MODEL G-26 Cuts 26" swath

Here's the Rotary Tiller that has brought new thinking and new ideas to soil preparation. The M-E granulates soil — mulches surface vegetation — increases the air and moisture content of soil — produces a moisture conserving stratum of mulch — speeds up the soil's process of producing humus — mixes and breaks up soil for a steady flow of plant nutrients to the growing plant. The M-E results in "healthy", dynamic soil that is able to continually rebuild itself. See the M-E at our display rooms. Understand its great utility — preparing root beds, (seed bed plus root growth depth), cultivating, mowing, ditching, spraying, grading, snowplowing, etc.

Arrange for FREE DEMONSTRATION ON YOUR OWN LAND
 You will quickly understand why so many thousands of progressive growers have chosen the M-E for their soil building programs.

Oregon Tax Revenues Nearly Equal '48 Pace
 SALEM, May 27. — (AP) — State personal and corporation income tax collections are running almost as high as they did last year. The State Tax Commission said that collections in the first four months of this year totaled $29,175,223, or $250,000 less than in the similar period of last year. Earl L. Fisher, state tax commissioner in charge of the income tax division, said collections this year would be as great as last year's all-time record. Collections now are eight times as great as they were in 1940, and are almost three times as great as they were in 1943.

WINS GEOLOGY TRIP UNIVERSITY OF OREGON
 Eugene, May 27. — (Special) — Lem in Ramp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ramp, Roseburg, is one of 16 upper-division and graduate students in geology at the University of Oregon who will take part in the six-week geology summer camp beginning June 22. First half of the camp will be spent at the Horse Heaven Mine near Ashwood, and a trip will also be made to the John Day fossil beds. Headquarters will be at the marine biology station at Coos Bay the last three weeks. University credit will be given for this summer work. Ramp is a junior major in geology.
