People's Lobby Seeks Power Of Government in Battle On Heart Disease and Cancer

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 1.—(AP)— How goes the "people's lobby to get the government to throw the same weight behind cancer and heart disease research as it did for the atom bomb?

"It's really rolling," said J. Louis Reynolds, the industrial executive who launched the lobby last month.

Reynolds' plan is to get as many people as possible to sign petitions urging President Truman and the 81st Congress to call for the necessary federal funds to find the answers to the problems of cancer and heart disease, the two big killers.

The vice president in charge of operations of Reynolds Metals Company nominated himself as "messenger boy" of the lobby. No foundation is being set up, funds are not asked nor accepted. Reynolds' job in the plan is to see that the petitions get into the right hands.

And to enlist some support for the program in Congress he headed for Washington for an engagement with Rep. John W. McCormack, majority leader of the House.

A barber in Virginia, Minn., said he'd get a signature for the petition with every haircut.

Irving Mandel, an officer of the Knights of Pythias in New York, said he could pledge the support of 90,000 Pythians to the drive.

Wilson W. Wyatt, former housing expediter now practicing law in Louisville, Ky., wrote to say he felt the plan had a maximum chance of success.

A union man in Des Moines, Iowa, said he would send 2,500 signatures along. M. C. Weiner, president of a Grand Rapids, Mich. Case Manufacturing Co., sent along a petition with his employers' names.

SNAKE—SNOW: SPRING?

Evidence that spring is just around the corner, in spite of the snow which blanketed the countryside this morning, is shown in a report from Mrs. Margaret McCord, Dillard.

Mrs. McCord writes that on Saturday she saw a snake on the walk by her home. She poked the snake with a broom and it was so cold it could hardly wiggle. It flicked its tongue at the broom, but that was about its only movement.

"Isn't this a bit early, or do you suppose spring is here?" she asked.
