

Sen. Ives Opposes Proposed Changes In T-H Labor Act

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — (AP) — Senator Ives of New York put fellow republicans on notice today he opposes the changes they plan in the Taft-Hartley act.

Ives, who played a key role in writing the 1947 labor law, said a report by the Senate House "Watchdog" Committee urging about nine amendments is an "obviously partisan" document. The chairman of the GOP-controlled group, Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said a half dozen of the proposed changes are "fairly important."

Among the seven republicans voting for the plan were Senator Taft of Ohio and Rep. Hartley of New Jersey, co-authors of the act. But Ives split sharply with the other committee members. He told a news conference yesterday:

"I am not going along with the report, partly because it is obviously a partisan report and partly because I don't agree with some of the things in it." He added:

"I feel very definitely that industrial and labor relations should not be involved in partisan controversy."

The New Yorker said, however, that he favors one committee proposal—that the Taft-Hartley provision requiring top labor officials to take non-Communist oaths be broadened to include management representatives.

Ives originally opposed the non-Communist provision. But he said he backs it now because "it has helped labor organizations to clean up Communist control."

Even Management Eyes. As for the other side of the industrial fence, he said: "Some management, if not under Communist control, at least is doing or trying to do a lot of business with Russia. Not every management is above suspicion."

Ives said he is opposed to outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and replacing it with the old Wagner act without any change in the original version, as President Truman has pledged.

In addition to the non-Communist section, it was learned that the Senate House Committee also voted to recommend these changes:

1. Elimination of a provision requiring an election to authorize union shop. Under a union shop, a worker must join a union within 30 days after he is hired. The committee's report says the union shop has been authorized in 98 per cent of elections held.

2. Exclusion from the NLRB's jurisdiction of "local businesses whose operations only remotely affect interstate commerce."

3. Clarification of the right of the NLRB to require unions, in the case of mass and coercive picketing, to reimburse workers who have been denied access to their jobs.

Willamette River Pollution Rapped

PORTLAND, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Willamette River pollution has drawn the fire of the Oregon division of the Isaac Walton League of America.

David B. Charlton, chairman of a stream purification committee, accused pulp and paper companies of "stalling" plans to eliminate dumping of sulphite wastes. He called for strict enforcement of anti-pollution laws by the state sanitary authority.

The league also called for either abolishment of the sanitary authority or changes in personnel.

Informed of the league report, Harold Wendel, chairman of the sanitary authority, defended the anti-pollution work of the state organization. He said the largest of the pulp mills on the Willamette, the Crown-Zellerbach Mill at West Linn, has promised to cease polluting the river as soon as the Portland municipal sewage disposal plant is operating. Wendel said the plant is expected to be working in two years.

The Walton League Committee noted that the state anti-pollution law has been in effect ten years. Charlton said the river now is more polluted than at the time the law was adopted.

Columbia Fishermen Want an End to 'Mess'

PORTLAND, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The men who work the Columbia river fishing fleet want the State Fish Commission to have more authority in setting seasons, bag limits, gear and fishing areas.

Officers of the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective Union argued at a meeting with both commercial and sports fishing groups here that the commission thus could act quickly.

William Puustinen said "we've been making an awful mess of the fishing for a long time through pressure groups working from all angles."

The meeting was one of a series called to work out a program with support of both commercial and sports groups for presentation to the State Legislature.
