REPAIRS QUAKE DAMAGE—This 180-foot inclined hoist is nearing completion at the state legislative building in Olympia, Wash., for removal of the 100-ton stone cupola, damaged by the April 13 earthquake. A steel platform will be built around the cupola (upper right) and the heavy stones will be lowered on a "skip" which rides the inclined hoist. The building was evacuated after the quake when engineers reported the loosened stonework could, conceivably, fall through the building. (AP Wire-photo)

John L. Lewis Blasts Mine Owners For Alleged Failure To Provide Safety Systems

WASHINGTON, June 1 — (AP) — John L. Lewis Tuesday bitterly denounced state officials and coal mine operators for what he called their failure to assure safety in the mines.

The United Mine Workers' chief called on Congress to "act now" by passing a bill which would give federal inspectors the right to close mines in cases where they felt there was imminent danger.

He declared some mine operators have no concern for human life and contemptuously referred to them as "polecats." Seven state mine inspection agencies, he asserted, "choose to ignore completely" the safety provisions of the present laws.

Lewis testified before a Senate Labor Subcommittee which is studying that bill.

Glowering in his usual manner, speaking now in a thundering voice, now in a whisper, Lewis said that during the last 19 years 1,259,081 miners have been "maimed, mangled and killed" in the coal pits.

He added that during the first two years of World War II, casualties in the mines exceeded those in the Armed Services.

"For the one (the service casualties), there was concern," Lewis declared. "For the others, there was unconcern in any public sense."

Alluding to Merlin, the legendary magician of King Arthur's day, Lewis told the committee: "If I had the power of a Merlin, I would march that million and a quarter men past the Congress of the United States. The quick and the dead."

"I would have the ambulatory injured drag the dead after them."

The UMW chief said he could have the maimed and the mangled crawl past "so the Congress might see them trailing their bowels after them," he added.

"I would have the concourse flanked by five weeping members of each family."

He painted a picture of 6,250,000 people "wailing and lamenting" while they filed past the Congress members.

Telephone Rate Boosts For Roseburg, Oakland Listed; Company Voices 'Distress'

According to R. J. Henwood, local manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the telephone rate changes for service in Roseburg, which now has more than 5,000 telephones, involve monthly rate increases as follows:

Residence service, four-party, $25; two-party, $50; one party, $1.00; suburban, $25. Business service, two-party, $1.00; one party, $1.75, and suburban, $1.00.

The rate increase for Oakland, which now has more than 300 telephones, will be as follows: Residence service: Four-party, $50; two-party, $75; one party, $1.00; suburban, $50. Business service, two-party, $1.00; one party, $1.50; suburban, $75.

Increases also apply to other exchange rates and charges, including service connection, move and change, and installation charges, as well as extension telephones and certain miscellaneous services.

For intrastate long distance service, all present 5c routes will be changed to 10c for station calls for the period. Minimum charges for collect calls will be 20c and for person calls will be 25c for the first three minutes with 5c for each overtime minute. In certain additional mileage steps from 10 miles to 172 miles, there will be 3c and 10c increases on station calls.

According to Public Utilities Commissioner James Flagg, the federal government will take in taxes 47 cents from each dollar of the increase, giving the company only 53 cents of the increase paid by the phone users. Company dissatisfied.

In connection with Commissioner Flagg's order, F. D. Tellwright, vice president and general manager for Oregon for The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, made the following comment:

"We are distressed that the order does not allow the rates requested in our application. We had applied only for the minimum amount required to repair the credit of the Company."

"The maintenance of sound credit of the Company is in the interest not only of the stockholders and employees of the Company, but also in the interest of the public because it is only with sound credit that the Company will be able to provide the kind of telephone service the people of Oregon want and should have."

"Our application was made in July, 1948—almost a year ago. Since then expenses have increased, due particularly to a substantial wage adjustment made last October.

"We have not yet had an opportunity to study the order in detail and until we do we cannot comment on what further steps may be necessary to secure adequate relief."

Oregon Aerial Tourists Congressmen's Guests

WASHINGTON, June 1 — (AP) — One hundred aerial tourists from Portland, Ore., arrived Tuesday in 40 private planes and were luncheon guests of Oregon members of Congress.

They were welcomed by Senators Cordon and Morse, Secretary of Air M. Stuart Symington also spoke briefly.

On their arrival at Erco Field in nearby Riverdale, Md., the fliers' leader, L. S. White, received a key to the city from Commissioner John R. Young of the District of Columbia.

White said the average age of the fliers is 46 years and that most of them learned to fly after reaching 40. He said the group will break up here and most of its members will visit different parts of the country before returning home.

Lawyer's Aide Arrested As Subversive Alien

SEATTLE, June 1 — (AP) — Mrs. Hazel Anne Wolfe, a lawyer's secretary, was arrested Tuesday by the Immigration and Naturalization Service on charges of membership in an organization which advocates overthrow of the government by force.

John P. Boyd, the Service's district director, said that Mrs. Wolfe was taken into custody on a warrant issued by the office of the commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Wolfe, 51, is a Canadian citizen, Boyd said. She was arrested at the office of Atty. John Caughlan, where she has been his secretary. She was taken to the immigration station and held in $1,000 bond.

The warrant of arrest charged Mrs. Wolfe with being a member of an organization which distributes literature advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence, and that she is a member of an organization which "advocates and teaches" such overthrow.

Boyd said that Mrs. Wolfe, who is divorced, was born in Victoria.

Ex-Postmistress Gets Reformatory Sentence

SEATTLE, June 1 — (AP) — Mrs. Katherine Parker, 41-year-old former postmaster at Burley, Kitsap County, was sentenced Tuesday to a year and a day in the Federal Reformatory for women at Alderson, W. Va., for unauthorized use of postal funds. The sentence was given by federal Judge Lloyd L. Black. Mrs. Parker had pleaded guilty to one count of a grand jury secret indictment charging that she unlawfully converted $1,716.15 in postal funds to her own use.

The other counts were dismissed on recommendation of Vaughn Evans, assistant U. S. attorney.

Jam and Jelly Makers...

HERE'S PECTIN PREFERENCE that REALLY MEANS SOMETHING!

Commercial jam and jelly makers must know and use the pectin that assures finest results at lowest cost. Most of them prefer only POWDERED Pectin (not liquid) . . . so 3 out of 4 use M.C.P. POWDERED PECTIN. Why M.C.P.? Because (1) It's colorless, odorless, tasteless. Does not alter natural color and flavor of fruits and berries. (2) It has more effective pectin strength. Keeps better, goes farther. (3) It's more economical. Costs no more, gives more for the money—tells more fruit and sugar, makes more glasses.
