

Life Experiences Told by Members Of Toastmasters

The flavor of "the wild West" is retained in the Black Hills of South Dakota, where businessmen wear Stetson hats and cowboy boots. An interesting commentary on this section of the country was given by Al Clute in a speech at the Roseburg Toastmasters Club Tuesday night.

Two of the highest peaks in the United States east of the Rockies—Harney Peak and Terry Peak, both higher than 7,000 feet—are located in the Black Hills. Harney Peak is a pure granite crag, Clute said.

He praised the work of South Dakota's State Game and Fish Department, which is "untouched by politics." He described their method of permitting limited seasons on deer, when it is determined that the amount of foliage on trees and bushes will not support the number of deer in certain sections, and of other game and fish conservation measures.

Clute declared that "South Dakota is a hard place to beat. It takes Oregon to do it!"

Other speakers included Leroy Inman, who told of his early life in the McKenzie Valley, experience in the Army, and career as a newspaperman. On his return from Army service in Hawaii in 1940, Inman was married and now has three children. He worked on newspapers at Lebanon, Coos Bay, and Springfield, prior to coming to Roseburg.

Don Gum told of his early life spent near Eugene. He trained to become an electrician under his older brother and spent the war years at the Bremerton, Wash., Navy Yard. Due to reasons of climate and health he moved his family to Roseburg, where he is conducting his own electrical business.

Benton O. Wilson, Roseburg newcomer, told his audience he was born in Missouri, moved with his family to Kansas, eventually to Southern California, where he received his schooling. Enlisting in the Marine Corps during the war, he served in the Pacific Theater and in China. Following his discharge, he followed his family to Grants Pass and to Roseburg, where he sells insurance.

Committees for the Toastmasters Club were announced as follows: Program, Carl Permin and Homer Iredale; outside activities, Allen Clute, Harold Horn and Ross Newcomb; educational, Bob Harvie, Don Gum, C. O. Slabaugh and John Amacher; membership and attendance, Sam Reed, Bob Gladwell and Pete Serafin; inter-club activities, Jim Turk, Jerome Sheldon and Ben Wilson; social and reception, Glen Clute, Leroy Inman, John Patton and Harrison Winston.

Winston Gives Advice To Improvement Seekers

Ideas for the "betterment of Roseburg" might be furthered by a personal appearance before the City Council. That was the advice of City Councilman Harrison Winston, who invited members of the Roseburg Toastmasters Club to tell how Roseburg can be improved, in their one-minute "table topics" speeches. Winston served as "table topics" chairman.

"There will be public rest rooms in Roseburg in a very short time," he said, in answer to a criticism that the city lacks public rest facilities. "Other ideas brought up here tonight have been discussed by the City Council," he added.

"Any ideas you might have for betterment of Roseburg might be furthered by a personal appearance before the City Council," he said. He cited the example of city street signs, which were posted after several groups had appeared before the council to complain of the lack of signs, 11 to two years ago.

ROSEBURG GOLFERS WIN

Roseburg Country Club golfers defeated the Coos Bay Country Club 25-man team Sunday at the local club, 301 to 381. Low scores of 78 were turned in by Dick Hansen and Sonny Brown both of Coos Bay. Hansen is Southern Oregon amateur champion.

Foreign Aid On 'Hard Boiled' Plan Urged by Dewey

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

EN ROUTE THROUGH OREGON WITH DEWEY, May 4—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today called for a "hard boiled" foreign aid policy and moral leadership by the United States in establishment of American foreign policy throughout the non-Soviet world.

Carrying his Oregon primary campaign on a crowded schedule through the Willamette Valley of Western Oregon, Dewey disclosed briefly what will probably be his major talk on foreign policy Wednesday night at Eugene. Motoring south from Portland, in the early morning he told a Republican breakfast gathering at West Linn that this country must "let the world know we are not going to continue to do business with Soviet Russia as we have in the past."

The United States must become strong, he said. The nation must have more than what he said were only two and a half divisions of troops in continental United States.

Wisdom Demanded

"Let's use our Marshall Plan money like hard-headed Americans instead of like soft-headed saps," he said.

"I would get hard boiled and go farther. I would insist that those who are getting our money stand together in economic unity instead of standing divided."

American leadership can be imperiled, he said. "If we lose our moral leadership."

"Only one thing may destroy this. And that is if we follow this loose and demagogic appeal to outlaw Communism and destroy the Bill of Rights."

"In America we prosecute people for what they do, not for what they think.

"There never was a more important issue than this for the conscience and competence of the American people."

Allowances Hiked For Vets in Job Training

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—President Truman signed yesterday legislation raising "ceilings" for on-the-job trainees under the GI bill.

The measure will have the effect of boosting monthly subsistence allowance checks for many of the 479,000 veterans in job-training establishments.

Ceilings have been $175 and $200 for a veteran with no dependents and one or more dependents, respectively.

The new ceilings are $210 (with no dependents), $275 (with one) and $300 (with two or more).

This means a single veteran is reduced training on the job may in most cases earn up to $145 a month and still draw the full $65 government-paid subsistence allowance. (Heretofore the allowance was cut back as soon as earnings passed $110 a month.)

Veterans with dependents may earn correspondingly more in wages before their $90 allowance is reduced.
