Charm Chat

By Leola B. Gorton

You can't treat a head cold with cosmetics. However, when the cold is gone your road back to an attractive appearance will be a much shorter one if you've had the fortitude, even in misery, to do your best by your face. That red nose won't be quite so red and the skin on your face and neck won't be quite so dry if there has been a liberal nightly creaming. Your hair will still resemble hair instead of dry grass if you've brushed it regularly and possibly applied a little dressing. The worst thing about the damage that a cold does to your appearance is the coincidental lack of desire on your part to do anything about it. It'll pay you to make an extra effort, though, because the sooner you're looking right, the sooner you'll be feeling right.

Father William L. Blaker Will Exchange Pastorates With Fr. Tyson Of St. Helens

Fr. Alfred S. Tyson, pastor of the Episcopal mission at St. Helens, Ore., will become rector of St. George's parish, Roseburg, July 1. Fr. William Blaker, who has served the Roseburg parish since February, 1944, will assume the work at St. Helens.

Announcing his resignation to his Roseburg congregation, Fr. Blaker, who is nearing voluntary retirement age, stated that growth of the work at Roseburg, where the church has been expanding rapidly, both in membership and activity, forces him to seek a location with lighter labor. The Roseburg parish, which requires long hours and much automobile travel, needs a younger priest, Father Blaker declared. A student assistant will aid Father Tyson during the vacation period.

The incoming pastor is a native of Oregon. Born near Eugene, he attended public schools there and received his Bachelor degree in 1937 and Master degree in economics in 1939. He continued theological studies at Church Divinity School of the Pacific at Berkeley, Calif., from which he was graduated in 1947.

An officer in the Infantry Reserve, he was prevented from taking active service during the World War because of defective eyesight. Prior to completing his theological studies, he served 14 years as church organist and as lay worker and vestryman. He was organist, deacon and assistant pastor at St. Mark's Church, Berkeley, before going to St. Helens.

He will be accompanied to Roseburg by his wife and their 19-month-old daughter, Charlotte Louise. Father Blaker came to Roseburg from a long pastorate at Denver, Colo. During the period of his service for the local parish, he has officiated at 135 baptisms and 123 confirmations and has seen a large increase in communicant strength, which now stands at 270. He has supervised many improvements to the physical properties of the church, particularly in furnishings and fixtures.

Recreational Activities For Hospitalized Vets Topic Of Director Toman At Kiwanis

The importance of self-participation by patients at the Veterans Hospital in various recreational activities was discussed by Joe Toman, recreational director, who spoke briefly before the Roseburg Kiwanis Club's Tuesday noon luncheon.

The meeting was also featured by a short discussion by Miss Barbara Weiss of the Toastmistress Club on the American Legion-sponsored poppy sale, this Friday and Saturday. She outlined the history of the poppy, and its value both in bringing remuneration to disabled veterans and in giving hospitalized veterans something to do by making the poppies.

Morris Roach Jr., speaking for the Kiwanis-sponsored Senior Scouts, reported that a definite meeting place the first and third Wednesdays in the Armory has been secured. He discussed the summer air camp at Spokane, Wash., Aug. 20 to 27. An assistant advisor to assist W. H. Scofield is needed, and a drive is to be launched for new members, he stated.

Irvin Brunn and Col. Medorem F. Crawford spoke on the program to provide patients at the Veterans Hospital with recreation, by taking well patients on fishing trips or on general outings. A request was made for serviceable fishing equipment which may be loaned to the patients. This may be left either with Mr. Brunn or Col. Crawford.

Toman, addressing the group on the subject, "The Way Back," stressed the importance of contact with the outside world and normal people in hastening the patients' recovery.

Treatment and training comes under the team headings of medical, nursing, occupational therapy, physical and psychological therapy and recreation. For the patients who are able, participation in an orchestra, a barber shop quartet, choir singing and a music quiz are provided the musically inclined.

Lawn games, such as croquet and Business and Professional Women's-sponsored card parties are provided. Fifteen different sports are arranged, including softball, golf, tennis, badminton, punching bags, outings, fishing, hikes, study of rocks and others. Last week 25 boys were taken on a trip up Rock Creek, said Toman.

Approximately 350 of the nearly 600 patients participate in some form of activity. Such forms of entertainment as dramatics, social activities and dances are included. Three movies are provided weekly, traveling camp shows come once a month, and dances are arranged three times monthly.

Such groups as the American Legion, D. A. V., V. F. W., Elks, Gold Star Mothers and Navy Mothers assist with entertainment, so the recreational end is fairly well taken care of.

But one of the principal needs, stressed, is personal contact with outsiders. He praised the Kiwanis Club's proposal that members take the patients on outings.

Publisher Gives Formula For Averting New War

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—Publisher Eugene C. Pulliam, returning Tuesday from a European tour which took him behind the Iron Curtain, gave this basic formula for averting a Third World War:

"I. We must keep Russia out of the Ruhr and (2) we must keep cartels from being built up in Europe."

Pulliam said probably the most important developments in Europe at present is that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia "is making his independent attitude toward Russia stick."

Available patients can be arranged practically any day, he said.

There is a definite need for more volunteer work to relieve the burden on those now assisting, Toman pointed out. Transportation is one of the needs. Taking patients to the Country Club for golf which has been arranged each Monday, and transporting of patients to various local activities, including sporting events, picnics, rodeos, concerts and other events are the principal summer needs, he said.
