Red Cross swimming classes for non-swimmers are held in the mornings, and the pool is open for general use at 1 p. m. It remains open through the afternoon and evening. (Picture by Paul Jenkins.)

Three Tots Die In Ice Box When Fourth Shuts It

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 9.—(AP)—The Arkansas State Police reported today a 10-year-old boy said he slammed shut the door of an unopened ice box, causing deaths of three other children.

Police Lt. H. R. Peterson identified the boy as James (Buddy) Chesser, uncle of one of the victims.

The police officer quoted James as saying the children were playing "I-Spy" when all three climbed into the old-fashioned wooden box last Friday.

Then, Peterson continued, the boy related:

"He shut the door of the box and was unable to get it open. 'My mother called me then to go to the store. I was scared. I ran home and went to the store. Then I forgot.'

The victims were James Delbert Chastain, 2, and Joyce Ann Chastain, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chastain and Shirley Ann Ramsey, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramsey.

Young Chesser was an uncle of the Ramsey girl.

The old ice box was at the home of the Chastain children's parents in a farm community near Walnut Ridge.

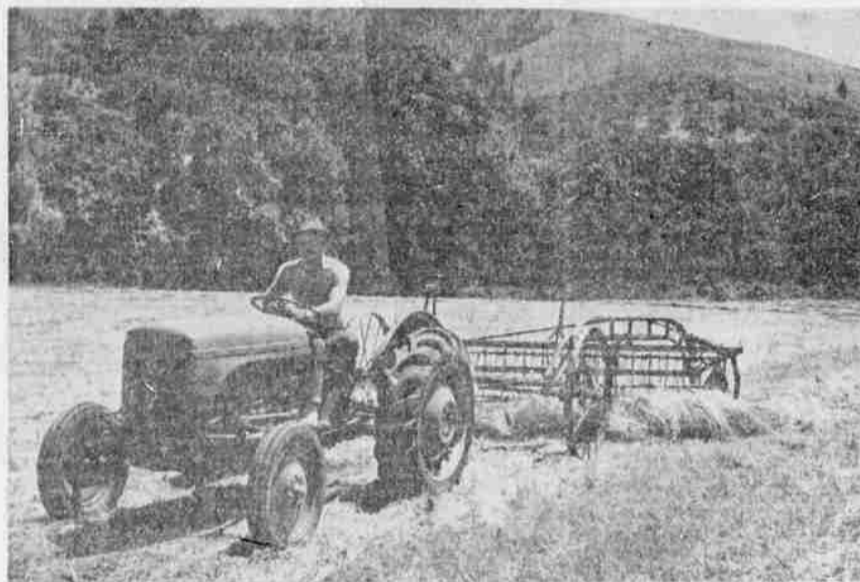

Mrs. Chastain discovered the children in the box when she returned home from work in the cotton fields.

Chesser was held in custody temporarily.

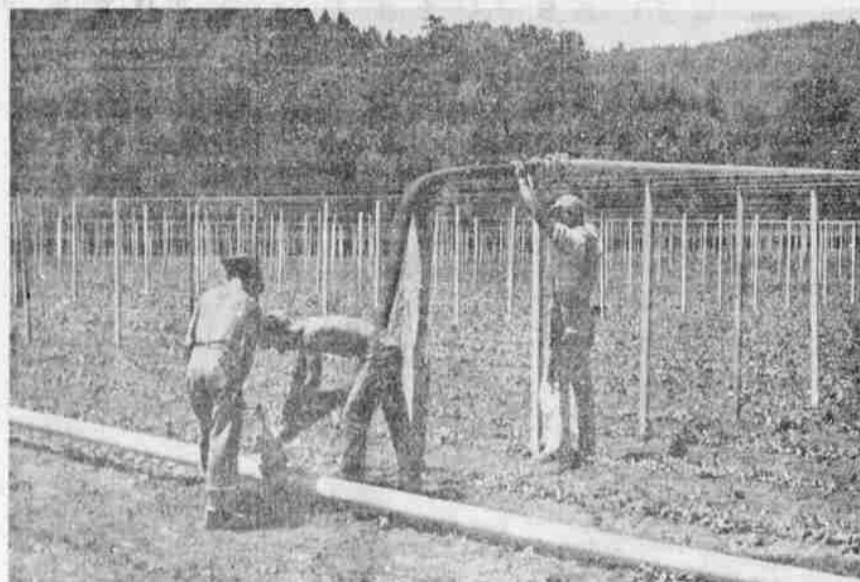

Peterson said he doubted there would be any charges.

"He's too young to do anything with even if it had been deliberate—and I don't believe it was," Peterson said.

This field is one of several on the Helgeson ranch, which lies along the South Umpqua River north of Myrtle Creek. Known in earlier days as the Pitz ranch, after its owner at the time, Pitzer Smith, it was purchased many years ago by the late J. Henry Booth and its area was considerably increased by him. At the turn of the century it consisted of about 2,200 acres; Mr. Booth built it up to about 3,600. (Picture by Paul Jenkins.)

Camps On Coast Well Patronized

Recreation camps along the coast near Reedsport were filled to capacity Sunday, with many would-be picnickers driving from one campsite to another in an effort to find a vacant table. The camps having swimming facilities are especially popular when a heat wave strikes the interior of the state.

Where overnight camping is not allowed, the gates are opened early in the mornings and many local people take advantage of the comparative lack of motorists in the camps at that time of day to drive to the camps and cook breakfast, when the water in the lakes is quiet and there is no wind.

Many motorists bring their own boats on trailers to enjoy surf-board riding, etc.

Patrol Car Wrecked In Chase; Officer Injured

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—A police patrol car went out of control at 50 miles an hour today while in pursuit of a car believed stolen and one of the occupants was seriously hurt.

Diamond Lake's Recreation Site Being Prepared

Recreation grounds at Diamond Lake are expected to be open for public use this coming weekend, announced M. M. Nelson, supervisor of the Umpqua National Forest. Much of the snow has melted while highways leading to the lake have been cleared by the State Highway Department.

Dick Hook, recreation guard for the Forest Service, will again be in charge of the Diamond Lake area. He will be stationed at the Diamond Lake Guard Station. There will be no charges for use of the public camp grounds at Diamond Lake, Nelson pointed out.

Highways to the Diamond Lake area link the recreation grounds with Klamath Falls (via U. S. 97) and Medford (via the Crater Lake Highway). The North Umpqua Road links Diamond Lake with Roseburg.

The Diamond Lake Lodge and the South End Store will be open for business by June 15, said Nelson. New owners of the lodge, Fox, Newley and Larson of Medford, have been at the Lake preparing for the opening.

Nelson said the road to the west side of Diamond Lake, where private summer homes are located, probably will not be clear of snow until later in the summer.

Miners' Chief Says Industry Will Benefit

said there is nothing in the contract to permit what Lewis referred to as a "stabilizing period of inaction."

As for the miners, their reaction was summed up by one UMW member who said: "John L. Lewis has always been right for us before, hasn't he?"

Helps Lewis' Purpose
The strike comes on the eve of crucial negotiation for a new contract. By reducing the 65,000,000 tons of stacked coal above ground, the walkout will bolster Lewis' bargaining position. It also will make more effective any new "no contract, no work" strike he might call in July.

The present industry agreement expires June 30.

Other likely byproducts are: (1) a sharp drop in the chances for repeal of the labor-hated Taft-Hartley law, and (2) a subsequent widening of the rift between Lewis and fellow labor leaders Philip Murray of the CIO and William Green of the AFL.

Little coal will be mined for some time. Next week's stoppage is to end June 20 but the miners start their annual vacation June 25.

The vacation period ends July 5—if there is a new contract to work under.

Shad Fishing Continues Good

Shad fishing in the Smith and Umpqua Rivers, which opened May 10, has been unusually good thus far. The season remains open until the first of July. This is the only type of commercial fishing now allowed in the Umpqua River.

Buyers are paying the same price as last year, 30 cents each for rose shad, and three cents each for hucks. During the early part of the season, the percentage of hucks caught was heavy, as customary, but in most instances the percentage of hucks is now steadily decreasing, and the catches are running almost all rose.

Some floating moss in the river, broken loose from upriver boulders and rock ledges by the tides, is bothering the fishermen by fouling their nets, making it necessary to clean them frequently.

Unusually heavy winds at night during the past weekend has caused additional loss of fish in some localities when the shad fall from the nets as they are being picked up and cleared.

Lewis' Strike Order Arouses Bitterness

over strategy in the Senate labor fight.

Lewis said the two other labor leaders reportedly had made "secret" deals to accept the compromise bill instead of the flat repeal. They both fired back heatedly. Murray accused Lewis of "malicious libels"; Green said the UMW leader had "put himself in a class with Senator Taft."

Taft Shows Pleasure
Taft, an Ohio Republican, helped write Taft-Hartley, and is fighting hard to keep most of its provisions. He grinned when asked whether Lewis' strike call improved chances for keeping the injunction, and replied: "Oh, I think so—slightly."

Senator Ellender (D-La.), one of those who would like to keep even more of the Taft-Hartley law than Taft wants to retain, commented that the Lewis is edict "probably will kill all moves" to amend the present law.

"It has been my contention all along," he said, "that men of the caliber of Lewis have caused Congress to enact such legislation."

Russian 'No' To Request Of Acheson Is Expected

lieved it was certain that Soviet Foreign Ministers Andrei Vishinsky would not accept the five-day deadline set by Acheson for an end to the Berlin tie-up.

Acheson proposed that the Berlin commanders, who are meeting on the rail strike, report by June 13. He indicated that if they did not reach an agreement by then the foreign ministers would have to tackle the problem.

The ministers, unable to agree on a long term plan for all Germany, appeared to be turning to efforts to reach at least a temporary solution to East-West contention in Berlin.

Strikers Firm For 40-hour Job Week

tracts on the terms of $70 for a 40-hour week with a number of markets outside of the Roseburg Independent Meat Dealers Association.

These terms constituted a new offer to the employers' association, asserted Barker. Although these terms were said to have been offered last week, they were not made public until Monday evening. Employers' representatives denied they had received this offer.

Barker today said the only terms on which the strike may be settled must be on the basis of a 40-hour week. Since six markets have signed on these terms, the others must also, he said.
