The Roseburg Umpqua Chiefs kick the dust out of their cleats for a Friday night non-league game with North Bend at Finlay Field. Game time is set for 8 o'clock.

The Chiefs have three wins and one loss credited to them so far, an enviable early season record. In their first contest of the current season, they defeated West Fir 6-3. The Chiefs dropped their second game 8-0, to the Junction City Reds, then came back and defeated Oakland 6-3.

In the Southern Oregon League opener, the Chiefs defeated the Medford Craters solidly, by an 11-7 count.

Sunday, May 22, the Chiefs travel to Prospect for another Southern Oregon League contest. Other League games set for Sunday include Tri-City at Central Point and Grants Pass at Crescent City.

S. O. College Will Offer 55 State Scholarships

Mrs. Mabel Winston, registrar at Southern Oregon College, Ashland, announces that the college will offer a total of 55 state scholarships next year.

The recent Legislature granted funds for full scholarship fees to 10 per cent of those enrolled in teacher education—that amounts to 31 full fee scholarships. In addition, the college has 24 smaller state scholarships.

These scholarships are awarded by the High School Relations Committee of the State System of Higher Education. E. Dean Anderson is executive secretary.

will soon have to start placing recreation value of hunting and fishing higher than the food value, he said. Other states are meeting this same problem. The East, where no conservation was enforced, is having to work completely on a program of rehabilitation. However, the West, he believes, has started soon enough that it may conserve its resources.

Last year in Oregon 37,000 legal buck deer were reported killed. On an average of 100 pounds each at $1 a pound the meat was worth $3,700,000. This can't continue," he declared.

Antelope, one of the finest of game animals, were on the downhill, but under protection are being built up. Hunting this animal he said, is one of the finest of sports, because of an antelope's speed, alertness and timidity; but such practices of hunting them in automobiles at 60-miles-an-hour is very unsportsmanlike. An antelope, with slight meat value, is more of a trophy and a recreational animal.

The State Game Commission he described as a purely democratic institution, unlike a "valley authority," which issues orders. The Commission announces tentative regulations, hears protests and makes decisions accordingly. It may even have to act against its better judgment if protests are too extensive, Walsh said.

"If the people wish to destroy a resource, that is up to them, not up to the Commission," he stated. "But that is the democratic way. It is the Commission's duty to make you as citizens aware of what progresses."

Merger Of AFL And CIO Likely If Latter Junks Red Influences

CLEVELAND, May 19. — (AP) — AFL leaders today regarded merger of the AFL and CIO as a new and definite possibility if the CIO carries out its plan to purge its left-wing unions.

This development was learned from top leaders of the AFL, whose 15-man executive council is holding sessions here this week.

One important obstacle to the eventual consolidation of the two major labor federations already is being dissolved, in AFL opinion. That is the CIO's affiliation with the Soviet-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

The CIO, which helped to found the WFTU in 1945, has dropped its part in that organization and is on the way to formal withdrawal.

Now the CIO and AFL are co-operating in the formation of a new non-Communist worldwide labor federation. It will be set up at a meeting in Geneva June 25-26. The AFL has nearly 8,000,000 members and the CIO more than 6,000,000.

At the last meeting between the AFL and CIO on the merger question, in May, 1947, the WFTU was a big stumbling block. CIO President Philip Murray wanted the AFL to protest that activity. AFL leaders were unwilling to go along with Murray on that point and the talks bogged down immediately.

But today these same leaders privately express new hope that merger talks could succeed.

Soviet Keeps Part Of Ban In Blockade Lift

ing all blockades."

"If we can't settle this difference, then I will send a protest to the Russian military governor, Gen. Chuikov," Hays said.

"But I don't take a pessimistic view. I think the Russians issued the restriction to improve their bargaining position in the talks we have been having with them about an interim agreement between Eastern and Western Germany."

Hays expressed the opinion that "the Russians did not act in bad faith."

Mark's Value Is Factor

Western German officials contended the new restrictions were clamped down because the Soviet zone mark lost value after the lifting of the Russian blockade.

When the blockade ended one Western mark, officially valued at 30 cents, would buy 3.20 Soviet Zone marks. One West mark now will buy 4.50 of them.

Meanwhile freight destined for rail movements from West Berlin to Western Germany piled up in railroad yards, with no Soviet-operated locomotives in hand so it could move. The Russians insist that their locomotives draw trains between West Berlin and Western Germany.

Despite the new restrictions West Berlin jubilantly saw fresh fish and potatoes come off the ration list today.

The city government allowed stores to sell the two foodstuffs in unlimited quantities and at uncontrolled prices which proved to be lower than the ration prices during the blockade. Chocolate, cocoa and tea are expected to be de-rationed soon, too.

Sift flour before measuring.
Use level measurements for all ingredients.
Sift together into a mixing bowl —
2 cups sifted Sperry Drifted Snow "Home-Perfected" Enriched Flour
1/2 teaspoon double-action baking powder (or, 3/4 teaspoon single-action baking powder)
1 teaspoon salt
Add —
1/2 cup shortening (part butter for flavor)
Cut into flour mixture with 2 knives or a pastry blender until shortening is well distributed but there are still some pea-size lumps. Add —
1/2 cup cream, or undiluted evaporated milk
Mix to a moderate dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and divide dough evenly into 12 pieces. Roll each piece into a circle about 4 inches in diameter. Place 6 of the rounds on a lightly greased baking sheet and place a spoonful of cherries in the center of each, using in all —

1 1/2 cups pitted fresh cherries
Over the cherries sprinkle —
1/4 cup granulated sugar
In the centers of the remaining pastry rounds cut a small hole the size of a quarter, or cut several gashes with a sharp knife. Moisten edges of pastry, place tops over the Cherry Rounds and press edges together. Then turn the sealed edge in toward center, about 1/4 inch, pressing dough down firmly to shape and seal edge. Bake in a preheated hot oven, 425°, for 15-20 min. Serve warm with plain or whipped cream, or vanilla ice cream. 6 servings.
