Truck Tires Catch Fire, Draw Fire Department

Two rear tires of a logging truck operated by Harold Williams caught fire on the North Umpqua Road late yesterday afternoon. The fire was brought to a stop on E. 2nd Ave. S., east of the city, and the fire was extinguished by the Roseburg Fire Department. Williams, employed by the Staley Transport Co. and hauling from Thunder Mountain, said an inside rear tire became flat and the resultant friction caused the fire. Williams became aware of the blaze and halted the truck about 4:45, when the Fire Department was called.

Credit Assn. Plans Retirement of Federal Capital

Advisory committee members of the Southern Oregon Production Credit Association branch of the Industrial Credit Association voted in a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Wednesday night to attempt to sell enough preferred A stock to retire half of the government capital, making the association entirely farmer owned, reported Arthur M. Boner, secretary-treasurer and manager, with offices in Medford. The principal purpose of last night's meeting was to determine this issue and the members voted approval to attempt to raise the required capital to purchase the government's remaining share of $155,000. When organized, the association had $300,000 of government investment, but nearly half of this has been paid off, and the original plan was to retire all of the government's portion as soon as possible. About 20 members representing all of Douglas County, were in attendance. Meetings are held at intervals, said Boner, to acquaint the members with work of the association and to bring them up to date on progress and to add new members. The association covers five counties, with main offices in Medford, and branch offices in Roseburg, Coquille and Grants Pass. Mrs. Jesse Waggoner is in charge of the Roseburg office in the Medical Arts Building. J. E. Young, Roseburg, is association president. Boner stated that in Douglas County alone 107 farms are using the service. During the first six months this year the association has loaned in the five counties over $1,000,000 to farmers and stock raisers. In Douglas County during the first six months loan total $480,751, compared with a total loaned in the county for all of last year of $485,982, said Boner.

Reedsport Tax Measure Carries By Slim Margin

By FR'D M. WRIGHT News-Review Correspondent
REEDSPORT — A $25,000 tax measure to finance construction of a community center building was approved by the voters here 129 to 108, in a special election Tuesday. The election was a spirited affair. The local newspaper editor was against the measure and circulated a special edition of the paper opposing it. Mayor John Skaaluren, who initiated the special election, rallied the employees and wives of the E. K. Wood Lumber Co. in support of the measure and the late balloting swung the election by a close margin. The city will continue its present tax level by this vote and in two years expects to raise the necessary $25,000. If the measure had lost, the city would have been able to reduce its tax levy by $12,500. This is because the necessary funds for a new city hall have been raised. Opposition to the community hall proposal was based chiefly on the grounds that the mayor, who is chairman of a committee for building a new hospital in Reedsport, has not pushed that project to a close. The hospital committee has selected a site, which has been donated by the city, and several thousands of dollars have been contributed to the hospital fund by local citizens. Yet the mayor's committee has not gone ahead. The hospital plans have been prepared. The balance of the funds necessary for completion of the hospital could be easily raised. Many of the people voting at this week's election asked for a ballot to vote on the hospital issue, an indication they were willing to vote an extra tax. The mayor's recent announcement that he will not be a candidate for reelection is believed in many quarters here to be a "wise move" on his part.

Mrs. Roy Byrd, chairman of the local committee on organization, and Mrs. Don Gum, Jay-Cettes president, sponsoring the movement, conducted the meeting. They will continue in an advisory capacity. The following committees were appointed: Finance, Mrs. James Joyce, Mrs. Verne Kelly and Ralph Turner; program, Mrs. William W. Kellog, Mrs. Joe Hritz, Mrs. Roy W. Barnhardt and Mrs. W. E. Ott, Jr.; publicity and public relations, Leroy Inman, Rev. Kenneth Knox, Mrs. Jeff Jeffries, Miss Maxine Miller and Mrs. Don Wilson; policies and practices, Mrs. Wayne Crooch, Mrs. Bob Phillips, Mrs. L. H. Pfaff, Mrs. Murray Smith and Mrs. Charles Williamson. Other committees will be announced. The fourth Thursday of each month was chosen as regular meeting nights, the next meeting to be August 26. It was reported that one Girl Scout troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Vern Kelly, has been organized and registered in the national organization, and that three more troops have been organized and will soon be registered. A total of 35 girls are included in the four troops. Leaders of the other troops are Mrs. Don Wilson, Mrs. Roy W. Barnhardt and Mrs. Jeff Jeffries. A Girl Scout investiture service is scheduled for next Monday at 1 p.m. at Umpqua Park. Four local girls are planning to attend the Medford Scout camp, beginning July 25.
