Hunch Pays Off; Woman Reunited With Children

PUEBLO, Colo., June 6.—(AP)—A hunch paid off for Mrs. Margaret Smith, 67, and Saturday she was reunited here with the three children she hadn't seen for 34 years. The Maxwell, N. M., woman also learned she is nine times a grandmother and three times a great-grandmother. Mrs. Smith said she happened to read in the paper that a marriage license was issued at Raton, N. M., to Dora Gelken and Chester Hargrave, both of Pueblo. Mrs. Smith became curious—her maiden name is Gelken. She wrote to Postmaster Ray H. Talbot of Pueblo. This led to her reunion with her two daughters, Mrs. Lulu Underwood of Pueblo, and Mrs. Rose Kelly of Arkansas City, Kas., and her son, Leonard Hensoth of Toledo, Ore. Mrs. Smith explained she and her husband separated in Missouri 34 years ago. The father kept the three children. She went to New Mexico and was married to Jake Smith, who died in December, 1917. Miss Gelken of the marriage license, incidentally, is Mrs. Smith's niece. She is the daughter of Henry H. Gelken of Pueblo, a brother of the New Mexico woman.

Missing are a tenor saxophone, an alto saxophone, a trumpet and a clarinet.
