Kahut To Spar Here Ahead Of Regular Fight

Workout Next Monday At Armory Will Give Fans Eye-ful Of Boxing Skill

Douglas County fight fans will have an opportunity to see Joltin' Joe Kahut display his bag of knockout tricks here Monday, June 13, at 7 p. m., when he appears at the Roseburg Armory to spar several rounds with Leo "The Lion" Turner and any available local heavyweights.

Kahut is preparing for his June 17 10-round ring battle with the "Hardrock" Gordon of Roseburg, by working out at various cities in Southern Oregon prior to fight time. Tonight, he will put on an exhibition performance at Oregon City. Roseburg is next on his training itinerary, then he travels to Medford for an exhibition match there. Later in the week, Kahut will work out on the coast, after which he returns to Roseburg June 17, for his Friday night go with Gordon.

Promoters Ernie Nazelrod and Sandy Sanders again emphasize the June 17 fight will not be an exhibition match, but the real thing. Nazelrod said some fans are confusing Monday night's exhibition in the Roseburg Armory with Friday night's 10-round battle at Finlay Field.

For Kahut, the June 17 show at Finlay Field will be his final fight in Oregon before moving on to New York and other eastern cities for ring engagements there. The veteran ring battler has rung up an enviable record of wins on the West Coast, having stopped 30 opponents in 59 bouts. His powerful right hand to the jaw and left hook to the bread basket is nationally famous.

Woodburn's 25-year old wall-painter was rated in Ring Magazine as eighth ranking heavyweight in the nation. His list of opponents includes some of the best in the boxing field.

Through the efforts of promoters Nazelrod and Sanders, Kahut comes to Douglas County for one last West Coast battle before the East claims him.

Ringside and other reserved seats are available at J.V. Sporting Goods store and Monarch Cigar Store, or by writing the promoters at P. C. Box 501, Roseburg.

New Waters Open To Oregon Anglers June 15

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—Trout fishermen will have new waters to try next Wednesday. The State Game Commission, in reporting that angling prospects for the weekend were good in most parts of the state, called attention to opening of the tide-water section of coastal streams June 15. Also to open on that date are many of the major lakes of Central Oregon including Crane Prairie reservoir.

The Deschutes River from Deschutes Bridge downstream to Cow Camp Bridge also opens Wednesday, but only to fly fishing.

The weekly report includes: Douglas County—Roseburg-upper Umpqua area water conditions good. Stream dropping. Good insect hatches. Trout fishing should be good.

Detroit Beats Yankees Third Straight Tilt

Evers Hits Five For Five; Dodgers, Cards, Boston Continue Neck-and-Neck

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Credit the Detroit Tigers with stopping the New York Yankee cakewalk in the American League. With fan attention focused on the St. Louis Cards' sizzling spurt in the National, the hustling Tigers have been giving Casey Stengel a rough time.

Stengel's Yanks took a 6-game lead into Detroit after Sunday's split in St. Louis. Now the margin is 3, and sinking fast. Red Rolfe's Tigers have won eight of their last 10 games.

Art Houtteman did the latest job on the Yanks—a six-hit, 9-5, Tiger triumph. It was the yankees' fourth straight loss, three to Detroit.

Hoot Evers, who was shoved over from center field to left to make room for rookie Johnny Groth, was a one-man team yesterday. He banged out a triple, double and three singles for five hits, scored three runs and drove in two more.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's also closed in on the Yanks, securing third place, five games out of first, by edging the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, in two innings. Dick Fowler won a tight duel with Bill Wight on a walk, Luke Appling's two-base error and an infield grounder.

Red Sox Blanked

Dick Starr, a non-winner who has lost seven, finally made the victory column, 11-0, as the St. Louis Browns made merry with the Boston Red Sox. It was the first shutout thrown by a Brownie pitcher this season and the seventh Red Sox defeat in the last nine games.

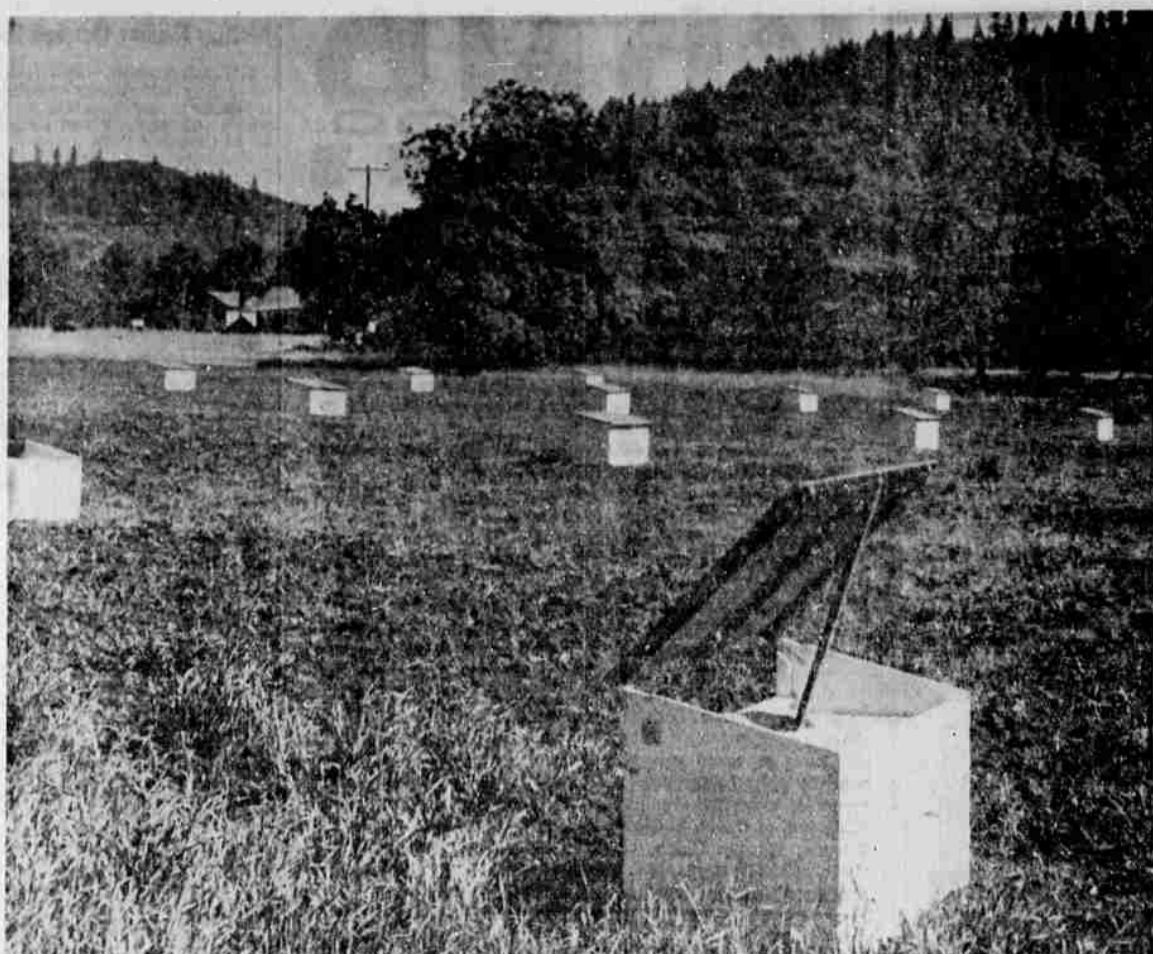

Brooklyn clung to that half game lead in the National by subduing Chicago, 9-5, while both St. Louis and Boston went to remain right on the Dodgers' heels.

Ralph Branca was knocked out in the eighth when the Cubs scored five times.

Howie Pollet, back in his 1946 form, whipped the slumping New York Giants with six hits, 4-1, as the Cardinals made it six straight wins and 15 out of 17.

Bob Hall, a Johnny-come-lately in Billy Southworth's starting rotation, turned back Cincinnati with seven hits as Boston romped home with a 10-2 decision.

Bill Salkeld hit the only homer of the game, in fact the only

PHEASANT FIELD REARING PROJECT—Pictured above is one section of coops housing more than 2800 tiny pheasants on the Roseburg Rod and Gun Club grounds at Winchester. This is one of nine experimental projects in the State of Oregon where the Game Commission is testing a new plan for handling ring-necked pheasants. Day-old birds are brought from state game farms and placed in coops with brood hens. The chicks are free to come and go, but the hen is kept confined. Approximately 50 acres of the site have been planted to food and cover crops. A caretaker is on duty at all hours to see that the birds are fed, watered and protected. The grounds have been made a game bird refuge. After the pheasants are more matured, dog owners will be permitted to work their dogs over the fields to scatter the birds to fields where they may be hunted in season. It is anticipated enough will remain in the deep cover to provide a constant source for reproduction. If the plan proves successful in the several experimental projects, more such field rearing sites will be similarly stocked. (Picture by Paul Jenkins.)

Les Kennedy Tops First Round Of Open Golf Series

CHICAGO, June 10.—(AP)—The National Open Golf Tournament looks like a Tom, Dick and Harry tournament after the first round with Les Kennedy, one of the lesser-known pros, pacing the field with a two-under par 69.

Kennedy, 31-year-old Pawtucket, R. I. shooter, competing in his first open, posted his top ranking score after touring Medinah's treacherous No. 3 course whose par is 36-35-71.

Only five players broke par yesterday in a field of 162 starters in the 49th open tourney. Seven others matched par over the nearly 7,000 yards of hills and heavy woods.

Kennedy goes to the post for today's second 18-hole round with a one stroke lead.

Back in 1942, Kennedy was rated with Lew Worsham and Johnny Palmer as the three brightest prospects in golf. The last two went on to grab their share of honors, but Kennedy was banged up in an auto accident in which his wife was killed.

Kennedy, winner of the New England P. A. crown for three years in a row, authored eight one-put greens and chipped in from 20 feet on another to fashion 35-34. Today he has a slim one stroke lead.

Bunched at 70 were a pair of "unknowns" in big time golf, Chuck Farlow of Greensboro, N. C., and Al Brooch of Garden City, N. Y., plus two big-namers, Chick Harbert and Herman Barron.

Sam Sneed dug out of the threes for a 73. Bobby Locke, Lloyd Mangrum and Byron Nelson needed 74, veteran Gene Sarazen and Cary Middlecoff settled for 75. Jimmy Demaret staggered in with an 82, his worst round in years.

In England during the Middle Ages, all men between 16 and 60 years old were required by law to practice archery.

North Santiam Fish Hatchery Will Be Built Above Dam At Detroit

PORTLAND, June 10.—(AP)—Horn Creek and the Marion Fork of the Santiam River will be warmer in winter than Marion Fork. The waters will be mixed to provide temperature control.

The fish commission, which will operate the hatchery, said salmon would be trapped at the big cliff regulating dam four miles below the Detroit Dam. Because of the extra handling of eggs and fingerlings, more temporary employes than usual will be required.

Plans are being drawn up now for a hatchery in the Oakridges Area above the Meridian Dam.

The State Fish Commission explained here that suitable water for hatcheries could be found only above the Detroit Dam on the North Santiam and the Meridian Dam on the Middle Fork of the Willamette River.

Spawning salmon will be trapped below each dam, eggs removed and carried in trucks to the hatcheries. Later the fingerlings will be trucked down and released below the dams.

Army engineers, who are in charge of constructing the dams, opened bids here for the North Santiam hatchery. The low bid was $310,622 by Gaasland Construction Company, Bellingham.

The hatchery will be 22 miles above the Detroit Dam between

Roseburg Junior Legion To Take On Coos Bay Team

Roseburg Junior Legion ball team play its second game Saturday night at Finlay Field, with opponents from Coos Bay. Barney Koch's Umpqua Post, American Legion - Lockwood Motors Co-sponsored team will not be up to full strength for the Saturday night game, however, as several players are in Portland with the Roseburg High School band.

The Coos Bay-Roseburg tussle will be a practice contest, inasmuch as Roseburg's ranks will be depleted.

The Junior Legionnaires have been putting in much practice time every afternoon at the ball diamond, taking out kinks here and there and generally improving on both their fielding and batting techniques.

In their first game of the season, the Roseburg Junior Legion club suffered a slim 3-1 defeat at the hands of a powerful Drain organization. Several Drain players were of the championship High School team.

Roseburg will oppose three other schools in league competition. They include Tri-City, Drain and Sutherlin. Six league contests are scheduled and the winner will travel to Albany to participate in the state tournament.

Seattle Defeats L. A., As Padres Trounce Hollies

By JIM BACON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Seattle Rainiers may make the experts right yet.

Picked by the dopsters to cop the Pacific Coast League pennant, the Rainiers idled around the second division until recently. Now they're in second place and gaining every day on the pace-setting Hollywood Stars.

Thursday night Seattle copped its eighth win in a row with a ninth inning win over Los Angeles, 2-1. At the same time, San Diego's big bats landed atop the Stars for a 7-to-3 decision. The Stars now hold a 64-game lead over Seattle.

The Rainiers-Angels game was a pitchers' duel between Denny Galehouse and Don Watkins, both of whom hurled eight-hit ball.

The Padres delivered their one-two punch to the Stars. Luke Easter poled his 20th homer with one aboard and Maxie West slammed his 22nd, also with a mate on the cushions.

Portland nosed out San Francisco 10 to 9 in a wild game that saw a total of 26 hits, four errors and six wild pitches. Sacramento defeated Oakland, 7 to 3.
