Designation of Payees Asked In Suit Filed Here

The Arandel Corporation and L. E. Dixon Corporation, engaged in construction of Toketee tunnel and power house project on the North Umpqua, have filed suit in Circuit Court to determine to which of the named defendants it must pay sums totaling $555.66 in six separate checks.

Defendants are listed as Don Torres, N. Glesin and Peter Poe (whose true name is unknown), doing business as The Emporium; Ray P. Dobson, doing business as The Kanteen; Jerry Thresmer; W. R. Hibbs, doing business as Hibbs Clothing; H. P. Hoppez and Richard Row (whose true name is unknown), doing business at Klamath Billiards, and John and Jane Doe (whose true names are not known).

The checks in question were allegedly issued to Torres in payment of wages. However, the checks after being endorsed by him Oct. 2, 1948, put in an envelope addressed to his wife and placed in a U. S. mail depository, were allegedly withdrawn by persons unknown.

The checks assertedly were cashed at the several named places in Klamath Falls. The plaintiffs ask for a decree determining the right of the defendants to the funds, all of whom claim an interest in the amount respectively listed in the complaint. The total amount in question has been deposited with the clerk of the court. The plaintiffs also ask for their costs in the action.
