Tiller Carnival Reported Success

Tiller residents are happy over the success of the recent school carnival. Everyone had a fine time and a good sum, of money was raised with which to buy school lunch-room equipment. Joanne Matthews was selected carnival queen, and she chose Royal Crume as her king, to reign for ohe evening, Judges for the various contests were— Justice of the Peace Nina Piet-zold of Canyonville; school prin-cipal, Mr. Childress of Days Creek; Stanley Williams of Med-ford, and Mrs. Burr Inscrop of Redding, Calif. Best costumes were chosen with Mrs. Louis Thomason tak-ing the honors as a pioneer woman, Charles Collins, in buck-skins, took the men's first prize.

woman, charles Collins, in buck-skins, took the men's first prize. The judges had a difficult de-clsion to make in all cases, as the costumes were varied and original, especially the children's. Nora Lee Crume took the clder girls' best costume award while Sandra Andrews took the young-er girls' first prize for a cos-tume appropriate to the spirit of the 49-er carnival. Young Steve Charters, dressed as a min-er carrying his pack and gold pan took the boys' award, and the finest and homeliest set of whiskers ever seen in "these here hills" were worn by George R, Aker Jr. Mrs. Oliver Bratten of Drew carried home the beautifully dressed doll act other

APPEAL TO VATICAN-Thomas H. Sennett, 26, and his fiancee. Doris M. Coulombe, 22, hold hands in St. Benedict's Center, a Catholic laymen's school at Cambridge, Mass. They claim they were denied permission to wed by Catholic authorities in Boston because of their association with the school which has been forbidden to Catholics. They have appealed to the Vatican. The school was closed to Catholics by the Archbishop after its di-rector, Rev. Leonard Feeney, was disciplined for speaking in support of three instructors discharged for accusing Boston College of teach "heresy." (AP Wirephoto)
