nor who would get $4,800 a year. The other, by Sen. Thomas R. Mahoney, also a Portland Democrat, provides that the lieutenant governor would act as state budget director while not presiding over the Senate.

Sponsors said their bills would give the people the right to say who should become governor if the governor dies, but opponents argued it would be a waste of money.

Democrats from Portland are sponsoring a bill to make it easier to register voters in Multnomah County—which was quite a hot subject in 1947. It would set up more registration places. Sen. Irving Rand, Portland, introduced a bill to let aliens acquire land in Oregon. It would repeal the 1923 law which was passed to prevent Japanese from owning land.

Would Curb Beavers
Beavers are chewing holes in dikes on the lower Columbia River. In fact, they are getting part of the blame for the collapse of some dikes in the Columbia River flood last spring.

So, Reps. E. H. Condit, Westport, and Vilas L. Shephard, Clatskanie, introduced a bill to permit any person to trap beavers.

Beavers now can be trapped only by trappers who work for the State Game Commission.

New Bills Offered
A bill to permit sale of colored margarine was introduced by Sen. Thomas R. Mahoney, Portland.

A bill to give Governor McKay authority to deal with the power shortage was introduced by Sen. Thomas R. Mahoney, Portland.

It would let the governor give the public utilities commissioner power to cancel electricity deliveries to any person or firm during the shortage.

Two more tax measures were introduced in the House.

Rep. Giles L. French, Moro, and Sen. Eugene E. Marsh, McMinnville, introduced them. One would provide a business tax of 1 per cent, and the other would repeal the personal property tax.

The Legislature will be asked soon to approve a law which would permit cities to acquire property for off-the-street parking, above or below ground.

Mayor Dorothy Lee of Portland said the bill endorsed there by the Transportation Planning Commission was a duplicate of one she submitted to the Legislature two years ago.

Raid Wins Approval
Resolutions congratulating two Portland officials for their war on gambling were introduced in the Senate.

Sen. Frank H. Hilton's resolution congratulating Mayor Dorothy Lee on her efforts to close up Portland gambling.

Sen. Thomas R. Mahoney sponsored a resolution congratulating Sheriff Mike Elliott for his raid on a police party at which there was gambling equipment.

Drunken Driver Fined, Jail Term Suspended

Roy William Rasmussen, Dilard, arrested by city police and arraigned today in Municipal Court on a charge of drunk driving, pleaded guilty, was fined $100, and given a 30-day jail sentence to be suspended upon payment of the fine, Judge Ira B. Riddle reported. His operator's license was revoked for one year. Judge Riddle said Rasmussen is being held in the city jail pending payment of the fine.

tor's course tentatively planned for next fall.

Enrollment Urged
Stephens encourages all persons in responsible positions in the lumber industry, bus drivers and others who may be connected with hazardous occupations where the training may be useful to enroll in one of the classes.

He called attention to the bill now before the Legislature which would require all foremen and supervisors to have satisfactorily passed first aid examinations. The bill is similar to that now in effect in Washington. The federal government's new civil defense program to be put into operation very shortly emphasizes the need for more people to be qualified in first aid work.

daughter, Margaret, to St. John's Episcopal Church.

There, he bowed his head and heard the Rev. C. Leslie Glen pray for him, for the Congress, for social justice, for the family of nations and for "those we love."

St. John's is the same church where the late Franklin D. Roosevelt used to worship on his inaugural days.

The president rode to the Capitol in an auto. With him were Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) and Senate Secretary Leslie Biffle.

Crowds along the streets whooped and cheered. Somebody held up a sign: "Even Iowa went Democratic."

Just before the presidential oath taking, Rabbi Samuel Thurman, of St. Louis, offered up a prayer for "A son of the soil, a son of the people, champion of social justice and civic righteousness."

Defying the chill wind sweeping the capitol plaza, Mr. Truman read his inaugural address bare-headed and coatless.

for housing, and more mechanical power to lighten their burdens. We invite other countries to pool their technological resources in this undertaking."

No Easy Compromise
While the president nowhere named Russia outright in his scathing attack on Communism, his words apparently ended any possibility of quick and easy compromise between the Soviet Union and the West.

But "in due time," he said, he believes "those countries which now oppose us will abandon their delusions and join with the free nations of the world in a just settlement of international differences."

That he does not consider such a settlement possible now he made clear at the very outset. The United States and other non-Communist nations, he declared, have been balked in their work for "a just and lasting peace" by a regime with contrary aims and a totally different concept of life.

"That regime adheres to a false philosophy which purports to offer freedom, security and greater opportunity to mankind," he asserted. "Misled by this philosophy, many peoples have sacrificed their liberty only to learn to their sorrow that deceit and mockery, poverty and tyranny, are their reward."

"That false philosophy is Communism."

DRUNKS PENALIZED
James McKenzie Allen, Tokatee Falls, arrested on charge of being drunk in a public place, pleaded guilty upon arraignment in Municipal Court today, and has been committed to the city jail for 10 days in lieu of a $20 fine, Judge Ira B. Riddle reported.
