Russian Firmness Forced Western Allies' Retreat At Paris, Vishinsky Declares

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
LONDON, July 1.—(P)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky disagreed sharply today with Dean Acheson's analysis of the Paris Big Four meeting and declared Russian firmness forced a Western retreat.

Vishinsky said the agreements reached at Paris differed "seriously" from the original proposals put forward by Britain, France and the United States.

In a statement distributed in London through the official Soviet News Agency, Vishinsky differed with the U.S. Secretary of State on the progress of the Marshall Plan and whether it was Russla or the West who wanted to give the Germans more freedom.

Acheson told a Washington news conference after his return from Paris that Russia had been put on the defensive in the strug-

Acheson told a Washington news conference after his return from Paris that Russia had been put on the defensive in the struggle for Europe and was afraid to relax its iron grip on Eastern Germany because they knew they could no longer be able to control the German people if they did so.
