

Credit Assn. Men Plan To Attend District Meet

Four directors of the Southern Oregon Production Credit Association will leave June 4, to attend a district-wide conference of Association officers and directors in Spokane, June 6 and 7. Arthur M. Borer, secretary-treasurer of the local Association, announced today. Borer will also attend.

Directors making the trip will be President J. E. Young of Roseburg, Lester Adams of Applegate, Lawrence Luy of Medford and Wesley Chappell of Bandon. Vice-President Ralph L. Cook will be unable to attend the conference because of a previous engagement.

This is the first district-wide conference of the production credit associations since the fall of 1934, according to Borer. The meeting will bring together around 200 directors and secretary-treasurers, representing the 30 associations in Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington. These associations have a membership of 18,000 and a loan volume of approximately $35,000,000.

Borer said the directors will take part in two panel discussions, one on the agricultural credit situation in the Pacific Northwest, and the other on financial planning for the associations.

Featured speakers at the conference will be Sherman Johnson, assistant chief, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and C. R. Arnold, production credit commissioner, Farm Credit Administration, both of Washington, D. C., and Wm. L. Teutsch, assistant director of extension, Oregon State College, who will discuss the proposed farm program of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

This year's meeting, according to Borer, will observe the 15th anniversary of the association's cooperative credit program in the four Northwest states. Progress made during that 15-year period will form part of one of the panel discussions. Six of the 30 associations already have attained full member-ownership and others are rapidly reaching that goal.

Public Work Projects Planned For W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 3.—(AP)—American officials have disclosed plans to fight Western Germany's serious unemployment problem with public works projects.

"With 1,200,000 jobless and the number growing monthly, Western Germany may face an unemployment crisis unless something is done," these officials said.

They expressed the hope that projects such as housing, and power developments, which shoot money into the economy, might foster a general economic expansion.

German authorities have been asked to prepare a list of projects. The Economic Cooperation Administration mission to Germany has agreed to finance "worthwhile" projects with counterpart funds.

The Way to Perfect Health

That health is always the natural condition of man is made wholly clear in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Through the thoughtful reading of this book, which contains the complete explanation of Christian Science, thousands have been completely and permanently healed of every manner of disease.

VANPORT A YEAR AFTER—The flooding Columbia River crashed into the city of Vanport, Ore., one year ago with the destructive force seen in top photograph. It is shown below as it is today. A few trees, chimneys and water towers survive. Some of the buildings were sold for salvage. A few plumes of smoke mark the fate of the rest. (AP Wirephoto.)

Security, Mankind's Oldest Quest, Flies Too Fast To Be Overtaken

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP)—The big grab today is for security. Individual men want it. Nations want it. The world wants it. And that is why, perhaps, men, nations and the world are all nervous, touchy, irritable. They all have the jitters—emotional as well as political and financial jitters.

Every person and every group wants to feel safe from life's multiple disasters. It is as true of a railroad porter in Omaha as it is of a Wall Street broker or that man in the Kremlin.

The broker looks under his bed to see if a Communist is lurking there. Joe Stalin looks to see if a capitalist spy is hiding under his crimson couch cover.

The lover worries whether his true love will stay true to him. The poor man worries whether his job will last. The rich man worries whether he can hold his riches, and he thinks the masses are leagued in a plot to take his money.

And all of them worry whether they can keep their youth, their beauty, their strength or their teeth—and none of them can.

Security isn't a goal of just the classes or the masses. It is the goal of all. The search for security is mankind's oldest quest, his eldest dream. He has sought it since he was exiled from the Garden of Eden.

Futile Endeavor
But security is an odd thing. The faster you chase it the faster it flies from you. The more you want to be secure, the more insecure you feel. For security to the average man means keeping what he has—or getting what he hasn't. He wants to make himself a changeless island in a world of change. And that is rather hard to do on a globe where men are born, grow old and die.

Death is the final negation of the hope for security on earth. Heaven—and all races pray to a heaven of some kind—may be the positive answer. For this answer we must wait and yearn—and earn, if we are wise.

The one sure thing is there's no security while you're alive. And there never has been. Therefore it is foolish to expect it. Kings and clowns lose their crowns or their sense of humor. And disease at last will take a lady in the highest castle as surely as it does the poorest work-worn woman in the lowest hovel. War and famine, these have been always with us, too, twin nightmares that ruin our long dream of peace and plenty.

The earth, our wonderland, renews its beauty. We aspire and pass, never to walk this same old path in the same old way again. But why should this fact be a ticket to despair?

Examples Described
I know of a millionaire who is deathly afraid of Communism and the atom bomb. He built himself a subterranean shelter and stocked it with food enough to last him and his family for years. Is that security? If it is, he doesn't feel it.

I know of a woman who also was afraid of the atom bomb. Figuring that New York would be a primary target in the event of another war, she bought a house in New Mexico. Then she learned it was near Los Alamos, a capital of American atom bomb secrets.

She moved back and bought a home in Long Island. No sooner was she settled in it than she discovered that in nearby Brook ington, addressing the session, called upon Christian laymen to develop a plan, "God's plan for building the walls that can preserve our civilization." The first need, he said, is to build a "peace wall."

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Roseburg, Oregon

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, ROSEBURG:

My Dear Friends:

Greetings to you—each of you—from the North Convention in San Francisco. We are in the midst of a session here. As some of you know, I just returned also from the Southern Baptist Convention in Oklahoma City. Thus I am full and running over with a new sense of the "love of God in Christ Jesus." Both these great conventions are more like an old fashioned revival meeting than anything I have ever seen. I honestly believe the revival we have been praying for is on.

In both services, Sunday, June 5th, I shall under God be telling of the great recent mountaintop experiences I have enjoyed. I shall tell of one outdoor service in a football stadium where THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND people gathered in Christ's name.

You will want to know how Northern and Southern Baptists are getting on together. Also as to whether Northern Baptists and our Christian Church friends are soon to unite. I want also to tell you about the good visit I had with Bron Clifford and the tearful half hour Hyman Appelman and I had on our knees together.

Do come Sunday and let us sing the praises of Christ together.

Yours Because of Christ—
(Signed) H. P. SCONE.

P. S.: Congratulations on the great progress of our new building. Listen in at 4:30 on Saturday afternoon for our broadcast.
