

SHOPPING THE TOWN

with Bernice

Something should be done about putting more hours into the day. Election excitement, graduation fast approaching and the inevitable June weddings to prepare for fill 24 hours to overflowing. It was even hard to squeeze out a few minutes for shopping this week.

We've been having excellent "suit" weather the past month. And if you want to give your suit a lift nothing will do it better than a sparkling, snowy white blouse. EXCEL DRESS SHOPPE has racks of new blouses from which you can choose... tailored, frilly or plain... long, short or cap sleeves. At EXCEL you can find a blouse to double the enjoyment of your suit. Blouses are proven wardrobe stretchers and budget savers.

I wonder if you've been neglecting the Junior High graduates as you think of graduation presents. ASHCRAFT JEWELERS have a selection of medium price watches with which you can remember your favorite Junior Hi grad. A gift out of the ordinary is the Evan compact which comes packaged in a clever black plastic case shaped like a mortar board. These plastic cases are two faced—use them as jewel boxes 'cause they're lined with black velvet. Remember ASHCRAFT for gifts in jewelry.

If you possibly have a few hours to fill up... there is some new fiction at THE BEEHIVE to put on your "must" list. Fans of Henry Bellaman who read "King's Row" will be interested in the recently finished book "Paris Mitchell of King's Row" by Katherine and Henry Bellaman. "Son of the Moon" by Joseph George Hitrech is a novel of modern India. "Son of the Moon" concerns a young man of high caste who returns to his native land with Western ideas that meet strong opposition. For lovers of historical novels there is the new F. Van Wyck Mason book "Eagle in the Sky" set in the early days of the War for Independence in the 18th century.

Prepare for the promised sunny weather by getting your photographic equipment now. J. V. SPORTING GOODS carry Kodak, Universal and Revere cameras and accessories. Kodachrome and Kodachrome film are available as well as a complete size range of Verichrome and Super-XX. Hard to find flash bulbs are now in stock in several sizes. Protect your present camera with a rugged leather case from J. V.... any of this give you an idea for that yet-to-buy graduation gift?

Jack Josse of JOSSE'S FURNITURE STORE wants to remind all girl graduates of the party to be held Saturday, May 22, in Roseburg. Party starts promptly at 1:45 P. M. and will be broadcast as in other years. A program has been planned including refreshments, music and a free miniature Lane Cedar Chest to every girl grad. Don't worry about what to wear... casual clothes will be in order. Come early!

Have a weakness for agate rings? ... and who hasn't in Oregon... Then take a look-see in at LESTER'S. Genuine agate rings for as low as 4.80 and three or four different shapes. If you browse about, the turquoise rings are sure to catch your eye. Try on one of the large oblong shaped turquoise and see how striking it looks. You'll be reluctant to take it off. LESTER'S have scores of narrow Indian silver bracelets set with turquoise and for as low as 1.50. Two or three of these narrow bracelets would delight any girl grad.

Summer is coming in spite of the weatherman, and with summer and cotton dresses you'll be wanting some white shoes. GOLDIE'S BOOTERIE has a window brimming full of clever, youthful styles for all ages. Baby-dall whites, strap sandals in low and high heels; suede, buckskin and smooth kid. (Fashion forecast from Portland: Don't be surprised to see gold sandals worn all 'round the clock). For summer

Scots Frown On Royalty's Sunday Acts

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
From the sturdy land of highlands and purple heather, where folk r-roll their r's and r-re-member the Sabbath, comes word that the Scottish Association of the Lord's Day Observance Society has sent Prime Minister Attlee a telegram recording in part:

"We feel constrained to express our profound regret that the itinerary arranged for their royal highnesses, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh (Prince Philip), while on their official visit to Paris, included attendance at racing, theatre and night club dancing during the Lord's Day."

"Too strong mustard? Well whether we agree with this rebuke, or feel that it's a wee bit austere, there are many people who will find it encouraging to encounter such a staunch stand for religion, especially in the face of the world-wide Communist drive to deprive humanity of a God.

Of course, probably nobody claims that the charming lady, who one day likely will be queen, and her husband committed any terrible sin by their activities on Sunday. However, members of the royal family do have a mighty influence on the habits of the rank and file, and must expect criticism at times. For royalty isn't immune from the afflictions of ordinary man, as witness that Princess Margaret Rose, sister of the heiress presumptive to the throne, is suffering with measles.

Scots Deeply Religious
The Scots as a whole are intensely religious, as I have observed during many visits to the land of my paternal ancestors. The Sabbath is a day for worship and contemplation. Scots who believe in the old time religion have no place for sports or recreation on Sunday.

Why, the average Scot won't indulge in golf on Sunday, though he loves the game so much that he uses a golf club for a cane so that he always will be ready for play. Many even frown on whistling as too frivolous.

I used to fish for trout in Scotland, and one of the first rules I ran up against was that there was no fishing on the Sabbath. I recall one Cambridge student who sneaked out on a Sunday and did a bit of fishing. He was ostracized by all the guides at his headquarters until he finally begged forgiveness and promised never to do it again.

But that religious austerity isn't confined to Scotland. You find the same things in parts of England.

And we don't have to go so far afield as the British Isles to find religious zeal. There's plenty of it right here in the United States—throughout most of the world, for that matter. Even those who aren't intensely religious believe in the Supreme Being and the hereafter.

Pilot Blamed in Crash That Killed Gov. Snell

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board said today an air crash in which Gov. Earl Snell of Oregon was killed last Oct. 28 probably resulted from the pilot's inability to fly "blind."

The CAB said its inquiry showed the small plane, en route from Klamath Falls to Adel, Ore., flew into a heavy rain which limited visibility. The pilot, Clifford W. Hoague, lacked "training and experience required to safely control the airplane without reference to the ground," the board said.

All four persons aboard the plane were killed, including Robert S. Farrell, Oregon secretary of state, and Marshall E. Cornett, president of the state senate.

The pilot had flown 5,900 hours. His record showed five previous accidents and two penalties for violating rules.

Entries Lag For County Track Meet

Although Tuesday was the deadline for receiving entries in the Roseburg Benchwarmers Club county school track meet Saturday on Finlay Field, the meet officials will do everything possible to accommodate late entries. Hod Turner, chairman in charge, announced.

To date the response from the county grade schools outside Roseburg has been practically nil. Only Gardiner on the coast and possibly Wilbur have notified they will be entries out of 20 schools to whom invitations were mailed early last week said Turner.

Turner said he hoped there had been no misunderstanding, as the Benchwarmers had acted in good faith in an effort to provide competition for the small pupils in the sixth grade or younger who normally have little opportunity to participate in sports events.

The track meet, nevertheless, he said, will go ahead as scheduled Saturday, except that there will be no preliminaries for the dash events originally scheduled to be run off at 10 a.m. The meet will start at 1 p.m., and entries should be on hand early enough to be listed.

Schools who have not already contacted Turner should do so at Roseburg Junior High School as quickly as possible, so that entries may be made.

Events Listed
The following events will be run off: Dashes—35-yard, 50-yard, and 75-yard; shuttle relay—300-yard (each contestant to run 75 yards); relay—240 yards (each contestant to run 60 yards); field events—shot-put, running broad jump, high jump, football throw and baseball throw for distance.

Any boy in the sixth grade or under is eligible to compete. No contestant may enter more than three events besides the relay. Ribbons will be given for first, second and third places and a suitable trophy for the team winning the most points will be given by the Benchwarmers.

The shuttle relay will be run in front of the grandstand. First boy will carry the baton to the second boy who will bring it back to the starting place and give it to the third boy.

Competent officials and judges will rule the meet. No admission will be charged. Participants are invited to bring their family and picnic lunch and "enjoy yourselves with us," the Benchwarmers announcement stated. "We are trying to foster athletics for the younger kids. Come out and help produce some future champions."

Rose, Fullerton, Benson, and Edenbower schools of Roseburg will have entries.

No Need For Trainee To Ask for Hike

Pacific Northwest veterans are urged by the Veterans Administration not to write or contact VA offices asking how to qualify for increased G. I. subsistence benefits under recent laws changing subsistence rate, income ceilings and dependency requirements.

Veteran trainees eligible for more VA assistance under the newly-enacted law will automatically receive higher pay rates. Present VA records already contain most information needed for authorizing the pay boosts.

When additional information is required, veterans will receive from the VA a form to fill out and return promptly so that pay adjustments may be made. All G. I. trainees will also receive with their May subsistence checks a printed explanation of the new wage subsistence ceiling law and subsistence pay rate changes.

Under Public Law 512, just signed by the President, the ceiling was raised on the amount G. I. trainees without dependents may earn in wages plus subsistence, from $175 to $210 monthly. Veterans with one dependent may now have a combined monthly earned income plus subsistence of $270 and those with two or more dependents $290. The previous ceiling was $200.

Veterans now in training will receive payments retroactive to April 1 if they return necessary forms to the VA before September 1, 1948. The VA warned, however that subsistence payments at the new rates should not be expected before July 1 and possibly not until August 1.

Subsistence pay rates of veterans training on-the-job remain at $65 monthly for single veterans and $90 for those with dependents. The higher subsistence rates recently granted full and part-time college students ($75 without dependents, $105 with one dependent, $120 with two or more dependents) do not apply to job trainees.
