

How Registrants For Draft Are Put Into Five Classes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(AP)—Here is how draft registrants will be classified:

Class I
I-A: Available for military service.

Class II
II-A: Registrant deferred because of civilian occupation (except agriculture).

Class III
III-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class IV
IV-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class V
V-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class VI
VI-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class VII
VII-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class VIII
VIII-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class IX
IX-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class X
X-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class XI
XI-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class XII
XII-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class XIII
XIII-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class XIV
XIV-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class XV
XV-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class XVI
XVI-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class XVII
XVII-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class XVIII
XVIII-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class XIX
XIX-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class XX
XX-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class XXI
XXI-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class XXII
XXII-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class XXIII
XXIII-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class XXIV
XXIV-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class XXV
XXV-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class XXVI
XXVI-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Class XXVII
XXVII-A: Registrant with dependent.

Class XXVIII
XXVIII-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.

Class XXIX
XXIX-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Class XXX
XXX-A: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.

then primarily engaged in broadcasting propaganda to England.

After American entry into the war, the department said Miss Gillars directed Berlin programs beamed to American forces in North Africa and Italy, where the troops gave her the names "Axis Sally" and "Midge."

Her program, called "Home, Sweet Home," allegedly was intended to persuade American soldiers to lay down their arms.

Justice Department officials say they also believe that Miss Gillars appeared on a series of radio programs after the Normandy invasion entitled "Survivors of the Invasion Front." These programs included recorded interviews with wounded American soldiers in Nazi prisoner of war camps with strong emphasis on German "kindness."

However, it strikes me that the most important aspect of the exchange between Washington and Moscow lies in the U. S. State Department's technique in handling this delicate and potentially dangerous situation. While giving the Soviet a blunt, two-fisted reply, the State Department adroitly provides a face-saving device for the Kremlin if the latter desires to use it.

The United States note says that the Russian charges, including some by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov himself, "have been based upon misinformation." Moreover, Washington holds Lomakin responsible for this information. He is accused of abuse of his position and a "gross violation" of proper conduct of foreign officials.

How Will Molotov Act?

It's easy to see that this would give Moscow a neat face-saving "out" if Molotov should choose to take it. The blame rests on Lomakin, who has only himself to thank in view of the crude and muddled methods he employed in handling the case.

Of course, it remains to be seen whether Molotov will take advantage of this "out." However, even if he welcomes Lomakin back to Moscow with a brass band, I should hate like sin to

U. S. Officers Awaiting Arrival of 'Axis Sally'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Staff

That's a neat bit of diplomatic repartee by the American State Department in answer to Moscow's vitriolic charges in the Kosenkina case.

Washington in effect gives the lie to the Russian charge that Mrs. Kasenkina and two other teachers attached to the Soviet Consulate School in New York were "kidnaped" with connivance of American officials. With equal force the note denounced Red Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin as persona non grata and asks that he be recalled. All that seems eminently satisfactory and we should be completely happy when Mrs. Kasenkina recovers from the grave injuries she suffered when she leaped from a third-story window of the consulate, where she says she was imprisoned.

U. S. Tactic in Consul Ouster Gives Russia Neat Face-Saving 'Out'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Staff

That's a neat bit of diplomatic repartee by the American State Department in answer to Moscow's vitriolic charges in the Kosenkina case.

Washington in effect gives the lie to the Russian charge that Mrs. Kasenkina and two other teachers attached to the Soviet Consulate School in New York were "kidnaped" with connivance of American officials. With equal force the note denounced Red Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin as persona non grata and asks that he be recalled. All that seems eminently satisfactory and we should be completely happy when Mrs. Kasenkina recovers from the grave injuries she suffered when she leaped from a third-story window of the consulate, where she says she was imprisoned.

However, it strikes me that the most important aspect of the exchange between Washington and Moscow lies in the U. S. State Department's technique in handling this delicate and potentially dangerous situation. While giving the Soviet a blunt, two-fisted reply, the State Department adroitly provides a face-saving device for the Kremlin if the latter desires to use it.

The United States note says that the Russian charges, including some by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov himself, "have been based upon misinformation." Moreover, Washington holds Lomakin responsible for this information. He is accused of abuse of his position and a "gross violation" of proper conduct of foreign officials.

How Will Molotov Act?

It's easy to see that this would give Moscow a neat face-saving "out" if Molotov should choose to take it. The blame rests on Lomakin, who has only himself to thank in view of the crude and muddled methods he employed in handling the case.

Of course, it remains to be seen whether Molotov will take advantage of this "out." However, even if he welcomes Lomakin back to Moscow with a brass band, I should hate like sin to

Bear Comes Down, Woman Climbs Tree, Sits 2 1/2 Hrs.

NESPELEM, Wash., Aug. 21—(AP)—When asked to go bear-hunting, Mrs. Laura McGinnis directs a look of cold fury upon the petitioner and suggests that he go climb a tree—as she did.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Elwyn Daniel, clutching his sides, told the story yesterday of how this aversion was acquired.

Mrs. McGinnis and her young grandson left their home on the Colville Indian Reservation to go hunting.

Mrs. Mac saw a big black bear in a big tree.

She shot.

Down the big tree came the big bear.

Up a little tree went the hunter. It was too small for the bear to climb but he posted a watch beneath.

She sat there for two-and-a-half hours while the bruin walked around below, grumbling and muttering.

All this time, her grandson waited, unknowing, in the car.

Finally, Mrs. Mac's hand came looking for her. She shouted her story and he scooted away and came back with a posse. The bear departed.

Mrs. McGinnis came slowly down the tree, stiff, sore, shaking and scared.

And that is why you should never ask Mrs. McGinnis to go bear-hunting.

Presidential Elections By Popular Vote Backed

(Continued From Page One)

a lot of electoral votes," the Alabama senator said.

He added that he believed a change such as suggested by Lodge "would have a good effect in the South."

"It would encourage both parties to campaign in the South, because if the Republicans could cut into the electoral vote there—which they can't do now—the Democrats would be campaigning to keep them from it."

But any such change must run the gauntlet of two-thirds approval by both Houses of Congress and approval by three-fourths of the State Legislatures.

Subpoena Issued For Ex-Head Of Red Underground

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today drew up a subpoena for J. Peters, described in testimony as a one-time head of the Communist underground in this country.

But there was no assurance that the mysterious, much-sought witness would talk even if committee agents find him and if he is promised immunity from deportation which immigration authorities are threatening him with.

Peters was arrested last October and released under $5,000 bond to await a decision on whether he should be deported as a member of an organization advocating forcible overthrow of the government.

Some time in the next ten days the committee hopes to be able to subpoena Peters during the deportation hearing promised by Watson Miller, commissioner of immigration.

Whittaker Chambers a self-avowed former Communist and now a Time magazine senior editor, has named Peters as the man who headed the Communist underground movement in this country prior to 1937.

Through questioning of Peters the committee hopes to verify some of the testimony it has received from Chambers implicating many former Federal officials.

Isaac McDonald Funeral Set at Vets Cemetery

Military services for Isaac McDonald, 55, resident of Drew and veteran of World War I, who died at the Veterans Hospital in Roseburg Thursday, will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at the Veterans Cemetery in Roseburg. Chaplain Fuller will officiate at the service. Arrangements are in charge of the Long & Orr Mortuary. Mr. McDonald was born in Madison County, Ark., April 25, 1890. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary McDonald, now residing in Oklahoma.

Erwin Bruegger Rites Arranged for Monday

Funeral services for Erwin K. Bruegger, 52, resident of Eugene and veteran of World War I, who died at the Veterans Hospital in Roseburg August 20, will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the chapel of the Long & Orr Mortuary. Military rites will follow at the Veterans Cemetery, where interment is to take place.

Mr. Bruegger was born Aug. 31, 1896, at Milwaukee, Wis. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jamie B. Bruegger, 1411 Agate Street, Eugene.

Mayor Flegel, 5 on Council Will Try for Reelection

(Continued from Page One)

be up for two-year terms, while those running in Wards 3 and 4 will be running for four-year terms. After this election, all councilmen will be elected for two-year terms on the staggered basis.

The office of mayor is for a two-year duration.

According to Oregon law, cities which plan to have the names of candidates for city offices printed on the regular county ballot for Nov. 2 general election should submit the list of names to the county clerk not later than Aug. 28, and preferably by Aug. 23 and 24. Cities of more than 2000 population must observe this deadline in order to comply with the provisions of section 81-1307, as amended by Chapter 50, Oregon Laws, 1945.

Although statutory provisions do not specifically call for a deadline in the case of cities with less than 2000 population, the same time limit should be complied with if names of city candidates are to be included on the county ballot. The county clerk must complete preparation of the county ballot not less than 60 days before the election so that the names of candidates for city offices to be included on the county ballot should be in his hands at least a week prior to that time.

Cities which use separate ballots for election of city officers should check charter and ordinance provisions to determine the time limits for completion of nomination procedure and preparation of the city ballot.

United Russian Consul Prepares to Quit U. S.

(Continued From Page One)

York. The letters reportedly explain her decision to remain in this country and possibly may throw further light on her treatment at Lomakin's hands.

Lomakin Doesn't Comment

Lomakin, accused by the U. S. of misrepresenting the facts in the case of Mrs. Kasenkina, refused at New York to comment on the U. S. demand to the Soviet Embassy in Washington that he be recalled to Russia.

Lomakin had claimed he "rescued" Mrs. Kasenkina from an anti-communist farm retreat, operated by Countess Alexandra Tolstoy.

After the teacher's leap from the consulate window, however, police quoted her as saying she had been held a prisoner.

Consulate officials, however, claimed she was trying to commit suicide and was under great nervous tension because of the actions of the White Russian anti-communists and American officials.

Meanwhile, Dr. Grant Penoyer, hospital resident physician, said Mrs. Kasenkina, who suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries in her plunge, is "improving right along."

Events Scheduled For 2-Day Annual Stampede

(Continued from Page One)

ports he has 40 head of wild cattle and 20 head of bucking horses. Many of these horses, he states, were taken off Eastern Oregon ranges and have never been handled.

All profits from the show will go to the Saddle Club as an organization and will be earmarked for enlargement of next year's Stampede, the officers state. All labor connected with the event is being donated. The County Fair board will be paid for use of the grounds, but the balance of the proceeds will go into better facilities for next year's show.

The Trail Dust Saddle Club is an organization composed of approximately 50 riders from Roseburg and vicinity. It accepts membership from youths 12 years of age and older, and furnishes instructors to teach horsemanship to young or inexperienced members. Officers are Ralph Beamer, president; Ulah Pankey, secretary; Helen Wilson, treasurer; Walter Mask, Wallace Wilson, Henry Cox, Bruce Spackman, James Spackman, directors.

O. & C. Advisory Board Membership Increased

(Continued from Page One)

and Sawmill Workers (AFL); Bernard Buisman, Oregon State Game; Ellery Foster, International Woodworkers of America (CIO); George T. Gerlinger, Willamette Valley Lumber Co., E. R. McNaughton, banker; David Mason, consulting forester; Mason and Bruce; Stuart Moir, forest counsel; Western Forestry and Conservation Association; Frank Sever, attorney for land grant counties; Reginald E. Titus, Western Forest Industries Association.

From Eugene—Herbert Cox, Willamette Valley Lumbermen's Association.

From Corvallis—R. E. Dimick, Game Management Department, Oregon State College; Paul Dunn, dean of forestry, Oregon State College; George Peavy, mayor.

From Salem—Nels Rogers, state forester; Charles A. Sprague, publisher, Oregon Statesman.

"Me for CRUSH"

DRINK Orange Crush CARBONATED BEVERAGE

SCHERNER BROS. BOTTLING CO. Phone 980-J HAYWARD AVE. W.

She's looking at the largest show-window in town

DOES THIS LADY look into your store window every day?

When you advertise in this newspaper, that's just what she's really doing—and at her leisure too!

Every day she reads these pages from front to back. And she pays closest attention to hometown news and advertising, for these are the items she uses in planning her own day.

This is when she decides whether to step into your store. Your advertisement here will help with her decision.

ONLY

The News-Review

COVERS THE DOUGLAS COUNTY MARKET

Reason #2

Every big store in America built its fortune with newspaper advertising and relies on it today.

This is one of 8 reasons why your newspaper surpasses all other means of advertising your goods.

In the 11 Western States, 7,221 automotive dealers are located in the Hometown Daily Newspaper market lying outside the six largest cities, and make 73% of all automotive sales.

A Day to Remember

Pictures of Your Wedding at Home and Church

10.30 - 5.30 except Tuesday Appointments

CHITWOOD STUDIO

Above Rexall Drug Store Phone 1194-R

C-S-I-A

at Roseburg Jewelers 246 N. Jackson

Only 104 Shopping Days 'Til Christmas

*Christmas Shopping in August

CRISCO

SHORTENING

3-lb. Tin . . . 1.15

at WALLY'S

We Wish To Extend Congratulations to

HUDDLESTONS

SHOE STORE

on their recent expansion

Roseburg JEWELERS

YOUR HOME OWNED AND OPERATED CREDIT JEWELERS