New Recipe For Strawberry Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
(NEA Staff Writer)

Before the local strawberry season ends, celebrate with this new recipe:

Strawberry Pinwheel Shortcake
(6 servings)

One and one-half cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, tablepoons sugar, 2 tablepoons shortening, 1 egg, beaten, 1 3/4 cup milk, 2 tablepoons melted butter or fortified margarine, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablepoon grated orange rind, 1 quart strawberries.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and two tablepoons sugar. Cut shortening into flour until mixture is like coarse corn meal. Add beaten egg and milk all at once and mix lightly. Pat out dough on a floured board into a 9-inch square. Spread dough with melted butter or margarine.

Mix together 1 cup sugar and the grated orange rind; sprinkle on dough. Roll as for jelly roll; cut into six slices. Arrange biscuits, cut side up, around edge of lightly greased heat-resistant glass fluted pie plate, 10-inch size. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for about 25 minutes. Wash and hull strawberries. When biscuits are cool, heap fresh strawberries in center of pie plate for serving. Serve with or without cream.

Here is a good summer luncheon dish to serve with sliced cold meat. It can be made from quickly cooked macaroni simmered in chicken broth and its flavor heightened by chopped watercress.

French Macaroni
(4 servings)

Eight ounces elbow macaroni, 1 cup well-seasoned chicken broth, 1 cup butter, 1 bunch watercress, 1 cup grated Parmesan-type cheese. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until barely tender, about 5 minutes. Drain well. Place in saucepan and add chicken broth and butter. Mix well and let simmer, uncovered, over low heat until the broth has been absorbed, about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, cut off watercress stems and save for use in soup stock. Coarsely cut the watercress leaves. When ready to serve, add cheese and watercress leaves to macaroni. Toss lightly to mix well and serve immediately.

Reduction In European Aid Fund Considered Temporary Expedient

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Sensible citizens may well doubt the wisdom and sincerity of the House action cutting $629,730,000 off new European aid funds.

Economy seekers likely will brag that they saved this full sum. The fact is they agreed to a compromise with administration leaders under which most of the slash can be quietly restored later.

Furthermore, the Senate has yet to act on recovery appropriations. If it votes a bigger total than the House approved, further compromise by the lower chamber is probable.

The history of this money bill is a bit complex. President Truman himself invited a $157,800,000 reduction in ECA outlays, saying price declines warranted. A House appropriations subcommittee accepted the President's cut and added another $182,300,000 reduction of its own.

This didn't satisfy the full committee. By a narrow 22 to 19 vote, it set aside the subcommittee's advice and chopped $629,730,000 off the bill—about 15 per cent. Republicans provided 15 of the 22 votes.

Immediately administration spokesmen decried the move as a serious blow to European recovery, one calculated to weaken Secretary of State Acheson's hand in facing down the Russians at Paris. When Speaker Rayburn lined up against the cut, compromise was indicated.

The deal worked out, and approved by the full House, provides that the $4,642,470,000 voted for ECA may be spent in 13 1/2 months rather than 15 as originally proposed. In the nearly certain event the money will be spent in the shorter span, the President may seek extra funds for the remaining month and a half.

On a 13 1/2-months' basis, the effect is to shrink the reduction to about $7,000,000 a month. With-out the time-span compromise, the cuts would run to $41,500,000 a month.

Thus what may be trumped as a heavy swing of the economy axe seems more like the light chop-chop of a Boy Scout hatchet. There would be more faith placed in this move, too, if Congress had used the pruning knife on other money bills. Congressmen seem to be saying: "Let's save by cutting funds for Europeans. They don't vote here."

True, they don't, but we have committed ourselves to making them strong so they can ward off communism. We can't make them the victims of dubious economy maneuvers designed for home consumption.

We must not give Europe the feeling that our policy, like a weathervane, shifts with every slight turn of wind. Our friendship must be constant, far-seeing, reassuring. As Gen. Omar Bradley says: "It is time we steered by the stars, not by the lights of each passing ship."

The practice of kneading dough with the feet originated in Egypt and continued into modern days in Scotland.

Hospital At Myrtle Point Joins In Blue Cross System

Mast Hospital, Myrtle Point, today announced affiliation with Blue Cross plan for prepaid hospital-medical-surgical care, according to Paul Hammer, administrator. It becomes the second hospital in Coos Bay to offer full hospital service benefits to the many Blue Cross members here. McAuley Hospital, Coos Bay, also accepted this week by Blue Cross, will bring to forty-seven, among them being Mercy Hospital, Roseburg, the number sponsoring the Northwest Hospital Service, operating organization of this nonprofit plan.

More than 21 percent of the total population in the United States is now enrolled in Blue Cross for prepaid health care. Four thousand participating hospitals, with more than 85 percent of all general hospital beds, offer benefits to 33,700,000 members.

Glendale Permit For Liquor Store Stirs Dry Faction

By MRS. GERALD B. FOX
(News-Review Correspondent)

Hottest question of the year was quickly taken up by the Glendale City Council at its regular meeting last week—and dropped in the lap of Joe Fachetti, local business man.

Acting on Fachetti's application, the council voted 4 to 2 to grant him permission to open a liquor store in the Glendale Shoe Store. The move was unannounced in advance and no opposing delegation was present.

Dry forces were being marshaled this week in what promises to be a "hot fight" under leadership of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. What steps are to be taken have not been learned, but several courses of action are reported to be under consideration.

Councilman voting in favor of granting the liquor license were Mohr, Stevenson, Drake, and Smith. Opposing were Payne and Miller.

The Glendale Grocery agreed to pay $40 on the cost of street improvements in front of the store. The council voted to eliminate all angle parking on Pacific Avenue in the business district. Parallel parking will be permitted. Fire-fighting equipment was ordered, including new hose, nozzles, and connecting pieces.

Notice has been posted that the budget committee of the Glendale City Council has prepared and adopted budget estimates for the fiscal year beginning July 1. A public hearing is scheduled for June 25 at 8 p. m. at which time the budget committee estimates may be discussed with the council and when any person subject to the tax levy will be heard for or against said tax levy.

The budget, which is posted in the business district, includes expected receipts of $23,455, in addition to balance on hand of $7,000, making a total of $30,455.

Expected expenditures for the fiscal year, in addition to the $22,000 bond issue for the new city water system, amount to $30,455. They include utilities, regular sewer and water maintenance and extension; streets, police department, city administration, city hall, purchase of real estate (the city purchased and held a property to make it available for a doctor's residence); library, emergency, miscellaneous and general obligations, such as bond issue payments.
