Two Prep Grid Titles at Stake On Weekend Card

By MATT KRAMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two district championships will be won in state high school play this weekend, and for once Portland schools steal the limelight.

The upstate playoff—between strong Medford and weak Ashland for the district 2 crown—is expected to be a routine affair. Medford has been downed only by an out-of-state team, and Ashland has yet to win.

The Portland fray is another matter. It throws together two unbeaten, untied teams—Jefferson, a quarter-finalist last year, and strong Roosevelt. Despite Jefferson's experience, Roosevelt is a slight favorite to win. If the rain holds off, a crowd upwards of 20,000 is expected to be on hand.

All but two of the other state contenders also will be in action. La Grande and Albany are the exceptions. La Grande will rest for its title-deciding game against Baker Armistice day. Albany will await its Armistice day battle with Corvallis.

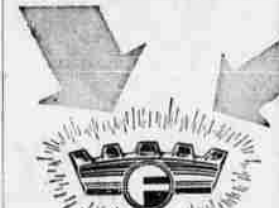

In district 3 favored Grants Pass is expected to vault over Roseburg, which would leave only Reedsport in the Grants Pass march to the title.

Gresham, generally conceded the district 5 title already, will play Parkrose, an invader from district 7.

The two district 6 contenders Hillsboro and McMinnville, will warm up for their title-determining contest next week. Hillsboro will meet Tigard and McMinnville will play Forest Grove.

Scappoose, one of the district 7 finalists, will tangle with St. Helens. Win or lose, Scappoose will play in the district's championship game against Central Catholic next week.

Other games: Hermiston at Pendleton; Halfway at Union; Prineville at Bend; Klamath Falls at Longview; Wash.; Eugene at Marshfield; Lebanon at University (Eugene); Springfield at Cottage Grove; Junction City at Newport; Astoria at Salem; Redmond at Corvallis; Mt. Angel at Molalla; Milwaukie at Milwaukie; Newberg at Newberg.
