

EGGS FALL FLAT—This white leghorn hen owned by Mrs. Charles Valek, of Valley View, a Cleveland, O., suburb, lays flat eggs. But every now and then, the bird lays a normal rounded egg. Mrs. Valek doesn't know what to make of it. The healthy hen seems to think nothing is odd at all. She cackles just like other hens and for just as long. Mrs. Valek says she is going to put a flat egg under a setting hen to see if it hatches a flat chicken. A neighbor suggested it might produce a chicken pattie.

W.D.M.B. DIAL-LOG

Well, Memorial Day is past . . . not to mention the Hayworth-Kahn routine reaching its climax . . . and most important to Roseburgians was an event of last Friday night . . . when the city's sparkling new swimming pool was officially opened to the public. That means ten-thousand screaming people will all be swimming at once on the warm days to come—or—Hate to mention it Mac, but you've got your foot in my eye—and I had it on that terrific lifeguard up until this moment. . . . Yea verily . . . 'tis Roseburg's dream come true . . . and a boon to fishermen who'll have the North and South Umpqua Rivers all to themselves. Swimmers diving into that favorite fishing area will be a rarity. The two sports just don't mix!

Portland—City of Roses—shrugged its big rosey shoulder and said "No—you can't display Roseburg's Rodeo Queen in our big Rose Festival Parade in McKay's big flashy convertible . . . unless you deck the thing all out with flowers down to the hub-caps. . . ." How d'ya like that?

And so to programming: Tonight's "Favorite Story" at 7:30 takes its listeners into the Valley of the Blue Moon when Ronald Colman stars in James Hilton's "Lost Horizon" . . . a favorite of millions. "Jovin Jamboree" will be heard at 8:30 . . . and "John Steele, Adventurer" at 10.

New show starts tomorrow night in the 7 to 7:15 time period . . . followed by the "Sammy Kaye Showroom" at 7:15. Don't miss the "What's the Name of That Song" fun-fest tomorrow night at 8 . . . and Elliot Lewis in "The Casebook of Gregory Hood" at 10.

Eye Removed After Bark Strikes Mill Worker; Comings, Goings Noted

By MRS. BRITAIN SLACK
News-Review Feature Editor
Murray Welsh was injured last Thursday at the Sutherlin Timber Co.'s mill, when a piece of bark hit him below the eye. He was taken to a Eugene hospital and Friday morning his wife was called to that city, as the injury proved to be so serious that the eye had to be removed. The report today is that he is getting along "very nicely" and will be able to come home soon.

Vern Holgate, who was injured very seriously about two weeks ago, is reported to be getting along "very nicely." X-rays show that vertebrae in his neck were not broken and that only one was cracked. His doctor stated that if he shows continued improvement, he will be able to be brought home soon.

Special Benefits Offered in Bill

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The Senate Friday passed without opposition a "hush-hush" bill to broaden the powers of the Central Intelligence Agency. It offers special benefits to American spies and their informers. A similar measure has been approved by the House. Minor differences will have to be adjusted before the legislation is sent to President Truman. Senator Tydings (D-Md.), floor manager for the bill, said the authority never would be used to create a secret police system at home. He said all operations of the Central Intelligence Agency are conducted abroad. It was set up in 1947 by combining all of the varied wartime "cloak and dagger" and separate military and diplomatic intelligence services under a single agency. The biggest change in existing law would be permission to admit up to 100 aliens each year "for permanent residence" in this country without regard to usual immigration quotas or restrictions. These would be foreigners who had performed special intelligence duties overseas for this country and faced possible torture or death for such activities. The aliens would be allowed to bring their immediate families with them. As a precaution against possible misbehavior after arrival here, the aliens could be deported later for cause.

"because shipments are handled more carefully!"

Mr. W. H. Holcomb, shipping clerk for Portland Woolen Mills, says, "West Coast's careful handling of Wool-of-the-West blanket shipments during 1948 was done without a single instance of claims or damages. We recommend them highly."

Since damaged goods are slow to move off retailers' shelves, West Coast's experienced, careful handling can be a definite asset to your sales program. There's much more to shipping than just hauling the load, as many concerns have already learned. Next time, route West Coast and see for yourself!

$1,500 Reward Offered For Lost Flier Location

A reward of $1,500 is offered for the location or information leading to the location of Colonel A. Y. Smith, Air Force, Colonel Walter W. Hodge, Army, and Master Sergeant H. E. Sluga, Air Force, or their bodies. This offer expires June 30, 1949.

This will be paid by the wives of the men who disappeared in a B-26 on April 21, 1949, on a flight from Hamilton Field, Calif. to Portland, Ore. When last heard from, near Portland, the plane had a supply of gasoline sufficient to take it to any part of Oregon, Washington, or back into Northern California.

A search of certain areas conducted by the Air Rescue Service ended May 12, with negative results. It is believed by the families that the men may have parachuted or landed in some remote area, and may be awaiting rescue.

Anyone finding these men contact the nearest ranger station, sheriff's office, highway patrol, Army or Air Force station, or the Civil Air Patrol Headquarters, 291 Geary Street, San Francisco, Calif. The reward money is on deposit at the American Trust Company, presidio of San Francisco, Calif.
