OREGON DEER HUNTERS TO REPORT SUCCESS

(Left) The return report card that is attached to the new deer tag that is being issued in Oregon for the first time this year. (Right) Mailing the return post card. All deer hunters are to fill out these cards and drop them in a mail box. The cards are self addressed and require no postage to be paid by the hunter.

For the first time Oregon deer hunters will be asked to contribute vital information concerning the deer of the state. The 1948 deer hunting season marks this important change for Oregon hunters. A separate deer tag, comparable to the separate elk tags that have been issued for several years, is being issued for the first time in Oregon.

Each deer hunter must obtain a special deer tag before going hunting and attached to this tag is a self addressed information card which must be mailed to the Game Commission within thirty days after the close of the deer season. Only a few seconds are necessary on the part of the hunter to complete the card. The facts which will be provided by these return cards are considered to be essential in deer management, and conscientious efforts on the part of all sportsmen will enable the Game Commission to plan for the permanency of deer hunting in Oregon.

The success of the system as previously applied to elk hunting bears out the importance of this information. It is expected that excellent cooperation will be extended by all sportsmen in providing these necessary facts.

The law requires all purchasers of deer tags to return these cards whether successful in bagging a buck or not.

Fake Coal Is Six Times as Hot

With real coal a scarce item in Berlin, "ersatz" (imitation) coal is being manufactured in the American sector. It's made of sawdust, coal dust and a tarlike substance, and has six times the heating value of the real thing. It's much cheaper, too. These men work between piles of coal dust and sawdust. Rev. S. R. Smith Attends Church Conclave in Ohio

Rev. S. Raynor Smith of Eugene, superintendent of the Southern Oregon District of the Methodist Church, was among the 800 leaders of that denomination who attended a nationwide conference in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-5, when the new quadrennial plan of Methodism was officially launched.

Known as "The Advance for Christ and His Church," the four-year program will have two major objectives—a world-wide preaching and teaching mission to deepen the understanding and devotion of the church's eight and a half million members and an over-all increase in giving that will undergird the church's missionary enterprises and overseas relief.

Because of their strategic position as leaders in the church, the 571 district superintendents were officially called together by Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, Texas, chairman of the Advance. Sharing with the superintendents in the conference were the bishops, editors of church papers, board secretaries and other representatives.

Alabama Governor Out In Support of Truman

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom came out yesterday in support of President Truman and hinted at possible court action to force Alabama's 11 presidential electors to vote for the Democratic nominee.

"Today Alabamans can not vote for the president," Folsom said in a statement. "Never before in the history of this country have the people of any state
