

Psychiatrist Describes Treatment Of Patients At Veterans Hospital

The Kiwanis Club picnic will be held Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. at the Roseburg Country club. The picnic, originally scheduled for Tuesday, had to be postponed, because the Country Club was not available on the earlier date, reported Tom Fargenter, general chairman in charge.

Dr. Robert Allen, psychiatrist at the Veterans Hospital, addressed the Club on rehabilitation and treatment of patients.

He described the treatment team at the hospital, consisting of physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers, each of whom has definite work laid out for him in rehabilitating the patient in order that he may return to normal life.

This is important both from the standpoint of relieving the patient from suffering, and from an economic or bedside cost, in curing the man so that he will not only no longer be a burden on the taxpayer, but will be able to contribute something toward society, said Dr. Allen.

He described briefly the system of patient treatment. It is known at the outset when a patient arrives, his former life has been unsatisfactory in some manner, he said. It is necessary first to get the patient to stop looking back at the things which have brought about his mental grief, and to start him looking forward to a new life.

This is the difficult step, and certain signs are looked for to learn the progress of the individual. Attitude, stability, continuity and adaptation of the patient are definite signs which, if indicated in any form, show progress is being made.

Various methods are applied to bring about these readjustments, and if the hospital staff is successful in this operation, the next important step is to make sure the patient continues in the right direction and that he does not slip back to his former pattern of thinking, said Dr. Allen.

A report on last week's visit of several Kiwanians to Grants Pass was made by President Earl Plummer. The members are subjected to a "framed" mock radio broadcast, said Plummer. Everything seemed natural, he said, until some rather humorous incidents were brought into play at the expense of the visitors.

Tuesday's meeting was the final one to be attended by Father William Blaker, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, who

Hospital Assn. Dates Election Of New Officers

A meeting of members of the Douglas Community Hospital Association, Inc., will be held Thursday, June 30, at 7:30 p. m. at the City Council Chambers, when new officers and trustees will be installed.

Dr. Roy E. Hanford, president, said all ballots for the election of directors must have been received by the afternoon of June 30, when they will be counted. The election has been conducted by mail. Official ballots were mailed out recently to every person who had subscribed $10 or more toward the hospital.

The names of 18 persons were submitted for the one, two and three-year director terms, and from these names three for each term are to be voted on.

The directors elected by the general membership will then elect officers within its own organization for the positions of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. They and the remaining five directors will serve as trustees.

Shad Fishing Still Good On Umpqua, Smith River

Shad fishing season on the Umpqua River and Smith River is remaining good right up to the end of the season, which closes June 30. It is reported that catches are picking up on the Umpqua River, above Reedsport, with fresh shad appearing, apparently just in from the ocean.

While the catches from Smith River, where set nets are used, are dropping below those made recently, they are still up in the "good catch" bracket.

Housing Bill Facing Fresh G. O. P. Assault

ing publicly-owned dwelling units for low-income families of a type most people buying their own homes cannot afford.

Under the housing bill, the government would undertake slum clearance and public housing, and provide farm housing aids.

Administration forces cleared a major barrier yesterday when the House killed 168 to 130 an amendment that would have prevented racial segregation in publicly-owned housing projects.

Offered by Rep. Fulton (R-Pa), this amendment would have permitted white and Negro tenants to occupy the same public housing buildings.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), leading the fight for the bill, said such an amendment, if approved, would have killed the whole housing program.

The amendment got virtually solid Republican support, but the sum of $30,000 is expected from welfare funds to partially offset the $70,721 proposed appropriation.

Plans also were detailed for an aerial survey and assessment of private timber lands.

"Some sections of timber worth as much as a half million dollars, are listed as grazing lands," County Judge Busenbark said. "We haven't had a complete revaluation of privately owned timber for 30 years. When the original cruise was made, timber didn't have much value, so many pieces of property were classified for grazing rather than for their timber. On today's market they are worth much more for their timber."

The court said the work will continue over a period of years with a probable total cost of $250,000.

It was announced that because of heavy anticipated expense in purchasing rights-of-way for improvement of the North Umpqua Highway, the sum of $168,000 was being transferred from the roads and bridges sinking fund, which still has a balance in excess of $851,000.

Philadelphian, lying at the junction between the Schuylkill and Delaware Rivers, is almost 100 miles by water from the Atlantic coast.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Mabel Carson, Roseburg; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Sanders, Melrose; Mrs. Lillie Moore, Roseburg; and a brother, Connie Carson, Orick, Calif.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Dean G. Carson, Former Roseburg Resident, Dies

Dean Glenn Carson of Arcata, Calif., formerly of Roseburg, died Monday in a Eureka, Calif., hospital.

He was born Nov. 17, 1900, in Washington state. He resided here many years and many of his relatives still make their home here.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Grace Carson; two daughters, Lola Carson and Verda Carson; and a son, Loyal, all residing at Arcata, and another son, Dale, Texas.

Funeral services were held at the Unger Funeral Home in Reedsport Sunday for Mrs. Anne R. Griffus, aged mother of Jack Griffus, former operator of Jack's Trading Post.

Mrs. Griffus was born in Cheesaning, Mich., May 20, 1859, and died June 23. She had made her home in Reedsport for the past seven years.

Rev. David Bauman of Gardiner officiated at the funeral service, with music furnished by Mrs. Cooper of Winchester Bay.

Fire Deals $1000 Loss To Reedsport Creamery

An estimated $1000 loss resulted from a fire in the boiler room of the Reedsport Creamery & Cheese Factory Saturday forenoon. No one was in the boiler room when the fire started and the exact cause is not known.

The unit on the big boiler was destroyed and smoke damage extended to other parts of the building. The local volunteer fire department answered the alarm in a short time, and the receiving of milk was resumed shortly.

COPCO PACT EXTENDED

The Glendale City Council has extended the California-Oregon Power Co. franchise from about 16 to 20 years and has at the same time made an arrangement whereby the City will receive 2 percent of the revenue taken by Copco within the city limits. The franchise, previously had been dated to run until 1965, but the new contract will extend the franchise to 1968.

AFL Urges Defeat Of Amended Labor Bill

from Congress will be vetoed.

Lucas today was seeking to dispose of the labor debate quickly. Overnight he tried to get unanimous Senate agreement to vote tomorrow on the "Taft substitute," for the entire administration labor bill except the national emergency provision.

Taft Program In Brief

The Taft substitute would preserve such Taft-Hartley features as these:

The ban on closed shop contracts that require all employees to be union members; the independence of the federal mediation service; the provision that employers don't have to bargain with their foremen; the ban on mass picketing; and the use of temporary injunctions in unfair labor practice cases.

On the other hand, Taft would abandon such Taft-Hartley provisions as:

The independent "general counsel" of the National Labor Relations Board with sole authority to prosecute cases; the provision that now says men on strike can't vote in plant elections; and the blanket prohibition against all secondary boycotts (union efforts to exert pressure on one company by forcing other companies to quit doing business with it).

Lucas had Green's letter read to the Senate by a clerk, Senator Taft, who got in the injunction amendment, lit into Green in a speech.

Taft said the AFL president's letter was "probably the most presumptuous statement that any individual has ever made to the Senate of the United States."

"Mr. Green is undertaking to veto the Senate bill before it is passed."

Taft spoke also of Green's "orders to those in the Senate who want to follow the AFL." That brought from Lucas a declaration that "there isn't any labor leader going to lay down a program for the Senator from Illinois."

Taft said he is out to make improvements in the Taft-Hartley law that labor should "welcome."

Taft said labor leaders are going to reject his proposed improvements in order to make the Taft-Hartley act an issue in the next election campaign.

"But they can't make an issue of it," the Senator exclaimed. "We can point out that in every complaint they made, we listened to them and made changes."

Taft is up for re-election in 1950.

Budget Boost Asked Of County Court

year, will be set up if money can be made available.

The County Fair Board, now engaged in arranging the first county fair for many years, finds itself completely lacking in funds, the Court was told. Not only has the board exhausted its treasury in construction of buildings, but has deferred payments pending on work now in progress.

Prize money needs were itemized as $500 for Future Farmers of America, $1,250 for 4-H Clubs, $750 for the Redsport Community Fair, $225 for Grange prizes, and $500 miscellaneous, a total of $3,325.

The Court expressed a desire to appropriate the money if a suitable source can be found. Suggestion was made that the $50,000 emergency fund be reduced by the amount necessary to cover the two additional projects.

The Court spent considerable time explaining the County Hospital budget, pointing out that very few Democrats supporting the housing bill joined with them. However, all was not velvet for the administration forces in the rugged week-long battle over the bill.

A tie vote narrowly defeated a "home rule" amendment that would have barred public housing in any city unless voters there first approved it in a referendum.

Rep. Boggs (R-Ala), presiding at the time, announced the vote as 132 to 132. He quickly added: "The chair votes no, and the amendment is defeated." (A tie would have killed it without his vote.)
