg Active Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have agreed to consolidate their efforts in sponsoring the Meeker Carnival which will appear in the city the week of Aug. 17. It was announced at the Active Club dinner meeting Wednesday night at Carl's Haven.

Other business included furthering of the plans to entertain the Camp Fire Girls troop, sponsored by the Active Club, at a skating party at Winchester the evening of Friday, April 30. Winners will be served.

The club voted a donation of $40 plus individual contributions toward a fund being raised to send the Drum and Bugle Corps, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, to Portland for the Rose Festival.

As this was the monthly social night, business was held to a minimum. Jim Loomis was in charge of entertainment.

Battleship Texas Given To Her Namesake State

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP)—The battleship Texas, veteran of two world wars, has been presented to the state of Texas by the U. S. Navy.

Thousands of Texans jammed the San Jacinto battleground to see the Texas decommissioned from the U. S. Navy and accepted as the flagship of the Texas Navy. It will remain moored as a memorial to Texas service men.

Only a few paces from the permanent mooring is the towering San Jacinto monument marking the battlefield where a small group of Texans routed Mexican General Santa Anna's army 112 years ago to win their independence.

Uncle, Nephew Wound Each Other in Fight

GRANTS PASS, Ore., April 22.—(AP)—Travis A. Million, 60, and his nephew, Harry A. Shuster, 27, are in Josephine General Hospital here with bullet wounds sustained in a gun battle early yesterday in the residence in which they and their wives share.

Chief of Police Carl Dallas said an argument over a revolver in Shuster's possession caused Million, who reportedly had been drinking, to open fire with another weapon. Shuster was shot through the shoulder. He returned the fire and wounded Million in the left side.

Both men are expected to recover.

PARTY AT JUNIOR HIGH Eighth graders at Roseburg Junior High School gave Friday party in the school gym Friday from 7:30 to 10 p. m. This is the third in a series of class parties. The seventh and ninth grades have already held their social evenings.

Lamb Sale Price Sets Record in Madras Area

MADRAS, Ore., April 22.—(AP)—Leo Hahn, owner and manager of the Pineville Land and Livestock Company, said here yesterday he had just contracted for sale of 3800 lambs of the 1948 crop at $25 a hundred pounds. The price is a record in this area.

He did not give the names of the buyers, but said the ewes—pureblood Ramboulllets—would go to sheep men in the upper Sacramento Valley and the wethers to feeders.

Cardinals Show Pennant Form In Season's Start

By JOE REICHLER (Associated Press Sports Writer) This is definitely a new year for Eddie Dyer and his St. Louis Cardinals.

Just a year ago today, Dyer's Redbirds were in the midst of one of their worst early season slumps.

But the picture is much brighter this year—thanks to some splendid pitching by Murry Dickson and George Munger.

Dickson gave up 10 hits in Tuesday's opener, but wound up with a 4-0 shutout. Munger allowed only five yesterday and registered a 5-2 victory over the same old Cincinnati Reds. The two triumphs shoved the Cards into a first place tie with the Philadelphia Phils.

The Phillies made it two in a row over the Boston Braves, taking yesterday's game 4-3 in 13 innings.

At the polo grounds the Giants flattened the Dodgers, 9-5, in one of the weirdest games in years. Five Brooklyn hurriers issued 13 free passes and gave up 11 hits, including two home runs.

The Giant's pitching wasn't much better. Two of them also allowed 11 hits between them, including three home runs, but walked only four men.

Bases on balls by Main forced in two Chicago runs in the ninth to help the Cubs defeat the Pirates in Pittsburgh, 6-3.

Bad pitching continued to plague the Yankees. The Washington Senators pounced upon Raschi for five runs in the third inning and whipped the world champions 6-3, in the Capital City.

Detroit made it two in a row over the White Sox in Chicago, winning 4-3 and tying the Philadelphia Athletics for first place in the American League.

Candidate Flagg Prefers Back Shop Of Newspaper

The majority of candidates engaged in a political campaign make one of their first visits in a community at the newspaper office. Most are content to confine their visits to the "front office"—a brief chat with the editors and reporters to be sure they get news mention.

An exception, however, is George H. Flagg, republican candidate for the nomination to the office of secretary of state who, in visiting the News-Review Wednesday, spent his time principally in the "back shop."

The son of a pioneer printer and publisher, Flagg followed printing for a number of years and still carries his withdrawal card from the I.T.U. He left the printing trade to work for nine years as a deputy in the Secretary of State's office, and since 1943 held the office of Public Utilities Commissioner, resigning recently to enter the present campaign.

He is making a final swing into Southern Oregon, after thoroughly canvassing Eastern Oregon, and will finish the campaign in the upper Willamette Valley.

Two Women Jailed On Infant Traffic Charge

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—(AP)—Two middle-aged women were in jail today, booked on suspicion of buying babies from unwed mothers for $200 each and selling them to married couples for as much as $1,200.

Mrs. Marie Chaplin, 51, was arrested as she left the Glendale Community Hospital. Later authorities booked Mrs. Idabel Brucker, 53, her cousin, of Glendale.

Naval Academy Aspirants Should Contact Cordon

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—Senator Guy Cordon (R.-Ore.) would like Oregon young men who wish to enter the United States Naval Academy next year to let him know about it as soon as possible. The senator has two vacancies to fill at the academy in 1949. A civil service examination will determine the successful applicants. A candidate must be between 17 and 21 years old unless he has served a year in the armed forces when he may be as old as 23.
