

Report Details Activities At Bluebirds' Camp

News from counselors in charge of the Bluebird camp session, entitled "Oh Susannah," indicates that the 46 girls are having fun and new experiences daily. Camp will come to a close Sunday at 2 o'clock, at which time parents may call for their children at Camp Tye.

Several counselors sent in a series of news notes entitled "Tye Tattle," newsy happenings during the Bluebird session of interest to parents and friends.

Wednesday's items included: "Miss Millie's handicraft table was the popular place for anyone, including counselors, with free time. Classes are making clay scenes, portraying the four seasons. The girls are so interested they are working at them every minute."

"At dinner we entertained Dr. E. J. Wainwright and Claude Baker from the health office. Excitement ran high during the dinner hour and reached its peak when a treasure hunt was announced. A treat of ice cream bars from Wm. Unruh arrived on the supply truck just in time to replace the marshmallow treasure."

"Gayle Groshong was serenaded during medical treatment on her sore leg and in responding to treatment and being a very good sport."

"Cabin 7 won on inspection and Carolyn Sue Jackson and Judy Moore very ably raised the flag."

Thursday's news follows: "Thursday was full of excitement, especially in the kitchen as Cookie and her helpers were preparing the banquet for evening."

"Basketry and braiding were started in handicraft classes and centerpieces for the banquet were completed including clay figures and dainty aluminum foil figures for placecards."

"During games period the girls planned their program and each cabin prepared a skit or song for the evening campfire. The program was very enjoyable."

"Banquet menu included turkey donated by James Conn, dressing and gravy, green beans donated by Mrs. H. S. Powell, celery and carrot sticks, buttered rolls, watermelon donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gladwell."

"Nature classes hiked to the neighboring farm and enjoyed among other things a horseback ride and watched the capers of a small colt.

"Cabin 4 won inspection and Marjorie Lester and Elsie Bridgers were chosen to raise the flag."

"The girls are becoming interested in carving and are searching the beach for driftwood. We expect some interesting articles turned out."

"Also today the girls learned a dance to the tune of "Oh, Susannah," in keeping with the theme of the session."

Troops Alerted After Election in Tennessee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—President Truman has a political pow-wow at the White House last night with present and former leaders of the Democratic Party's national organization.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, told reporters today that the "whole political situation" was gone over in "frank discussion."

Those attending included Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the vice presidential nominee; Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and five former national chairmen.

The former chairman were George White of Ohio, Robert E. Hannagan, Frank Walker, Homer S. Cummings and Edward J. Flynn.

Ross said all other living former chairmen, and James M. Cox of Ohio, 1920 presidential candidate, were invited but could not attend for various reasons.

Asked why James A. Farley did not attend, Ross said he understood Farley was on his way to Europe. About the only other party chairman of recent years who was not there is Cordell Hull, who is in very poor health.

Presumably, one purpose of the extraordinary confab was to talk over what kind of campaign should be waged.

Mr. Truman has made it clear that his own inclination is to keep hammering away at the record of what he calls at least the "second worst" Congress in history.

Most political leaders think that sooner or later Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, will be put into the position of having to defend that record.

Republican leaders in Congress believe Dewey is satisfied with their anti-inflation and housing program.

One of these leaders, who asked not to be quoted by name, said this belief grows out of what he called the fact that Dewey has not sent any word to the contrary.

county for the last five years embarked upon a program of replacing all small bridges, where culverts and fills can be substituted, and about 125 jobs of this nature have been performed.

The large bridges, he said, present a different problem. The cost of rebuilding them sufficiently strong to stand up under all conditions would run extremely high, and the work can be accomplished only over a period of several years.

Brown's truck was described as a "dual axle" type, and of the five logs carried, two of them were large ones.

Mother Hands Baby To Another Woman, Runs Off

WALLA WALLA, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A mother, whose two-year-old daughter was thrust into the arms of another woman last night, was being sought by Walla Walla County juvenile officers today.

Mrs. A. Newton, a resident of a migrant labor camp six miles south of here, told Sheriff A. A. Shick she was standing near the camp's administration building when an unidentified woman rushed out of the darkness.

"Here, you keep her," Mrs. Newton quoted the woman as saying.

Then, Shick was told, the other woman ran off. Mrs. Newton cared for the child overnight.

Dog Shuttles in Vain In Try to Reunite Couple

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Breezy did his best, but Actress Selene Walters got a divorce anyway.

The film player was granted a decree yesterday from Dr. Alfred G. Nuenergard on a charge of cruelty.

The couple, married here in 1946, had separated three times. After the last separation—Jan. 17—Superior Judge Fred Miller ordered them to occupy separate floors of their home.

Breezy, a French poodle who liked them both, trotted back and forth between floors, encouraging a reconciliation. He succeeded for a time but couldn't make it last.

Bride-to-be Victim Of Assault by Negro

CLEARWATER, Fla., Aug. 6.—(AP)—A prominent young bride-to-be was brutally beaten and raped by a Negro yesterday.

Police Chief Jefferson J. Elliott said the victim was attacked in a guest bungalow, located near the residence of her parents. She was alone in the bungalow which she planned to occupy after her marriage, two weeks hence.

Elliott said the young woman struggled with her attacker in an attempt to gain possession of a revolver she kept in a dresser drawer.

Chief Elliott said he feared mob violence if the rapist is captured and identified.

Wreckage Believed That Of Lost French Plane

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Flame-charred, splintered wreckage, found off the African coast in the South Atlantic, was believed today to have come from a giant French flying boat missing since Sunday with 32 persons aboard.

The wreckage, including airplane seats, was found by the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Campbell, whose commander told headquarters here there was "little doubt" it was the remains of the 73-ton, six-engine Air France Latécoere 631.

The mammoth craft was en route from Martinique to West Africa and was 1,300 miles off

Truman, Party Chieftains Mull Political Status

Needs of Swim Pool Considered

Dick Evans of San Francisco, safety service director of the American Red Cross of the Pacific Coast area, was in Roseburg Thursday, conferring with Russell Stephens, local executive secretary, and others connected with local Red Cross activities.

Evans was particularly interested in the program to provide trained swimming instructors and life guards for the Roseburg swimming pool, when it is ready for use. Stephens said probably nothing will be done in this regard until next year, as the season is late and no facilities for swimming instructions will be available until the pool is opened.

While the swimming pool is slated for completion by the end of this month, the dressing rooms, lockers and other facilities are not expected to be completed for use until next year.

Revised Housing Bill Approved by Senate of last midnight was lost on a five-to-five committee vote.

Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) told reporters he does not know whether the committee bill has the approval of Senate Republican policy leaders.

Tobey offered a motion in the committee to give Mr. Truman the stand-by price control and allocation powers which he asked. The proposal was voted down six to four.

Tobey said the entire House bill "falls pitifully short of being an effective program to control inflation."

The installment buying curb is a general authority to the federal reserve board to impose restrictions, which in wartime required a one-third down payment on such things as automobiles, stoves, home furnishings and appliances. The balance had to be paid off in from 15 to 18 months.

GOES TO CONFERENCE

Oliver W. Saul, Los Angeles High School teacher, visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cole, in Camas Valley, was a business visitor in Roseburg Friday. He reported that his son, who has been associated with the moral rearmament program, which has its world headquarters in Los Angeles, sailed Friday for Europe, where he will attend a conference at Gaux, Switzerland. An earlier conference was held at Riverside, Calif., said Saul.

COURT LEVIES FINES

Everett Eura Pruitt, arrested on a drunkenness and disorderly charge, forfeited $30 bail when he failed to appear in Municipal Court today, reported Judge Ira B. Riddle.

Traffic fines imposed included: Richard Alvin Kreofsky, Portland, basic rule violation, $14; Mary Dolores Leupe and Edna Faye Coalter, both of Roseburg, each fined $2 on non-stop offenses.

A-Bomb Project Head Shipped No Uranium to Soviet

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The man who headed America's wartime atomic bomb project says he never shipped any uranium to the Soviet Union.

Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, questioned yesterday about a congressman's statement that 1,300 pounds of uranium compound were shipped to Russia during the war, said:

"I did not ship it. As a retired Army officer it would not be proper for me to answer that question fully."

Groves's statement was made in a radio interview over WOR. Asked whether, if such uranium shipments were made, they were made without his knowledge, he said:

"That would be a fairly good assumption."

Rep. John McDowell (R-PA), chairman of a subcommittee of the house un-American activities committee, said in Washington yesterday the uranium shipments were made after "tremendous pressure" was put on the U. S. government.

House Told of Uranium Exported to Russians other testimony already gathered, "will prove the existence of a Communist spy ring which reached high into the government during the war."

Clark's refusal to turn over the FBI records on Remington was in line with an order from President Truman who denounced the congressional hearings yesterday as a "red herring" intended to divert public attention from what he calls the refusal of the Republican-controlled Congress to enact adequate anti-inflation legislation.

Remington, 30-year-old suspended Commerce Department official, was identified by Elizabeth T. Bentley as one of several government workers she says passed wartime information to her for a Communist espionage ring.

Probe to Continue

Although public hearings are being suspended, Ferguson said the senate group will continue to dig for facts on Remington and the entire government loyalty program at closed hearings and "by any legal means."

The House subcommittee went to unusual efforts to keep its activities from being known.

Even the names and numbers of the members were kept secret. It was set up late yesterday after an investigator hurried into a will word another key witness had been located.

Mundt predicted that as a result the spy ring case "will be cracked wide open" in public hearings next week. Hearings for the rest of this week were ruled out.

Ferguson's announcement that the senate group is ending public hearings was made in the committee's hearing room to reporters and to spectators drawn by anticipation of further hearings today.

He said the hearings "cannot proceed further at this time" because President Truman denies congress access to confidential records.

Ferguson went on to say the question of Remington's loyalty is incidental. He said the committee is trying to learn how well the government is guarding against employment of subversive people.

"Congress appropriated $11,000,000 for this loyalty program," Ferguson said. And, he declared, the lawmakers are determined to find out how the program is working.

President Truman told his news conference yesterday that he would not turn over the confidential data to either Senate or House investigations.

Mundt left the impression that the mystery witness turned up by the house group has had some sort of dealings with the Communist underground or spy network. But he wouldn't say so definitely.

He described the man as "a

Miss Roseburg Of 1948 Makes Good Contest Showing

Miss Joyce Sheffel, Miss Roseburg of 1948, made a very creditable showing at the Miss Oregon contest at Seaside, according to a report by Forrest Losee, at the Lions Club meeting Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Losee accompanied Miss Sheffel and her mother, Mrs. Louis Sheffel, to Seaside for the entire program.

Miss Sheffel, sponsored by the Roseburg Lions, will be a guest at next Thursday night's club meeting. She will discuss her trip and the contest. Eight millimeter movies, taken by Losee, if they arrive in time, will be shown.

Losee reported that Miss Sheffel placed second in the evening gown exhibition, that her singing number was well received, and that in all her showing in the contest received a very high rating.

While no place other than first was announced for the contest, Losee stated that in his opinion, shared with others in attendance, the Roseburg contestant was among the top five of 21 competitors. He said the selection of Miss Joyce Davis of Redmond was popular, although there were other outstanding contestants.

In his opinion he said, the contest on the whole was of a higher caliber than that of last year, the competition was keener, and the entire program went off in better order. He praised the Seaside Chamber of Commerce as being a really live wire organization, which raised $2700 to put on the show.

He considered the Roseburg contest a very worthy project and recommended that the Lions Club continue with a Miss Roseburg program in future years.

Person in a very splendid position to tell the whole story.

MacDowell told the House that the committee will unravel for Congress and the people in the near future an "incredible story" about Russia's getting vital uranium compound which are "essential to atomic research."

It was the transported by air from Great Falls, Mont., to Moscow," MacDowell said.

MacDowell said that 500 pounds each of uranium nitrate and black uranium oxide were shipped by the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corporation from Port Hope, Ontario, to Great Falls, Mont., and then to Col. Kotikov.

Then, in 1945, MacDowell said, some uranium metal itself was "sent to the Soviet Union" to appease them.

He said he has heard testimony of over 30 people and has the records. And MacDowell defied anyone to prove he is wrong.

After getting the final 1,000 pounds of compounds, MacDowell said, Russia "came back and wanted 15 tons but by that time I know this order was not permitted to be filled."

The congressman told reporters he did not know how the uranium metal left the country but that it went to Col. Kotikov, too.

Oregon Fails to Meet Quota in Bond Drive

PORTLAND, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Oregon failed to meet its quota for the first time in a U. S. treasury bond drive, a tabulation showed yesterday.

Oregon sales in the security loan, which ran from April 1 to July 15, totaled $17,525,000 against a quota of $23,750,000.

Pointing out that the flood intervened during the loan period, E. C. Sammons, state chairman of the drive, said Oregon's "showing was a good one, even though it did not reach its quota."
