Marry In Portland, Dec. 30

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Belle.

Miss Frances Velasco Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crawford of Portland, became the bride of Harry C. Belle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Belle, of Roseburg, at the Laurelhurst Presbyterian Church in Portland. Dr. William H. French performed the impressive ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

White carnations and chrysanthemums formed the large floor basket bouquets, which were flanked by candelabra holding tall white cathedral candles. The candles were lighted by George Kernan of Portland and Hal Firestone of Vancouver, Wash.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Sam Weaver, soprano, sang "Because" and at the close of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Helen Lou Cobb, Portland, accompanied her and also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin fashioned off the shoulders with a net yolk outlined in seed pearls. The gown had a full-court train. Her candelight imported three-quarter length illusion veil fell from a bonnet of ivory satin and she carried a white prayer book topped by a white orchid tied with a shower of white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Robert F. Gleichman, Pittsfield, Mass., was matron of honor for her sister and wore a turquoise gown of taffeta and carried an arrangement of pink callias, Earl K. Belle, Oakley, Calif., was best man for his brother. Ushers were all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom and included: George La Tourneaux, George Kernan and John Fox of Portland and Harold Firestone of Vancouver, Wash.

The bride's mother wore a gown of pink crepe with a corsage of blue iris. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of pink cinnamon color with a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception followed in the church parlors. All white flowers and white candles formed the decorations. Mrs. Earl K. Belle of Oakley, Calif., cut the cake, assisted by Miss Eunice Stewart of Salem. Miss Florence Peterson, Portland, presided at the punch bowl and Miss Patricia Barber, Portland, served the coffee. George Belle of Roseburg, brother of the bridegroom, had charge of the guest book.

Assisting with the serving were sorority sisters of the bride including: Mrs. Fred Meyer, Corvallis; Miss Marilyn Elliott and Miss Lorraine Polson of Portland; Miss Vera Mason of Milwaukee, Ore.; and Miss Jeannette Holroyd of Corvallis.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of winter wine wool with gray accessories and a white or-

Visitors Honored at Charming Tea

One of the most charming parties to be enjoyed in Roseburg in many months was the tea given by Mrs. Bert Stanford Corkrum Monday afternoon, when she invited a group of friends to her beautiful home in Laurelhurst to meet her mother and grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Plimpton and Mrs. H. G. Campbell, of Seattle, and also to compliment Mrs. J. J. Roberts of Portland, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Bailey.

Great bowls of deep red carnations and white chrysanthemums decorated the living room, while the lace-covered tea table was centered with silver candelabra holding tall violet-colored candles placed in front of an arrangement of daffodils. Those pouring and assisting in serving wore corsages of violets tied with bright yellow ribbons to match the color-scheme of the table decorations.

Mrs. Corkrum wore a flowered print afternoon dress, Mrs. Campbell wore dark blue silk jersey, Mrs. Plimpton wore an aqua crepe dress and Mrs. Roberts wore a dress of light cinnamon crepe. The hostess and guests of honor wore corsages of gardenias.

Adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion were the three lovely daughters of the hostess, who received the guests and assisted about the rooms. Five-year-old Kathi, in a floor-length blue organdy gown, greeted the guests and nine-year-old Deby and eight-year-old Jody, were in floor-length white organdy gowns. All three wore pink rosebud corsages.

Mrs. K. D. Lytle and Mrs. H. G. Jeffers poured from four to five o'clock and Mrs. A. G. Henninger and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey presided at the tea table from five to six o'clock. Mrs. W. Sherman Plimpton, sister-in-law of the hostess, and Mrs. L. K. Cornwell assisted in serving.

Guests invited to enjoy the occasion with Mrs. Corkrum and her daughters honoring the visitors included: Mrs. William F. Amiot, Mrs. K. D. Adams, Mrs. Hal J. Ayotte, Mrs. Kenneth Bailey, Miss Helen Casey, Mrs. Frederick Chapman Jr., Mrs. S. J. Cooper, Mrs. L. K. Cornwell,
