Equipment that is taking the hard labor out of hay making will be demonstrated at the Douglas County grass silage field day Monday, May 23, at the Busenbark Bros. farm at Melrose, announces J. Roland Parker, county agent. Starting time is 10 o'clock in the morning.

Use of the grass silage method of storing forage crops is gaining favor rapidly throughout Western Oregon as well as in Douglas County, Parker states. Tests have shown conclusively that grass silage is second best to actual pastures from the standpoint of feed value. That is, in comparison with field cured hay. At the Busenbark Bros. farm where the equipment demonstration will be held, several grass handling machines will be displayed and demonstrated by local farm equipment dealers and firms in Western Oregon.

Much first crop hay in Douglas County is normally of poor quality due to a high percentage of grass and due to rains which postpone cutting at the best stage of maturity. Frequently, after cutting and while the hay is curing in the field, rains fall on it and make further inroads on the hay quality.

The making of grass silage, Parker points out, can be made in almost any kind of weather.

Parker points out, can be made in almost any kind of weather. Actual cutting, hauling and slo filling will be viewed at the demonstration.

Savings Bonds Sales Still Lead April Redemptions

Sales and redemption figures of Savings Bonds in the State of Oregon for the month of April were released today by E. C. Sam-were released today by E. C. Sam-mons, state advisory chairman.

April sales totalled $3.257,787, which was approximately even with the same month a year ago, $2,322,000 of those sales were in E bonds—an increase of about $200,000 over the same month a year ago.

E bonds—an increase of about $200,000 over the same month a year ago.

Although April sales have climbed back to a parity of those of 1948, which in itself is encouraging after two months during which severs winter over the state had apparently been a factor in cutting into this year's sales rather severely, the most encouraging thing about the entire situation now, Mr. Sammons stated, is the continuing fall of redemptions—which include both cash-ins and maturities of Series A to D bonds.

For the fourth straight month redemptions have been substantially less than they were in the state a year ago, with April showing $2,318,000 less cashing in of bonds than was the case just 12 months back. As of the end of the first four months of the year, Oregon people have cashed in almost 5 million dollars less in bonds than they did the first four months of 1948, with sales for 1949 off only a tiny percentage. The people of the state, Mr. Sammons added, have gained substantially in their reserves.

During the Opportunity Drive in May and June the state advisory chaliman expressed the hope that six weeks hence, at its close, the people of this state will not only have reached the $9,790,000 quota assigned by the Treasury Department, but will have exceeded it to an extent which will have real meaning in future years.
