GLENDALE B. P. W. C. HAS INTERESTING MEETING THURSDAY

The Glendale Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular meeting on the evening of May 12 at the Ida Edson home. Officers were elected for the coming six-month period. Georgia Park resigned her office as Vice President, and was replaced by Ida Edson, but all other charter officers retained their original position: Mae Bayse, president; Daphne Sillings, secretary; Esther Paronem, treasurer.

Plans were made for the B. P. W. Charter dinner which will be held June 4 at the Presbyterian Church. A delegation from Grants Pass will be present to present a charter to the local group.

Plans were also discussed for summer picnics and for working with various other civic and community organizations for town betterment.

The program feature for the evening was a very interesting talk by Mr. Ferguson, head of the Douglas County Forest Protective Association on the duties of forest rangers and fire fighting methods. Mention was also made of a new Forest Ranger Barracks to be located between Azalea and Canyonville.

Refreshments were served by Daphne Sillings and Georgia Park. The next meeting will be held Thursday, May 26, at the Edson home with Esther Paronem and Esther Perry acting as hostesses.

Have a hard time deciding what color lipstick to use? Experiments with various shades will help you to learn what's best for your coloring and complexion but here's what some experts say. If you're a light blonde with blue eyes, stock to the pinks and light reds. If your coloring is a little darker, choose a slightly darker red but avoid those with the deeper, purple shades. If you're a definite brunette with dark eyes and olive skin, a rich, crimson lipstick could be yours and if you're a redhead, use the pink to red shades. You'll still have to experiment to find your best colors but these suggestions may save a little time by narrowing your choice.

Film Of Desert Oil Enterprise Shown Kiwanis

"Desert Venture," a motion picture depicting development of the Arabian American Oil Co., a subsidiary of Standard of California, in Saudi Arabia, was shown to Kiwanis Club members at their noon luncheon Tuesday by O. E. Palmateer of Portland.

Hardships endured by the pioneers who first believed sufficiently in the venture to devote their efforts toward developing the project, and the lifting of the living standards of the people of Arabia were pictorially told.

More than three years of toll were expended in drilling efforts under very difficult conditions, before oil in commercial quantities was found. By 1951 an estimated production of 750,000 gallons daily is expected. The venture cost an estimated $40,000,000, but it is predicted that the wells by 1951 can handle the demands of Europe, while South American Oil can meet the United States requirement.

The development of oil in Arabia has brought a new life to the people of that country. Canals bring fresh water and formerly barren waste lands have been made productive by irrigation, the picture revealed.

from the third floor of the hall during fighting last night.

The mob gathered as the municipal assembly met to consider new security regulations. The students locked arms and defied police.

Stave swinging policemen waded in to clear them out of the building.

U. Of O. Scholarships Await High School Seniors

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene—(Special)—Scholarships totaling more than $2,000 are being awarded to high school seniors who will enter the University of Oregon this fall. The awards are made by the two state organizations of Oregon Mothers and Oregon Dads.

Nineteen students will benefit from the scholarships, which are given annually on the basis of fitness as university students as shown by high school records, qualities of personality and estimates of references.

Three name scholarships, the Petronella G. Peets, the Burt Barker and the Louise H. Cook, are given by the Oregon Mothers. Each is $200.

Four awards given in memory of the late university president, Dr. Donald M. Erb, are for $100 each. These come from the Oregon Dads.

Low Pay Means Inferior Army Officers—Bradley

WASHINGTON, June 1. — (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, said Tuesday that unless adequate pay and opportunities are available to promising young officers there is danger that the Army will be led by "second raters."

Bradley spoke out in protest against what he called the failure of the House to realize the importance of pay raises for officers as well as non-commissioned officers and enlisted men. He addressed the political study group of Washington, a women's group.

"Inferior inducements attract second rate men," said Mr. Bradley. "Second rate men invite second best security. In war there is no second prize for the runner up."
