RHS Band Wins Warm Thanks For Festival Service

Letters of congratulations and thanks have been received here by C. A. Ricketts, director of the Roseburg High School band, from N. Thomas Stoddard, chairman of the Portland Rose Festival Association Program Committee, and Chester R. Duncan, co-chairman.

The band, said Ricketts, has disbanded for the summer months, but will reconvene when school starts in the fall. An assistant instructor has been added to work with the junior band, he said.

The two letters were similar in content. Stoddard wrote as follows:

"On behalf of myself personally and the board of directors of the Portland Rose Festival Association, I wish to express our great appreciation to you and your High School Band and the City of Roseburg for making it possible for you to participate in our recent 1949 Rose Festival. Your band was acclaimed wherever you appeared and was singled out by our critics as one of the outstanding bands to make an appearance here this year. Your fast cadence, smart uniforms, well executed music and businesslike approach to each job assigned you were particularly noted. It is a pleasure to work with an organization such as you have."

"Words are inadequate to express our appreciation, but I do hope you gained some compensation from the acclaim given you by the audience before which you appeared. Will you please pass on our congratulations and thanks to your band members and the other people in Roseburg who made your appearance here possible."

Florida Governor In California For 3rd Wife

LOS ANGELES, June 24. —(P) —No, aah, it is not treason for the governor of Florida to like California orange juice or marry a pretty California girl.

Governor Fuller Warren, 43, said so himself here as he played the genial host to newsmen with whom he had played hide-and-seek earlier upon his arrival by private plane.

Sipping California orange juice in his lavish hotel suite, the governor drawled:

"We Floridians are beginning to look with favor on marriages with Californians since so many of your people have moved to our state."

He will add one more Californian to his state's population, taking back with him pretty Barbara Manning, 24, after their marriage Sunday afternoon. She will be his third bride.

Barbara did not meet the governor when he flew in from Tallahassee. Nor was she at the press conference. Warren said she expects to return here from her grandparents' ranch at Yucaipa.
