Railway service between Shang-hai and Nanking was getting back to normal. The first train to Nanking departed late Friday after two officers arrived to head the railway department of the Communist military control coun-

Newspapers said the Shanghai-Nanking line has only a 10-day supply of coal.

Another problem is shipping, without which Shanghai can not libe without which Shanghai can not live.

Foreign and Chinese shipping lines were trying to contact the proper Communist authorities to negotiate resumption of service. Foreign air line officials here were doing the same thing.

A spokesman for American President Lines said it would like to bring ships in as soon as possible.

Problem Today
SHANGHAI, May 31.—(P)—
This largest city under Chinese Communist rule was returning to normal today after the long siege and disruption of its economic life.

The Shanghal Power Company has fuel oil for only 16 days. For the past several months its oil supplies have been paid for with ECA foreign exchange.
The Red regime will face a critical situation unless more oil can be produced speedily.

'Thievery' Hit By Grand Jury

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.-(P) —A special grand jury which has been investigating Philadelphia municipal affairs for a year wound up its probe Friday with charges of "outright thievery" and "consultate." conspiracy.

A 230-page report on the grand jury's investigation was handed up to Judge Raymond MacNeille, who swore in the jurors last June 18.

Since that time, more than a some that time, more than a score of indictments have been brought against city officials. One tax office employee committed suicide. Impeachment charges are pending against the receiver of taxes. The director of supplies and purchases has been fired.

Much of the report was directed against the dismissed director, Charles H. Grakelow, 69.

The report accused him of vio-lating the criminal code in selling floral products in Philadelphia. It said also that city funds were used in making purchases for "the personal use of Director Grake-

The report hits specifically at what it called a "racket" in the distribution and maintenance forces of the bureau of water in moving and relocating fireplugs.

The Philadelphia mint in 1932 produced 14,500,000 coins.

to normal today after the long siege and disruption of its economic life. But the complex problems attendant to the running of a metropolis of 6,000,000 persons already were beginning to be felt. Communist officials have not set the rates for their new currency, the Jen Min Plao. Consequently, merchants who are rapidly reopening their places of business won't take the old Nationalist currency, which was floated in great volume before the Communists took the city.
