

States' Rights Democrats Will Fold After Election, Opinion of Dixie Editors

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The States' Rights Democratic Party of the South will die shortly after the election. This is the careful judgment of an even 90 percent of 150 Southern daily newspaper editors polled by NEA Service for this column.

This prediction is important. Many of the papers and their readers in this 15-state area from Maryland to Texas are sympathetic to the objectives of the new political movement headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi. Many Southern politicians feel these states should be let alone to work out their peculiar race-relations problems. But a big majority of their daily papers feel that a separate political party is not the right vehicle for this movement.

The Vote Hoped For
Of 70 Southern editors bold enough to answer the question: "Do you think the States' Rights Party will die after election, or grow stronger?" only seven thought the party had any future.

It is noteworthy that all the editors responding from Mississippi and South Carolina—States' Rights strongholds—predict the party will die. One Florida editor thinks the movement may hang on till 1952, then disappear like every other third-party movement in the United States. Governor Thurmond has frequently stated that the main purpose of his party in the present campaign was to force the election into the House of Representatives. This could be done if neither President Truman nor Gov. Thomas E. Dewey won a majority of 266 out of the 531 electoral college votes.

In the House election, each state has only one vote. Governor Thurmond and his followers hope the Southern and border states might hold a balance of power in the House, thus forcing the Northern Democratic states to support his candidacy, rather than a Republican. If successful, this maneuver would put the Solid South back in the saddle on the Democratic donkey. But 33 percent of the editors replying to this NEA Service political poll are of the opinion that this movement is doomed to failure. Editors supporting the Thurmond-Wright ticket in Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana concede that a House election is out of the question. If

Newollah March Draws Estimated 1,500 Children

An estimated 1500 hilarious children representing schools from all over Douglas County paraded the streets of Roseburg Saturday night for the third annual Newollah Parade put on under the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsorship.

Wilbur school with 98 per cent attendance, again won the smaller school division (under 100 pupils) percentage attendance, and Rose School, with 65 per cent attendance, beat out Benson by one per cent. Benson had 64 per cent, St. Joseph's 60 and Fullerton 50, according to a report from Chairman John Hardiman. The two winners also were first last year.

Dressed in costumes ranging from ghosts, to tramps, blind men, upside down men, cats, witches, Paul Bunyan, clowns and many other characters the children put on a show considered the best since the affair was started three years ago. Fullerton school entered a team of horses and wagon float. Many smaller floats, including wagons, walkers, baby buggies and others were included.

Principles Apt to Survive
The Thurmond-Wright party principles may live somewhat longer. This party was founded on two main precepts. One was opposition to President Truman's Civil Rights program. The other was the right of individual states to determine their own policies on race relations. To learn what Southern editors are thinking about the future of these issues, two questions were put to them. The first was: "Do you think the Republican Party under Dewey will give the South a better break on Civil Rights than the Democrats under Truman?" Forty-one percent of the editors replying to this question thought Dewey would handle the Civil Rights issue better than Truman. It is significant that there is this much confidence in Dewey—or lack of confidence in Truman—among Southern editors.

Second question was: "Do you think a merger of States' Rights Democrats and the Republican Party is possible?" Surprisingly enough, 23 percent of the editors answered, "Yes!" This opinion was held only by a few editors in Alabama and South Carolina. The Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer thinks there might be a "partial merger." In Texas, however, 61 percent of the editors think a merger of States' Rights and Republicans entirely possible. This is a reflection on the growing strength of Republican sentiment in that state.

Pranksters Do Heavy Damage To Electric Service

PORTLAND, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Halloween pranksters felled a 120-foot fir tree in the west hills here last night, ripping out electric service in a wide area, putting radio station KGW off the air and immobilizing a street car line.

Throughout the city police worked in double shifts and had 114 auxiliary officers or duty in attempting to quell the onslaught of youngsters. Fire hydrants were opened, false fire alarms sounded and grass fires started in yards. Street barricades snarled traffic in some areas until police cleared the roads.

Candles in pumpkin faces caused two accidental fires, one resulting in $3,000 damage. Fire Investigator William Curtis said the candle ignited a window curtain. The fir tree was toppled about 5:08 p. m. It broke a 41,000-volt feeder line serving the Council Crest and Healy districts and tore out the traction company trolley wire for several hundred yards. A street car was passing at the time but missed being struck.

Police said the tree apparently had been cut part way through the trunk and a cable drawn from the tree across the tracks. When the Council Crest car rolled past it struck the cable and dragged the tree down. Other street cars entering the blacked out area were peppered with fruit and rocks. Several windows were broken but no passengers were hurt.

FRIENDS, TOMORROW,
When you cast your vote, Vote for H. B. Roadman, for County Commissioner. Re-elect a man of experience; one who has been tried; one who is qualified, capable and efficient; one who has brought results. He labored long and hard to recover Douglas County from a warrant basis of heavy indebtedness, to become the County of the most substantial financial standing, of any County in the State of Oregon. Our General County and Road levy is four and eight tenths mills. His policies regarding the sale of County owned timber, has met with the approval of all good substantial business men and women. This means future, permanent employment and prosperity for the people of this County; yes, his administration means permanent prosperity to all, to working people, and both large and small business people. Again, we say Vote for the best interest of Douglas County.
VOTE 36 X TOMORROW
H. B. ROADMAN, COUNTY COMMISSIONER
WE NEED HIM NOW MORE THAN EVER

A caterpillar formation by Wilbur children drew special attention. Many children from all parts of the county entered, even though they did not have a school representation, said Hardiman. After parading from the courthouse lawn, where failure in a special lighting system and loud-speaker resulted in the need for formation of the parade in near-darkness, the columns of children proceeded to Jackson Street, and south to around the block at Lane, Rose and Cass Street and then proceeded north on Jackson to the Douglas County Creamery, where the Jaycees passed out ice cream bars to all participants. Prizes Awarded More than 50 prizes, consisting of merchandise awards from the Roseburg stores, were passed out to deserving children; along the line of march. While most of names of prize winners were obtained, a few were missed and it was not possible to obtain the particular description of the winners. Names of prize winners omitted from the following list will be printed if called to the News-Review. The partial list includes: Jean Horn, Benson; Kenneth Gibbon, Benson; Keith Crenshaw, pre-school; James Eastman, Diland; Diane Sheets, Rose; Jimmy Schultz, Rose; Blanch Nichols, Riverside; Shirley Rasmussen, Gilde; Peggy Reid, Roseburg; Tamara Tauscher, St. Joseph; Mickey Liebon, Rose; Joan Bryson, Riverside; Warren Evans, Riverside; Bruce Neilson, Rose; Keith Eddy, Benson; Tur-lane Watkins, Wilbur; Ronald Rasmussen, Gilde; George Kune, Diland; Judy Barnhart, Benson; Sharron Dick, Benson; Donald Larson, Symon Valley; Joe Lowe, Fullerton; Sidney Jack, Rose; Maynard Stevens, Rose; Marvin Lee, Wilbur; David Phillips, Riverside; Alice Devard, Riverside; Nancy Gardner and Darrell Hahn, both Benson and the following schools were not learned. Eddy Shirley, Tommy Morton, Donald Rainpeal, Eddie Marsh and D'Ann Fullerton. Pranks of Minor Nature Although the parade was the highlight of the evening, Halloween "trick or treaters" were in no way abetted. Children from ages barely old enough to walk to those of high school age swarmed through the city, knocking on doors and receiving their hand-outs. Since Sunday was officially Halloween, many children took advantage to be out both nights. Except for the minor Halloween tricks, no major damage was reported in the city, and the local Police Department reported the situation quite orderly. Merchants contributing prizes included: Gilbey's, Miller's, Mercantile, Ice Creamery, Marshall Wells, Miller's Radio, Firestone, Wilders, Umpqua Amusement Company and Lawson's Jewelry.

A STATEMENT

To the Voters in the City of Sutherlin:
As a candidate for the office of Mayor in the coming election, I take this medium to state my position.
If elected, I will cooperate wholeheartedly with any six councilmen voters choose.
I am strongly in favor of the proposed sewage system and disposal plant which is now under survey.
I am an advocate for the establishment of street grades and installation of curbs.
I believe Sutherlin should have a new city hall incorporating under one roof the fire department, police department, city jail, council chambers, city recorder's office, library, and public rest rooms.
These above projects are, I believe, now on the Council's agenda.
As a business man, home owner, and taxpayer in the City of Sutherlin, I am sincerely in favor of any measure which will increase the value of our property, make our community a more attractive place in which to live, create good will and civic pride by providing wholesome recreational facilities for the people of Sutherlin.
Finally, I believe in fairness and equality to all in the discharge of the City's services.
