Semi-Final Impresses

The semi-final was an Impressive affair, insofar as Billy Pappas' opponent looked extremely large. Both lads exchanged about evenly with Ponce DeLeon seemingly getting in what appeared to be the more effective punches.

Although Pappas appeared to hold his own, the judges unantmously agreed Aberdeen's Deleon should get the nod. The rowl felt, however, that Pappas was still the best fighter of the evening and indicated their sentiments during the awarding of bonus money.

Dick Collie appeared sluggish in his return engagements with Sonny Elexman of Spokane. Elexman, the boxer, definitely held the edge over Collie, the slugger, Friday night. Although the Winchester kid blasted away with everything he had, the blows lacked the usual steam. Elexman was awarded an undisputed decision by the arbiters.
