

Weaver-Hayamaki Duo Will Battle Pacer-Stojack Team On Saturday's Mat Program

Buck Weaver, the ex-Indiana collegian, hoped to have another chance this week to meet Lefty Pacer, the rough and tough 195-pounder from Detroit, but Matchmaker Elton Owen announced that he has scheduled an Australian tag-team match as the feature attraction at the Roseburg Armory Saturday night.

Weaver beat the mid-western villain last week, but it was a wanted a chance to prove his technical decision and Weaver ability to beat the heavyweight

Dam Builders Rapped At Northwest Wildlife Meeting

SEATTLE, June 15. — (AP) — Need for consolidation of effort in federal conservation programs was expressed here today by Seth Gordon, for many years head of the Pennsylvania State Game department. He has been retained to revamp the fish and game program for the State of California. There is a tendency in this West of yours to turn every drop of water into gold," he declared. "I am afraid that when that task is done, the West will have lost the very attractiveness which has brought so many people out to it." Gordon urged the Western Association of Fish and Game Commissioners to back any program to coordinate efforts of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the Corps of Army Engineers.

Seattle Crowds Hollywood For Coast Loop Lead

By JIM BACON Associated Press Sports Writer Seattle is closing the gap on Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League race. The League-leading Stars lost, 7 to 6, Tuesday night to Sacramento, the fourth loss in a row for the Twinkies. Seattle, meanwhile, literally walked to a 6 to 4 win over San Francisco to come within five and a half games of Hollywood. The Solons' win came about when Walt Droppo tripled in the eighth and then scored on Fred Marsh's infield hit. Seal Pitcher Con Dempsey walked across three runs in the last of the seventh as the Rainiers stroled out of a 4 to 3 deficit. Dempsey had ten walks in all during the night plus two wild pitches. The League cellar has a new tenant for the first time in months—Los Angeles. Portland, the former tenant, moved out on a tenth-inning run that nipped the Angels 4 to 3. Joe Brovia hit a long double and Johnny Rucker sprinted all the way from first to score. At Oakland big Luke Easter of the Padres went hitless. However, Max West, Harvey Storey and Orestes Minoso obliged the crowd with roundtrippers as the Padres took the Oaks 5 to 4. Ohio is known as the "Buckeye State." Carnival-Circus Here Under D. A. V. Auspices

Hey, kids, it's circus time! Yessir, yesterday the Imperial Exposition pulled into town on the circus grounds on Garden Valley Road and immediately began putting up its acres of billowing tents for the big show and sideshows as well as its huge aggregation of modern riding devices. Babe, the moving picture elephant; Joe's and Della Ryan's beautiful Hollywood horse, and a myriad of other features are there. This is considered one of the world's largest circus-carnival combines. Imperial exposition comes to Roseburg under the auspices of the Disabled American Veterans. The doors open nightly at 6:30 p. m., with matinees Saturday and Sunday starting at 1 o'clock. Some types of banana must be cooked before they can be eaten. "Labor Conquers All" is the state motto of Oklahoma.

ERRORS CORRECTED Two errors appeared on this page this week. Jerry Coen, Umpqua Chiefs' left fielder, was referred to as Mickey Coen in a story Tuesday. Mickey, brother of Jerry, pitches for the Roseburg Junior Legion. In another news item, Tri-City Junior Legion was given credit for defeating Drain Junior Legion by a 9-7 score. A reader pointed out the score should have been reversed. This makes Drain the winner. The errors are regrettable, unpardonable, and are to be avoided in the near future. Iowa's state flower is the wild rose.

Rodeo Concession Plans Made By Camp Fire Girls

Final plans for Camp Fire Girls to handle the balloon and novelty concession for the Rodeo and Rodeo parade were made Monday at the June meeting of Roseburg Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., at the Chamber of Commerce. Any Junior High Camp Fire Girl wishing to assist with this may contact Mrs. Betty Gibson at the Camp Fire office in Miller's basement before Friday. The Council discussed the National Conference of Camp Fire Girls which will be held in Portland in October. This is the first time the West Coast has had the privilege of playing host to this event and Roseburg plans to send several delegates. Mrs. Tom Pargeter, chairman of the Camp Committee, reported on the progress of construction at Camp Tyee. The fireplace in the dining hall was started last Sunday, one shelter completed and another worked on; plumbing completed to the kitchen, but 150 feet of one-half inch pipe is needed to pipe water nearer the cabins. It was reported that Drain plans to send a work crew next Sunday to the Camp and local families expect to be on hand also. All parents and friends are invited to help any Sunday as the Camp sessions open July 17. The resignation of Mrs. Jack Chapman, secretary, was accepted. She has held this position for a year-and-a-half and will continue on the Council as a member of the Civic and Camp Committee. Miss Patricia Mayo was elected to fill the vacancy. She has served on the Council for the past four years, was formerly employed as a social psychiatric worker at the Veterans Hospital and recently returned from a tour of Europe. Council members in attendance were Wilson Henson, Rev. W. A. MacArthur, Thomas Pargeter,

He also criticized the public for not keeping abreast of programs to develop new dam sites throughout the West, pointing out that an alert populace can be a tremendous aid in furthering conservation efforts. In general, dam builders got a thorough going over from the conservationists, not only at the convention but in informal meetings as well. Tom Murray, Idaho fish and game director, speaking of dam construction, said, for instance, "we may be compelled to advance the inevitable and look forward to the day when all of our sea-run fish have been eliminated from our waters." Mayor William Devin of Seattle, in his address of welcome, said, "I wonder what is going to happen to our wild life in the years ahead when we have seven million people. I am afraid that we are going to lose something which has been part of the very soul of this nation." Don W. Clarke, director of game for the state of Washington, pointed out the value of fish and game to the economy of the state—as well as to the economy of the entire west. "We have learned through the years that hunting and fishing are major industries, bringing in millions of dollars to the state. In addition to attracting tourists and providing a livelihood for many hundreds of persons, hunting and fishing are of a tremendous value so far as recreation is concerned," he added.

without the aid of a referee's verdict. Owen, however, has booked both Weaver and Pacer for the four-man event as opponents, but they will meet only during the course of the tag event. Weaver will team with Sugi Hayamaki in the team event against Pacer and Frank Stojack, ertwhile coast junior heavyweight champion. Weaver will meet Stojack and Pacer in the one-fall openers. Stojack will be making his first start after losing his coveted coast crown to Jack McLaughlin in Vancouver, B. C., last week. The Tacoma cabinetmaker, who wore the belt longer than any other matman in history, said he didn't want to alibi, but that the Canadian titleholder won on a "hometown" decision and had little hope of getting the talented Canadian to come to the states for a re-match. Weaver has a good partner for the tag-team tilt. Hayamaki, with his jiu-jitsu, should be a perfect partner for the ex-Indiana football star who specializes in another dealy hold—a neckbreaker. Stojack, with his famed airplane spin, and Pacer, who employs a Boston crab and a surfboard effectively, should prove very formidable foes, however. Saturday's show will start at 8 p.m., a half-hour earlier than usual because of a benefit police reserve dance scheduled at the Armory immediately after the mat show. The tag-team event, one of the most popular catch-as-catch-can mat by-products with Douglas County fans, is expected to attract a good crowd and fans are urged to make early ring-side reservations at Powell's.
