

Portland Symphony Lacks Finances For Season

PORTLAND, June 6.—(AP)—The Portland Symphony Orchestra will not play during the 1949-50 season. The Symphony Association announced Saturday that only $50,000 of the $140,000 in contributions needed to finance the orchestra had been forthcoming; not enough to continue the performances. The association said it would try to restore the orchestra in 1950-51, concentrating during the coming winter on obtaining more financial support. The orchestra was revived only two years ago, after a lapse of nearly a decade. That lapse, too, was caused by lack of money. Werner Janssen has conducted the orchestra for the last two seasons.

Workman Dies, One Hurt In California Explosion

RICHMOND, Calif., June 6.—(AP)—A workman died Saturday and another was in critical condition, the result of a $100,000 oil plant fire Friday night. Flames swept through tanks of linseed oil and tung oil at the factory of the King Oil Co. William C. Jackson, 34, of nearby San Pablo, died several hours after his body was engulfed in the flaming oil. Doctors said the other workman, H. H. Atkins, 59, of Richmond, may die. There was no explanation of the manner in which the blaze started. Flames shot 50 feet above the plant structure. The explosions were felt heavily in the neighborhood.

KDND DIAL-LOG

It takes all kinds—participants and prizes both—to make "Queen for a Day" the remarkable program it is. You can say that again—and again to emcee Jack Bailey, heard 11:30 a. m. week-days. The chosen "Queens" are by no means all quietly living housewives. One, for example, was a spinach salter in a canning factory. Another was a 92-year-old woman who was flown from Hollywood to San Francisco to ride a buckboard at a rodeo. And too, there have been a Hopi Indian Queen, a woman minister, and German war-bride. Requests of potential "Queens" no longer floor Jack, but they still keep him wondering. For example: "My ears stick out. I want them fixed." "I need a cowbell to get in the cows." "I'd like an adding machine for my rabbit farm." "A lamb to keep grandma's lawn mowed." "An electric refrigerator. My husband's an iceman and won't buy me one." Then there was the Queen who asked for some new clothes—and a husband. She got the clothes and on her return home to her Inglewood, Calif., home, received a telephoned marriage proposal from a business man in Zion, Ill. She accepted. In its first three years, it was estimated that "Queen for a Day" had given away 2,349 bouquets of roses, 287 radio-phonographs, 116 electric irons, 212 stoves, 178 vacuum cleaners, 374 table lighters, 162 coffee-makers, 203 washing machines, 154 sets of aluminum ware, 901 blouses, 463 bottles of perfume, 489 pearl necklaces, 453 pairs of shoes, and 523 cameras. "And that, says the Mr. Bailey who knows that it takes all kinds of people and prizes, "is only the beginning."

Tonight at 7:15, the "Sammy Kaye Showroom" will feature for its musical selections, "That Certain Party," "Whispering Water," "Sweet and Lovely," "A, You're Adorable," and "Four Winds and the Seven Seas." At 8 tonight, a 40-year-old spinster finds the man she wants to marry, but believes him to be in lethal danger from his hermit brother. When George Valentine is called in, he comes up with some surprising discoveries. The drama is titled "Death in Blue Jeans."

Mickey Rooney Takes Third Wife To Altar

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 6.—(AP)—Because he is scheduled to start a picture this week, pint-sized Mickey Rooney and his third wife will have no honeymoon. The third Mrs. Rooney, 24, the former Martha Vickers, wore spike heels which made her three inches taller than her husband. And she was 25 minutes late for the ceremony Friday. Rooney gave his age as 28. Rooney's first marital venture involved Actress Ava Gardner. Shortly before Friday's wedding, a final divorce decree from wife No. two, beautiful Betty Jane Rose, was entered in court records. Wife No. three recently shed movie Press Agent A. C. Lyles. The couple exchanged plain gold bands bearing the inscription "today, tomorrow and always I love you—M. R. to M. R." Quipped Rooney after the ceremony: "If this one doesn't work, there must be something wrong with me."

Record Log Drive's End Climaxes Celebration
PRIEST RIVER, Idaho, June 6.—(AP)—The Priest River log drive, declared by local observers to be the nation's largest, ended a 67-mile downriver plunge here yesterday. Officials of the Diamond Match Company said the millions of feet of timber came down the stream in the drive. A crowd of more than 2,000 was on hand to watch the finish, climax of a four-day celebration in this northern Idaho community.
