Pendleton School System's Uproar Ended By Resignation Of Superintendent Armstrong

PENDLETON, June 2.—(P)—The uproar in the Pendleton school system came to a dramatic end Wednesday with the resignation of Supt. Louis Armstrong.

Tuesday night the Pendleton Association of Parents pledged itself to defeat a special school budget election Thursday unless Armstrong resigned. Another group of citizens, backing Armstrong, passed petitions Wednesday praising the superintendent and urging cooperation with the School Board.

A report received from D. A. Emerson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, criticized the School Board, the Pendleton Association of Teachers, the public, Armstrong and two teachers involved in the conflict. Emerson headed a committee of four out-of-town education experts asked to make a report of the struggle.

The group charged "lack of harmony and cooperation" in the school system. Harold Barnett, chairman of the board, disclosed that the board would pay Armstrong $8,000 to break his three-year contract. Had he served out his contract he would have received $22,500.

"There seems to be a definite attempt by a minority group to cause friction and unrest in the school and the community," Armstrong said in his letter of resignation. "This makes it impossible to administer school matters in a composed and orderly manner." The Emerson report, Barnett disclosed, generally recommended that for the purpose of harmony Armstrong and Benjamin Jordan, one of the two high school teachers, should resign. The other teacher, Charles Baker, already had resigned. Barnett added that Baker's resignation would have been recommended had he not already quit.

An eight-page paper detailing grievances was issued last weekend by the Parents Association. The paper declared that the dismissal of one of the high school teachers was at first de-

Bus Drivers' Walkout Ties City Transportation

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 2.—(P)—A walkout of bus drivers halted public transportation in this industrial city of 167,000 Wednesday.

Members of the AFL Bus Drivers Union failed to start the morning runs. Union President M. J. Lyden said the men were in "continuous meetings." Negotiations for a new contract with the Youngstown Municipal Railway began about eight weeks ago and continued through Tuesday midnight, when the old contract expired.

The union asked a wage increase of 25 cents an hour and 13 changes in working rules for its 300 members. Drivers have been receiving $1.34 an hour.

BAD NEWS FOR ROMEOS MEDFORD, June 2.—(P)—Don't depend on mistletoe to get you that kiss next Christmas. Mistletoe hereabouts is dying. County Agent C. B. Cordy said last winter's cold weather likely was responsible, although grubs feeding at the base of the parasite was offered as another possible cause.

manded on the ground of "incompetence." The teacher later was threatened by a morality charge, the paper said, growing out of demands made by a member of the School Board whose daughter is a high school pupil. The accused faculty member was backed by other teachers.

New Trial Sought By Alleged Tax Evader

TACOMA, June 2.—(P)—L. Sley L. Francis, Spokane business man found guilty last Thursday by a federal jury on six counts of income tax evasion, Wednesday sought a new trial in a petition filed in U. S. District Court here.

Judge Charles H. Leavy has not yet set a date for hearing on the petition.

The petition alleges the indictment on which Francis was charged did not contain a specific offense; that there were errors in court procedure and that the jury was not correctly instructed before leaving the courtroom to decide upon the case.

Francis is facing a maximum of 30 years in prison and fines in excess of $60,000. Date of sentencing has not yet been set.

Appropriations Pruned By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(P)—The Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday trimmed nearly $13,000,000 from funds voted by the House to operate the Senate, Justice and Commerce Departments.

It recommended that the Senate approve $761,000,000. This is $12,839,821 less than voted by the House. It is about $70,000,000 below President Truman's budget estimates of what the departments will need in the 12 months beginning July 1.

It was the first appropriations bill to reach the Senate this year containing a lower figure than voted by the House.
