Friend (?) Supplies Hook Sans Barb; Big Ones Depart

Capt. O. L. Benedict, visiting here from Sonoma, Calif., is justly complaining about the big ones that got away, and he has his suspicions of the person who might be responsible for his ill fishing luck.

Capt. Benedict isn't mentioning any names, but states he was fishing Sunday with Bob Stanleigh on the North Umpqua. Stanleigh is formerly from Sonoma, and they are fellow Kiwanians. Knowing full well what sort of trick one Kiwanian might pull on another, Capt. Benedict is putting two and two together.

The gist of the affair is that, after losing his sixth trout, a real "granddaddy," Capt. Benedict inspected his hook. There was no barb on his number 8 bucktail fly hook, supplied by his fishing partner.

The Captain swore he was through with fishing, at least for the day. He acknowledged, however, he might try his luck again shortly.

Capt. Benedict has been visiting here the last couple of weeks and will be joined next week by his wife. Except for his fishing experience, he stated that he has a great deal of respect for Oregon and its rivers. The stream which flows in the winter past his California ranch in the "Valley of the Moon" at Sonoma is non-existent in the summer, he said. A retired Army captain, Benedict resigned recently as postmaster at Sonoma. He is taking life easy for a while, he said.

size, we want to keep it that way," Baird said.

"One of the best avenues towards moral and social responsibility is organized activity for young people. The kids deserve such a center here and I, personally, will do all I can to assist in the current drive for funds on behalf of the Salvation Army."

Flegel, chairman of the building fund, stated that first day receipts were unusually heavy and noted with considerable interest that several checks were received from out of town.

One of the first large checks to be received at the building fund headquarters was one for $500 from a retired Salvation Army officer resident in Douglas county. Asking that his name be withheld, he stated the check was his "tith" towards the fund which seeks to raise $25,000 for a badly needed youth center and chapel can be constructed on the new Salvation Army property at 1005 N. Winchester Street.

Mrs. Kidder is a sister of Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. McGinnis and Thomas Wahoviak. This was the first time the family had been together since before World War II. The McGinnis family will visit at points north and return here for another visit soon with the Kidders. During the visitors' stay, they enjoyed a few days on the North Umpqua.

DAILY DEVOTIONAL DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

The greatest tragedy of life is not to do evil but to miss the opportunity of doing good. Life is like the Jericho road: It is full of perils. Each of us travel the road and each is beset by its dangers and temptations. How often on the roadway of life we are tempted to pass by those in need. This temptation may root in our fears. We may feel the urge to play the part of the good Samaritan, and yet be tempted by indifference to pass on, saying, it is too much trouble. It may be a long time since we were tempted to commit an open evil deed, but most of us, though urged by the spirit within to be better than we are, have all too often yielded to the temptation to let pride, complacency, and self-satisfaction keep us from doing the good we know we ought to do. The good Samaritan had compassion. May we too, have compassion and yield to that inner urge to make our lives a source of helpfulness and blessing, as we walk the Jericho road of life. Amen.

Spend Two Days Here—A. C. Barnekoff, representative of Westcoast Printing and Binding Company, Portland, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Roseburg on business.

Return Tuesday—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis and daughter, Glenna, and son, David, returned to their home in Roseburg Tuesday, following a three-day stay in Portland attending to business and visiting friends. Mr. Davis is manager of the Western Auto Supply Store in Roseburg.

Visit at Medford—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Smith of Roseburg spent Sunday visiting in Medford, Mrs. Smith and children and Mrs. Margaret Clark and children spent a few days last week at the coast, vacationing.

Back from Vacation—Miss Elizabeth Nolting, field director of Red Cross service in Veterans Hospitals, has returned to the Roseburg Veterans Hospital, following a week's vacation trip. She was met in Seattle by Mrs. Horace G. White, Jr., and Mrs. Phillip Turner of Washington, D. C., and Miss Emily Stamm, of New York City, who accompanied her on a trip to Victoria, B. C., Roseburg and Crater Lake. The visitors have left for San Francisco and will return east via the southern route.

Club to Picnic Sunday—The Business and Professional Women's Club will honor Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Oregon Mother of 1948, at a 5:30 o'clock picnic Sunday, August 1, at the Winchester picnic grounds. Members having cars and those desiring transportation are asked to meet at the Hotel Umpqua at 5 p.m., or call Mrs. Gladys Foley at 809. Members, their husbands and invited guests are asked to attend and are requested to bring a covered dish or salad, sandwiches and their own table service. Mrs. Golda Nickell and Mrs. Gladys Foley are general chairmen of the picnic.

Oregon historians say California's big gold rush in 1849 was caused by the gold discovery at Colma in 1848 by two Oregonians, Charles Bennett and James Marshall, who went south from Oregon to help build Captain Sutter's historic mill. Bennett, whose epitaph gives him credit for the gold discovery, is buried at Salem, Ore.
