4 Red Leaders Draw Jail Terms

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—(AP)—Four Communist Party leaders have been sentenced to a year to 18 months in jail for refusing to answer grand jury questioning about the Party in Los Angeles County.

Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall yesterday sentenced: Dorothy Ray Healey, County organizing secretary, to 18 months; Elvador Greenfield and Max Appleman, organizers, and Horace W. Newman Jr., education director, each to one year in prison.

A fourth defendant, Alvin Averback, East Los Angeles organizer, was fined $10 and not given a prison term after testifying he became embittered as a boy when he was persecuted because his father was of a minority race.

Judge Hall told him he was the first person in the proceedings "who has any real reason for his attitude toward society." The jurist offered to reduce the sentence to one cent.

But the attorney for the five objected "as a matter of principle" and said all the convictions will be appealed.

Judge Hall refused bail on those sentenced to jail.

Policeman Merle Campbell

After long questioning, Kelly was freed, but Campbell kept the car. He said it was stolen from Tacoma. He also held the car's other occupant, Clifford J. Stear, for federal officials.

Campbell said Stear at first claimed ownership of the car, but did not have the proper papers. Campbell said he also suspected Stear was an AWOL Fort Lewis soldier.

Kelly was able to explain how he got mixed up in it. He said he bought the motorcycle in Tacoma, but it gave him so much trouble, he was glad to present it to Policeman Robert Cosby in Portland.

Then he headed for an airline office, but encountered Stear. Stear said he had a car and would take Kelly to Texas if Kelly would pay for some repairs and buy gas and oil. Kelly agreed, and was at the wheel when they arrived in Hood River.

When finally freed, Kelly was heading for The Dalles, announcing over his shoulder, "this time I'm well going to take a plane for Texas."

Bribery Charge Hits Federal Tax Collector

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP)—A federal tax collector was under a bribery indictment today, after U. S. Treasury agents eavesdropped on a conference he allegedly held with a model in her apartment.

The collector, James A. Bessell, 49, is accused of demanding and getting a $5,000 bribe from model Marie Powetz after he heard she had not reported a $50,000 profit made on the stock market.

Barney Freifeld, a brokerage house clerk and a friend of Bessell, was indicted on a charge of aiding and abetting the bribe.
