By SHERMAN PLIMPTON

For years men have been trying to find some way to harness the sun's power, especially after receiving the light and heat bills at the end of the month. Now a Japanese inventor has dreamed up a stove that uses a series of 18 mirrors to catch and reflect the sun's rays in such a way that his stove gets hotter than a 600-watt electric heater. That's hot news if I ever heard it! With this new mirrored stove, the housewife will not only be able to have hubby's steak ready, but she'll be able to comb her curls and get her make-up on straight before he opens the door. And on cloudy days you can always eat out.

And speaking of cloudy days—the Boy Scouts' paper drive is under way. If it rains (hve hve) place the bundles on your porch where they can be spotted by the collectors but still out of the damp. This is a golden opportunity for you to cooperate with W. H. Schofield and the Scouts and clean your attic at the same time—good riddance to old rubbish.

We heard the other day that our inclement weather isn't indicative of a late spring—it's a late fall.

In London a young woman left her job in a perfume shop because the smell "got her down." She returned to pig farming. Apparently she likes ham hocks better than hollyhocks. And if you like service better than promises, come see us at CORKUM MOTORS, Inc., 14 North Rose! Before you take that vacation trip, let our DeSoto-Plymouth experts give you a car a thorough Tune-Up. We have that famous, precision SUN Tune-Up Equipment that permits accurate analyzing of your engine, eliminates "guess-work"! Phone: 408.
