Newly-elected Oregon State Democratic Chairman William L. Josselin, addressed Democrats in this vicinity Saturday afternoon at the City Hall on the subject, "The Democratic Party... Oregon's Hope for the Future." John Winkler, Portland attorney, spoke on "The Veteran's Stake in Democratic Victory," and Robert Davis, senior student at the University of Oregon and president of the Young Democrats of Oregon, discussed "Youth's Stake in Democratic Victory."

The four speakers met with Democratic precinct committeemen and women in this area and officers of the Douglas County Democratic Central Committee. They reviewed the record of the Oregon State Democrats in the recent legislature, and expressed their optimism for a state-wide Democratic victory in the 1950 elections.

Josselin pointed out the need for women in the legislature, said that women made up half the population, and added that women were needed and encouraged by the Democrats as candidates for public office. Progress made by the labor movement under Democratic administrations was reviewed, and an invitation for labor and friends of labor to join with the Democrats was issued.

All young Democrats were urged to join the Young Democratic Club of Oregon. All Democrats were encouraged to subscribe to the newspaper the Oregon Democrat.

Josselin and his party stopped at Roseburg between a luncheon meeting at Eugene, and a dinner meeting at Grants Pass. On Sunday they met with Democrats in Medford.

Dr. Parkinson's request for parking in front of his new building on South Main was turned down by the street committee, which declared a driveway the length of his property would create a traffic hazard.

The street committee's recommendation that a portion of S. Hamilton street be reconstructed to a 30-foot width and that curbs and gutters be installed was approved by the Council.

City Attorney Paul Geddes was instructed to query proper authorities concerning the availability of a strip of property on Block 29 for utilization as an alleyway. The property belongs to the United States government. Property owners on that block have petitioned the city in regards to the establishment of an improved alleyway there.

Oregon Delinquency Case Sent To Highest Court

SALEM, Ore., May 17.—(AP)—The State Supreme Court said it is sending to the United States Supreme Court today the transcript of the case of William H. Nagel, who was convicted in Klamath Falls of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Nagel is appealing his conviction to the highest court on grounds that his lower court trial should have been held in some county other than Klamath County. He claims that public opinion was so inflamed in Klamath County that a fair trial was impossible.

Arabs Demonstrate For Libyan Independence

TRIPOLI, Libya, May 17.—(AP)—Ten thousand Arabs marched around Tripoli Monday shouting "Russia-Libya," in protest against United Nations' plans for Italy's prewar colonies. The crowd was orderly but 13 persons have been injured in a week of violence and some $2,500 in damage caused, as Arabs made known their demands for immediate independence for Libya. British and American families in the town have been ordered to remain indoors until the tension abates. Officers at Wheelus Field, U. S. Air Base near Tripoli, have been armed.

Spending Cut, Savings Upped By Americans

(Continued from Page One) the postwar period, but those occasions were relatively mild. Taking just the expenditure side of things, and using annual rate figures for comparison of first quarter 1949 with the record-setting final quarter of 1948, here is the way things worked out:

Individual incomes after taxes declined only $1,600,000,000 to a $197,800,000,000 rate, yet individual expenditures for consumption dropped $4,400,000,000 to a $176,600,000,000 rate.

The upshot was that savings increased $2,400,000,000 to a $21,200,000,000 rate. Business outlays, as reflected in "private domestic investment," dropped $5,100,000,000 to a $37,700,000,000 rate.

But government expenditures on goods and services rose $500,000,000 to a $11,600,000,000 annual rate, including foreign aid as well as domestic purchases.

Wallgren Nomination Withdrawn By Truman

(Continued from Page One) cal lines that have been drawn over my appointment. He closed with this paragraph which might indicate the possibility of another government assignment, or a campaign for office:

"While I am asking to be released in this instance, I shall continue to maintain my active interest in the welfare of our nation and stand ready at all times to assist in every way possible."

The President replied that he was acting with the "deepest regret" and said it is "unfortunate in the public interest that the committee charged with considering your nomination saw fit to lay it aside."

Committee opposition to the nomination was sparkplugged by Senator Cain (R-Wash.). He argued that Wallgren was not competent for the post, and that the nominee had been "soft" toward Communists.

Wallgren denied the allegations, argued that his experience as senator and governor qualified him for the work, and charged the opposition to politics. He cited political experience was a main essential.

The Armed Services Committee, in "tabling" the nomination, adopted a resolution saying Wallgren lacked sufficient economic and industrial experience but stating that it had found no evidence reflecting on Wallgren's loyalty.

The Resources Board was created by the law unifying the armed services, to take over the industrial planning and coordinating jobs handled by half a dozen agencies in World War II. The chairman draws $14,000 a year.

Roseburg Gas Rates Not Too High, Council Advised

(Continued from Page One) expenses needed to cover the cost of butane, the application of the fuel adjustment clause was necessary in order that the company could meet its operating expenses and provide service.

It can be noted from the tabulation in the report that the rates of the company for 20 terms of gas were the lowest in the state for the period ending March 1, 1946, even including the Portland Gas & Coke Company on an equivalent basis for their Portland division. The advance of 5.1 cents per therm of gas furnished the user would increase the price at Roseburg to the point comparable to, or lower than, service provided by the other gas utilities operating in Oregon.

The California-Pacific Utilities Company's rate is $5.82 for 20 therms of gas, while the state average for the equivalent use is $6.61 as of March 1, 1949. The percentage increase, however, is high, and is considerably higher than the average of the state due to the company's very favorable conditions existing between the supplier of butane and the utility prior to July 1, 1948.

The only other alternative to the fuel adjustment clause would be to make a general increase of tariffs of the company to meet the additional costs placed upon it, which we feel would not be justified in view of the present market conditions. We feel that sometime in the future the price of butane will decrease, and the application of the fuel oil adjustment clause will automatically reduce the price per therm in the same proportions as it was increased."

DeCicco Backed By Celia Gavin

THE DALLES, Ore., May 17. (AP)—Wasco County Democratic leader Celia L. Gavin, a former state vice chairman, has come to the defense of Democratic party treasurer Mike De Cicco. In a letter to Executive Committee Secretary Volney Martin in Portland, she said she was astonished by the attempt of party leaders to oust De Cicco. She said the officers involved in the ouster did not have authority to change the results of the State Central Committee election.

Her letter was in response to a mail ballot sent out by Martin asking for a vote to declare the treasurer's office vacant. She noted it said five of six officers had asked that the ballot be made. In this connection, Miss Gavin said four of the five were without voting status on the Executive Committee.

Named on the ballot ouster move were National Committeeman Monroe Sweetland and Committeewoman Nancy Honeyman Robinson and State Chairman William L. Josselin.

Miss Gavin said she hoped De Cicco had a successful term and that he should be encouraged to continue placing the party's finances on a sound basis. She said previous treasurers had failed. The ouster move got underway last week after De Cicco and his ex-secretary gave differing versions of a fight at Gearhart.
