Fun Mingles With Feast at Annual Turkey Banquet

Close to 350 people gathered at Kenedy's Dutch Mill last night for the annual Turkey Banquet, which closed the 17th annual Northwestern Turkey Show on a note of fun and entertainment. Paul E. Geddes, Roseburg lawyer, served as toastmaster.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a gilded wagon wheel to Harvey P. Griffin, live division judge, who he said he would mount it in front of his home at Wagon Wheel Ranch near Sonoma, Calif. The wheel was inscribed, ". . . for 17 consecutive years with the Northwestern Turkey Show." The presentation was made by D. R. Cooper, long-time exhibitor from Parkdale, Ore.

In accepting the wheel, Griffin said the sportsmanship of those who failed to win top premium awards in the show was especially noteworthy and he added that, for him, it was hard to place even lesser awards because of the unusual quality of the birds entered.

Gold trophies were awarded to Max Lyons, Portland, for entering three most uniform toms, and to Guy Lovelace, Dinuba, Calif., for the three most uniform hens in the live division, and to Lyons for the three most uniform hens in the dressed division. The Lovelace award was accepted by Melvin Lovelace, representing his brother, Guy.

Rosettes for championship entries in both divisions of the show were also formally presented at the banquet.

Because Melvin Lovelace had expressed his preference for growing large, broad - breasted birds as a more marketable type, he was presented with a small Beltsville white hen by Paul McDowell, leading grower of this type, "just to take back to California to show he had won a prize."

Lovelace declined the award and instead put the bird up for auction. In the lively bidding which followed, Art Miller of Sacramento bought the fowl for $25—the money going to the Turkey Show—and presented the bird again to Lovelace. Lovelace then gave the bird to Homer Grow, director of the Future Farmers of America, with the request he use it for the benefit of his boys who contributed much toward success of the show.

A large delegation was present from the Pacific Coast Turkey Show at McMinnville and Bill Jones, the manager, spoke of the friendly competition between his and the Roseburg turkey shows.

Counter Claim Filed In Action for Damages

Hubert A. Dupont, named with his wife, Edna T. Dupont, as defendants in a suit brought by the Oregon - Nevada - California Fast Freight, has filed an answer and counterclaim, in which he asks $14,000 general plus $467.28 special damages for medical and hospital care. A second answer and counterclaim, filed by the defendants, asks $540 for car expenses.

The trucking company originally brought suit to recover $1,200 damages to its truck, 264.20 towing expenses, and $400 for loss of use of the truck, as the result of an accident June 22, on Highway 99 about 25 miles north of Roseburg, when the car collided with the truck and trailer.

Dupont, charging the plaintiff with negligence, claims he sustained injuries, including rib fractures, scalp lacerations and concussion of the brain.

Pearl Harbor's Defenses Fail To Detect Bomber

HONOLULU, Dec. 10—(AP) — Was Pearl Harbor caught with its radar defenses down on the seventh anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack?

The officer responsible for detecting unannounced aircraft approaching Hawaii says:

Radar screens might have plotted the B-36 which flew unannounced on a roundtrip from Fort Worth, Tex., and dropped "a useful bomb load" at sea off Hawaii.

The officer, Col. T. W. Blackburn, said yesterday 21 planes were picked up by radar in the two hours the strategic air command's six-engine bomber was believed in Hawaiian skies. But the B-36 was not singled out.

At Fort Worth the pilot, Maj. John D. Bartlett, said his big silver craft went to Pearl Harbor and then to the northwest point of Oahu Island before turning back to the mainland on the 35½ hour flight.

The "surprise raid" caused some feeling in Hawaii that the islands' air defense might have been caught napping.

Blackburn emphasized that under peacetime conditions there is no way to keep a single aircraft from slipping through the defense net.

He said civilian aircraft do not carry equipment to send out the friendly identification signal for radar.

"If we were in a state of emergency or threatened war, all aircraft would be under military control," Blackburn said. "Then we could filter it."

Spokesmen for the air force, the Navy and Army said earlier they had no report of any radar or radio contact with the B-36.

Umpqua School Assn. Has Enjoyable Program

Despite the cold weather a good sized crowd reportedly enjoyed the regular meeting of the Umpqua School Association Friday night, Dec. 3.

Mrs. Dollie Urben, president, conducted the short business session after which there was a brief program. The greater part of the evening was given over to Henry Teller, auctioneer, who sold the pies provided by the women present. A substantial sum was realized, and this will be used to help pay for the new roof on the hall.

The next meeting will be Jan. 7. By that time, or soon after, the school is expected to be moved into the new building now under construction. Work is being rushed as much as possible under the bad weather conditions, it was reported. The floor is now complete and the plumbers have began their work.

PAROLEE ARRESTED

William Verl Hodson of Estacada, 30, was arrested by the State Police at Toketee Falls, is being held in the county jail for the U. S. Marshal. He is booked as a parole violator, according to a report from the office of Sheriff O. T. Carter.

Cecil John Rhodes, British colonial and imperial statesman, began his career in Africa when, at 16 and in broken health, he joined his brother who was farming in Natal.

cost or consequences to himself.

"I cannot share this indispensable ordeal with anyone. Therefore, with a quiet and firm mind, I am withdrawing from among the colleagues with whom I worked for so many years and whose support has been loyal and generous."

Shortly after Chambers' announcement, James A. Linen, publisher of Time, issued this statement:

"Time has accepted Mr. Chambers' resignation for the reasons which he has so well expressed. In accepting his resignation now, Time does not wish to prejudice and is not prejudicing his recent disclosures.

"Not until all the evidence is in can the pros and cons be weighed.

"Against the admitted disservice to his country, of a decade ago, must be set the service we are convinced he is trying to perform, for his country now."

Titus pointed out that the timber industry served by the Southern Pacific suffers heavy annual losses because of freight car shortages at certain seasons of the year, while, at the same time, sufficient cars are available from other lines to relieve the shortage materially if the cars were exchanged with the S. P. system. Efforts will be made through I. C. C. direct order, he said, to secure a program of car availability in future years.

Price Resistance Cuts Yule Season Buying

ary forces have lost a lot of their punch.

The sales downtrend emphasized one high official's comment that "when housewives decide one night that prices are too high, they'll quit buying and inflation will be over the next day."

A sign that the same thing might go for businessmen was another Federal Reserve report showing that business loans also dropped the last three weeks of November.

Coupled with that was an even more unusual decline in real estate loans which, though slight ($1,000,000), halted a week-to-week climb to new highs that had been going on in this field since wartime.
